PEPPER HOLDS BARE MAJORITY IN FLORIDA VOTE

Needs 50% of Total to Avoid Runoff.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 2 (AP).—Claude Pepper, seeking renomination as Florida's junior United States senator, built up a substantial but inconclusive lead in early Democratic primary returns tonight.

Unofficial reports from 464 of 1,496 precincts in the state gave Pepper 61,962 against 39,766 for the nearest of four opponents, Judge J. Ollie Edmunds. The three other candidates had a total of 17,186 votes. This gave Pepper a bare majority of the votes thus far tabulated. To win outright, he must have 50% of the total votes cast. Otherwise Florida law provides a run-off between the two top candidates.

[Vote proves south is thru with New Deal, Byrd backer says in Chicago. Story on page 3.]

Pepper ran on a record of support of Roosevelt policies in a campaign where local issues an dpersonalities also figured. All Pepper's foes assailed federal burocracy, but none openly criticized President Roosevelt.

Rural Areas Edmunds' Hope.

The senator took a two-to-one lead over Edmunds with 37 precincts reported. Edmunds improved his position in later returns and his supporters hoped for a strong showing in rural areas.

State Sen. Ernest R. Graham took an early lead and held on in the six man contest for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination. A large proportion of the early returns come from his home county, Dade.

F. D. R. Foe in Lead.

The first 36 precints tabulated gave Graham 6,007 votes. Rep. Green had 3,710, Former Rep. Caldwell 1,952, State Sen. Raymond Sheldon 1,321, State Sen. Frank D. Upchurch 763, and State Sen. J. Edwin Baker 575.

The first 42 boxes in the attorney general's race gave J. Tom Watson of Tampa, the incumbent who has made a proposed anti-closed shop amendment to the state constitution a part of his campaign, a wide margin over two opponents.

In the 4th congressional district, Rep. Cannon of Miami, was far in the lead.

Two Byrd Delegates Lead.

There were 49 candidates for Florida's 18 Democratic national convention seats—27 pledged to Roosevelt, four unpledged, and a full slate of 18 committed to Sen. Byrd. Two Byrd and four Roosevelt at large delegates led in early returns.

Republicans had primary contests for senatorial and gubernatorial nomination. Miles H. Draper, native Minnesotan who has practiced law in Tampa since getting his law degree from Harvard in 1923, and Henry K. Gibson, Miami attorney who came to Florida 19 years ago from Cincinnati, sought the nomination for senator. Bert L. Acker of Miami, a public relations consultant, and Edward T. Keenan of Frostproof, an engineer, were gubernatorial candidates.

GENTILE'S UNIT HAS RECORD BAG OF 507 PLANES

AN 8TH AIR FORCE FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, May 2 (AP).—A Mustang group commanded by Col. Don Blakeslee of Fairport Harbor, O., which has become the first in the European theater of operations to top 500 kills, was congratulated today by Maj. Gen. William E. Kepner, commander of the 8th air force fighter command, for setting a record.

The group destroyed 207 German planes in April. It includes Capt. Don S. Gentile of Piqua, O., the theater's leading ace; his wingman, Lt. Johnny Godfrey of Woonsocket, R. I.; and Maj. James Goodson of Toronto, Ont.

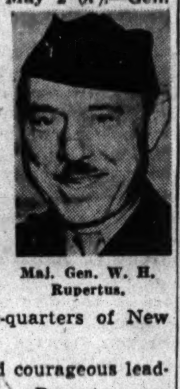
The group's record, dating back to September, 1942, when its nucleus of Eagle squadron men transferred from the R. A. F. as a unit, now stands at 507½. The half was credited for a kill shared with an R. A. F. pilot.

A YANK CALLS ON A GENERAL; (GEE, IT'S M'ARTHUR!)

BY JACK TURCOTT.

[Correspondent of the New York News.]

SOMEWHERE IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, May 2 (AP).—Gen. MacArthur today pinned the distinguished service medal on the shirt of Maj. Gen. William H. Rupertus, commander of the first marine division, which captured Cape Gloucester and then drove the Japanese out of three-quarters of New Britain.



Maj. Gen. W. H. Rupertus.

"The skilful and courageous leadership of Maj. Gen. Rupertus was largely responsible for the success of this bold extension of our operations," the citation said.

Visits New Britain.

Gen. Rupertus, a native of Washington, D. C., relieved Lt. Gen. Alexander A. Vandegrift as commander of the 1st marine division a few months before the marines took Cape Gloucester in December, 1943.

The decoration was no surprise to him because Gen. MacArthur had made a special trip to New Britain aboard a cruiser a few days ago to notify him that he had been recommended for the DSM. The story of the trip, on which I was along, can now be told.

It took place despite the worst weather the Southwest Pacific has seen in two years. In the midst of a squall, MacArthur climbed into a landing barge five miles off shore. The barge tossed like a cork as the coxswain maneuvered it to dodge the reefs.

Them's Not G. I.'s.

As the barge scraped shore MacArthur's party stepped off into the mud. A few soldiers in nearby tents looked up indifferently, mildly curious as to why any one would come ashore in a small boat in such vile weather.

A moment later one soldier said: "Hey, them's not G. I.'s. Them's officers. What are they doing out in this weather?"

Then a startled corporal jumped forward.

"Jeepers, fellows, it's MacArthur!"

Because signals had not reached shore from the cruiser, MacArthur had come in like a green private. With him were his aids and Capt. Felix Johnson of the navy, Adm. William F. Halsey's liaison officer.

Comes for His Buddy.

A jeep pulled up at the beach at that moment. Corp. Virgil March, Macon, Mo., was there to pick up a buddy to attend the weekly Cape Gloucester movie. Some one told March MacArthur wanted his jeep. The corporal spat and said, "Horsefeathers!"

A minute later March took one look and gulped, "Gee, it is MacArthur!"

We all piled into the jeep and started the 12 mile ride to Gen. Rupertus' headquarters. We bounced over rocks and ditches, skidding in mud to the hubcaps. Twice we crossed rain flooded creeks whose waters rose to the floorboards. Most excited of all was March, who kept stealing glances at MacArthur every few minutes.

Halfway to headquarters we met Gen. Rupertus, who had received word via field telephone from the beach. He escorted us to his jungle but at the edge of Cape Gloucester air field.

Soldiers Line Up.

There MacArthur told the marine general that he had recommended him for the DSM, which is awarded only by the President or the war department.

"I came here to tell you that your men have upheld the highest tradition of America's fighting men," MacArthur said, "and I am proud to have them and you in my command."

We returned to the beach over the same muddy route, but this time it was different. Huge crowds of soldiers had passed up the weekly movie to see the commander in chief.

MacArthur waved his hand at the crowd which had gathered at the beach, and called out, "Nasty night, boys."

Then he stepped into a 35 foot picket boat which Lt. Col. Robert Amory Jr., of Milton, Mass., had provided. We cautiously poked our way thru the fog among the reefs, reaching the cruiser weary, wet, and hungry—and three hours late for chow.

FLEET BAGS 126 PLANES; SHELLS TWO JAP BASES

Army Bombers Hit Wake Island

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, May 2 (AP).—Truk and its buttresses of Ponape and Satawan were battered last week-end by Pacific fleet carrier task forces that destroyed 126 enemy planes.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced today the blow was struck with only light American aircraft losses and no damage to a single United States warship. Thirty American airmen are missing.

Carrier borne planes attacked Truk itself Saturday and Sunday. Then the carrier planes and battleships bombed and shelled Ponape, 440 miles east of Truk, and Satawan, less than 200 miles southeast of Truk.

Drop 800 Tons of Bombs.

The forces were under command of Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, and were returning from operations off Dutch New Guinea, where they supported Gen. MacArthur's invasion at Hollandia, April 22.

The planes hit Truk with 800 tons of bombs. Shore installations at that fortress, once considered impregnable, were reported heavily damaged.

In the first day's attack, 60 Japanese planes were shot down in combat. Another 60 were caught on the ground and destroyed. Ship's anti-aircraft fire added another five Nipponese planes.

On the second day only one enemy plane was aloft and it was shot down. That brought the two days' total to 126.

Big Damage at Ponape.

Satawan, one of the most important islands in the Nomoi atoll, was bombed Sunday by carrier planes and bombarded by cruisers commanded by Rear Adm. J. B. Oldendorf. Satawan, which has an air field, was bombed seven times in April by heavy bombers. It received its first raid of the war only April 10.

On Monday, carrier planes and battleships commanded by Vice Adm. W. A. Lee turned their attention to Ponape. That bombed atoll was raided 43 times in April. Nimitz reported that the protracted shelling and bombing of Ponape and Satawan had caused "considerable damage."

The attack on Truk was the second of the war by United States carrier forces. In the first, Feb. 16-17, 23 Japanese ships were sunk and probably six more, and 201 enemy aircraft were destroyed.

No Ships Discovered.

A total of 447 Nipponese aircraft have been destroyed at Truk since American air power started in February to soften it up.

Not a single enemy ship was spotted by the attacking planes in the two days of their sorties, indicating the effectiveness of the almost daily aerial hammering Truk has received in recent weeks.

Earlier the navy announced that army bombers had blasted Wake Island last Sunday in the heaviest raid of the war. On the same day other planes hit Ponape while army, navy, and marine planes gave isolated Japanese in the Marshalls their daily strafing and bombing.

Japs Admit Damage.

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—A broadcast Tokyo despatch said today that an American carrier task force attacked Truk Sunday and Monday and caused "some damage" to ground installations.

Japanese planes and garrison units "heavily damaged" an aircraft carrier and shot down more than 30 attacking aircraft, the bulletin said. It also reported that the Mortlock Islands in the Carolines were bombed, the Japanese asserted they sank one cruiser and damaged another large warship, probably an aircraft carrier, off Hollandia, New Guinea, on April 27.

Addresses of Nazi Troops Lost in Air Raid on Berlin

New York, May 2 (AP).—A Berlin broadcast to German troops in the field asked all soldiers from the Lichterfelde south district of Berlin to communicate their field post addresses to Nazi party officers in Berlin, "as they were lost during an air attack." United States government monitors heard the broadcast today.

NLRB Orders Ward Vote in 7 Days

FABLE OF THE STALKING LION AND THE UNWARY HERD

CIO WILL PROTEST SPEED; SEIZURE RULING MONDAY

'Unbelievable,' Says Union of Quick Action on Poll.

In an order that was assailed by leaders of the union, the national labor relations board yesterday directed that an election be held within seven days to determine whether a majority of Montgomery Ward & Co. employes wishes to be represented in collective bargaining by the CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse, and Retail Employes' union.

The order was denounced by union spokesmen as contrary to the NLRB practice of allowing at least 21 days to prepare for an election. They expressed fear that many members might vote against the union because of dissatisfaction over its inability to settle grievances arising since the strike.

Grievance Action Delayed.

John D. Goodloe, assistant secretary of commerce, designated by the government to deal with the union on grievances, has indicated he will not attempt to settle them before Monday.

If the union does not obtain a majority of votes in the election, observers said the result would be embarrassing to the government. Ward's was seized when it refused to continue relations with the union on the ground that it no longer had a majority.

The NLRB election order followed an investigation conducted in Chicago by a trial examiner, Samuel H. Jaffee. He interviewed company and union representatives Saturday and Monday.

Quick Decision "Unbelievable."

"I was with him until 5:30 p. m. Monday," Francis Heisler, attorney for the union, said. "A decision from the board in such a short time is unbelievable. NLRB officials must have been waiting for him at an airport when he returned to Washington, D. C., today, and must have made their decision in a taxicab on the way back to the office. It is contrary to all rules, and is not conducive to a fair determination of the issues."

Heisler said there was an oral understanding with Jaffee that an election would not be ordered before May 31 or later than June 7. Leonard Levy, international vice-president, said he would ask that the election be postponed at least 21 days.

6,000 Employes May Vote.

The employes will vote in two units: One will include employes in the mail order house, the retail store, and the Schwinn warehouse at Cortland st. and Lawndale av.; the other will include certain employes on the administrative pay rolls, but excluding office workers. Approximately 6,000 employes may be eligible, including all who have worked at least 20 hours a week for 10 weeks preceding April 26.

George J. Bott, regional director for the NLRB, who will be in charge of the election, said he would attempt to arrange details at a meeting this morning.

Holly Urged to Save People's Rights for Posterity.

Upon the decision of the court in the Montgomery Ward & Co. case, the people of the United States must depend for generations to come for protection against abuse of the executive power, Harold A. Smith, Ward's attorney, told Federal Judge William H. Holly yesterday in opposing the Washington administration's demand for a temporary injunction against the firm's officials.

Atty. Gen. Biddle concluded the government's arguments by saying that if Judge Holly finds the President has the power to order seizure, either under the statutes or under his emergency powers as commander in chief of the army and navy, then the case is closed. If such power exists, he said, then no question of civil liberties is involved.

Judge Holly, at the conclusion of the hearing, took the case under advisement and said he would give his ruling Monday at 10 a. m. on the government's petition for an injunction and the company's motion to dissolve the temporary restraining order.

"Reserve of Power" Blasted.

Hammering home his points with blows of his fist upon a desk, Smith ripped the government's assumption that the President, as commander in chief of the army and navy, possesses a vaguely defined "reserve of constitutional power" which in war time makes legal a seizure such as the occupation of the Chicago plants of Montgomery Ward & Co. by troops a week ago.

Again and again, Smith emphasized that the President has only two sources of power: The acts of congress and the Constitution. Nowhere, Smith contended, is the President granted any authority to seize a retail plant not engaged in war activity.

In making such seizure, Smith said, the President relied not upon the Constitution, not upon statutes, not upon any court decision, but upon the opinion given him by his own attorney general.

"Entitled to Protection."

Warning that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty, Smith said:

"I have no quarrel with the proposition that as commander in chief of our armed forces the President of the United States is entitled to all of the respect, loyalty and cooperation which every citizen, including these defendants, can and will give.

"But I strongly resist and resent any notion that in the guise of his military powers he can ignore the Bill of Rights and arrogate to himself despotic powers against which free people have been protected since the days of Magna Charta, and which are explicitly and unmistakably reserved to the people of the United States in the Bill of Rights. We, the people, are sovereign, and we are entitled to protection from the arbitrary acts of our executive.

"Must Safeguard Rights."

"Unusual times may call for the exercise of otherwise latent powers; but, by the same token, in such times the protection of constitutional guaranties is indispensable to the preservation of a free people. We must safeguard our fundamental rights and our freedom from executive abuse; otherwise, what we gain by the sacrifice of precious blood abroad may be lost by arbitrary and unlawful executive fiat at home."

The courtroom was only half filled, in contrast to the overflow crowd in attendance at the opening of Monday's session.

Atty. Gen. Biddle, attired in a black suit and wearing a green necktie, sat at his desk. Occasionally he twisted the ends of his closely cropped mustache. Hugh B. Cox, assistant to the solicitor general, was seated beside Biddle.

The federal bureau of investigation agent who took notes thruout Monday's hearing, was in court again, but took no notes.

"I said yesterday that when this

U. S. Surplus Milk Poisons 74 in Hospital

New York, May 2 [Special].—Use of evaporated milk supplied free by the government from a reported 45 million pound oversupply has resulted in 74 cases of food poisoning in one city hospital here, it was learned today.

The milk was said to have been originally obtained by the government for British use and to have been kept in storage for as long as two years, in some cases, before being turned over by the war food administration for free distribution to hospitals, schools, and other institutions.

Tracing of the food poisoning to use of the aging product brought an order from the New York City department of health clamping an embargo on 1,200 cases and an abrupt halt to WFA plans for distribution of substantial quantities of milk to other institutions here, it was said.

Hurried Calls from WFA.

Purchasing agents for one large group of hospitals and other charitable institutions, who had ordered trucks to pick up substantial gifts of the product were reported to have received a hurried call from the WFA advising that the evaporated milk was not fit for human consumption. The food poisoning cases were described as mild stomach upsets.

Distribution of the government's excess of evaporated milk, estimated at 800,000 cases of 56 pounds each, began about a month ago. Representatives of WFA said last week that, altho this milk was originally intended for the British, powdered milk was sent abroad instead. Production of the evaporated milk continued, however, because contracts called for its manufacture, it was said.

13,000 Cases for Hospitals.

The Federal Surplus Commodity Credit corporation took over the job of distributing the milk to institutional users and notified the department of health here that city hospitals would receive 13,000 cases.

In the absence of F. D. Cronin, WFA regional director, it was not learned what part of the huge stock in this area is considered fit for human consumption or what plans have now been made for disposing of it.

BEAVERBROOK PAPER CARTOON ASSAILED IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

LONDON, May 2.—David Low's cartoons in the London Evening Standard—sometimes grimly inspired, sometimes satirical—have been widely credited with helping in the maintaining of the British morale in the darkest days of the blitz. Today his latest cartoon was denounced in the house of commons as detrimental to the campaign to win the war.

The drawing represented King George of Greece and King Peter of Yugoslavia looking around a corner with popguns and King Victor Emmanuel of Italy packed to go somewhere. Alfred Knox, a Conservative member, said they looked like gangsters ready to sabotage the war effort.

"This is feeding propaganda of our enemies," said Knox. The Standard is owned by Lord Privy Seal Beaverbrook. Knox expressed astonishment that such a cartoon should appear in a paper belonging to a member of the government. Several other members agreed that the cartoon was in dubious taste and might harm British foreign relations.

FCC APPROVES NINE RAILROAD RADIO STATIONS

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Construction permits for nine experimental radio stations were issued to two railroads today by the federal communications commission which announced it would investigate the feasibility of using radio as a safety device and for other purposes in railroad operation.

The permits went to the Baltimore and Ohio for use between Baltimore and Pittsburgh, and to the Burlington for use between Chicago, Denver, and into Montana. Several other railroads have filed applications for experimental permits.

A Swing Shift Robin Swings Part Time Job

A robin's nest, built and maintained by a bird which is forced to operate strictly on a daytime shift, rides back and forth to a war plant every day in a jalopy.

1: Where Mack lives. 2: Where he works.

Wedged between the spare tire and the gas tank of a 1927 Buick, the nest was completed in three days, stocked with two little blue eggs on two successive days, and since has been sat upon daily, except for nights and week-ends.

Ray J. Mack, 7235 Greenleaf av., always parks his car in the same spot in a lot at the Bell & Gossett Co., 8200 Austin av., Morton Grove.

Bird Works Regular "Shift."

On April 22, when he returned to his car, he noticed that the nest was in process of construction. He drove home, and did not return to work until April 24. At the end of that day he observed that the nest was nearly completed. On April 25 he discovered it had been finished.

Intrigued by a bird that worked only between the hours of 7 a. m. and 5 p. m., and apparently had no objection to its nest departing regularly for the night, Mack began watching the nest whenever possible. He observed no further activity, however, until April 28, when he found a robin's egg in it. The next day there were two eggs.

Finds Her Nesting Happily.

Mack returned to the car several times Monday to find the robin happily ensconced on the two little eggs. Yesterday's procedure was the same, despite the intervening leave-taking for the night.

"What am I to do?" asked Mack, who said he feels like a brute. "I hafe to interfere with the family life of a robin; yet I'm doing essential war work, and the car is my only means of transportation."

seizure took place there was a spontaneous uprising in congress," Smith said. "That did not even happen when the coal mines were seized. This was an unprecedented action, your honor. You will have to go back to the time of King John to find its equal."

He then began reading comments of senators from the Congressional Record of April 28, the day following the seizure, when Judge Holly interrupted:

"Let me suggest that it is for the court to determine this case and not for the senators."

"I know that, your honor," said Smith, "but I want to show public feeling toward this seizure."

He then referred to Biddle's brief, read in court Monday, to show what he called the government's desperation because of lack of evidence to support the President's executive order seizing the Ward properties.

"The government itself," he said, "is relying upon an opinion given the President by my distinguished opponent, the attorney general. The attorney general is driven to his own verbal opinion to justify the seizure. You can find nothing under constitutional law to justify it. The king can do no wrong.

Pattern for Years to Come.

"If the Constitution will permit the government to pursue this terrible course, if the President can do this today, some other President will be doing it 100 years from now."

Observing that there is a growing tendency today for people to live in fear of their government, he said:

"It happens today that these defendants can defend themselves. But the common people for centuries to come may have to rely on what you do today, your honor. Your decision will be cited as authority for other acts for years to come.

"Give them an inch today in getting away from the Constitution and they will take a foot tomorrow.

"This case comes before you after you have officially retired, and it is up to you and in your power to set up guide posts for generations to come, as to how far this is to go. Generations yet unborn will hark back to May of 1944 when Judge Holly set limits to the powers of the President. The yet unborn will look to you for their protection under the Bill of Rights and if I die tomorrow, I will at least have known that I had some small part in the making of this precedent."

Preliminaries "Defective."

Earlier in his argument, Smith said that the government's preparation for the seizure was fatally defective in that President Roosevelt, in his executive order, did not proclaim the facts necessary for seizure under the war labor disputes act to exist. These facts, including the allegation that Montgomery Ward & Co. was engaged in war work, first were alleged by the government in its application for a temporary injunction to restrain the company and officials from interfering with the government in its possession of the plant.

These allegations in the complaint, he said, were "at best, the conclusions of Wayne Chatfield Taylor [undersecretary of commerce, designated by the government to manage the Ward properties] as to the character of Ward's Chicago properties, and his opinion of the mental processes of the President.

Omission in Order Cited.

"But the executive order thru which the President himself is required to speak [under the provisions of the act], and which is vital to the exercise of the power conferred by section 3, makes no mention whatsoever of the character of the plants and facilities whose seizure it directs. In this respect it is fatally defective, and any acts done pursuant to it are wholly without warrant of law.

"Since all encroachments on the rights and property of the people are jealously guarded by the Constitution, the statute must be construed, if its meaning is in doubt, in favor of the people and not the executive.

"It would be a monstrous doctrine if this great and terrible power of seizure by executive fiat could be exercised without such findings."

"Reserve" Point Discussed.

Referring to the government's allegation of a reserve of constitutional power vested in the President, Smith said:

"The government, realizing the tenuous character of its claim of a statutory basis for seizing the properties and business of Montgomery Ward, urges vigorously that the President as chief executive and commander in chief had the power to take such action without the specific authority of an act of congress.

"This dangerous doctrine, which often rears its ugly head in times of stress, might long ago have led to the loss of the civil liberties of the American people if it had not been for the calm and farsighted courage of the American judiciary.

F. D. R.'s Power Is Issue.

"I want to call the court's attention to the fact that we are not contending that the United States government, acting together thru congress and the executive branch of the government, would not, under their war powers, have the right to seize a commercial organization such as Montgomery Ward if there were reasonable ground for legislative determination that such course was necessary to the prosecution of the war. What we do contend is that the President acting alone has no such power.

"The argument that the President has an aggregate of powers is fallacious. If this position were sound, section 3 of the Smith-Connally act would be unnecessary.

Fourth Amendment Cited.

"In the absence of specific authority from congress, the President cannot exercise so great a power as the seizure of private property when that exercise is in violation of the guarantees of the fourth amendment against unreasonable seizures. In the light of this constitutional provision alone, it is clear that the duty of the President to see that the laws be executed is a duty that does not go beyond the law or require him to achieve more than congress sees fit to leave within his power."

It was in the attempt to exercise such dictatorial power, Smith observed, that King Charles I. of England lost both his throne and his head, adding:

"The colonists of America were so deeply conscious of this struggle between the king and parliament that they modeled their own Bill of Rights, the thing involved here today, after the one obtained in Britain a hundred years before.

Curbs Aimed at Executive.

"Since the principal grievance of the colonists was against the executive branch of the government, the founding fathers, in drafting the Constitution, sought to protect the people against the abuses of power which had brought on the Revolution."

It specifically vested in congress, Smith noted, the power "to make all laws which are necessary and proper for carrying into execution the foregoing powers and all other powers vested by this Constitution in the government of the United States or in any department or officer thereof."

Realizing that the President, as commander in chief of the army and navy, should not be unduly fettered in time of war, the framers of the Constitution gave him certain powers which he could exercise without direct authority of congress, Smith observed.

"Powers Purely Military."

"These powers, however, are purely military and are subject to certain very important powers reserved to congress," he added.

"The President was not waging a military campaign in Chicago; the enemy was not at our doors. The emergency, if one existed, did not warrant the President drawing upon his powers as commander in chief to take the properties of a citizen of the United States.

"Congress was in session and undoubtedly would have promptly given the President any power it deemed required to seize this commercial plant if it had thought the war effort required it; and bear this in mind, if the commander in chief without statutory authority can take property without due process of law, he can likewise, in the same circumstances, suspend the writ of habeas corpus and otherwise disregard the other provisions of our bill of rights, including the prohibition against unreasonable search and seizures."

"Misconstrued"—Biddle.

Biddle spoke briefly at the conclusion of Smith's argument.

"I consider Mr. Smith's statement about the language of my brief a deliberate intent at misconstruction," he said. [He referred to Smith's statement that the President relied on the attorney general's opinion in his action.]

There are two questions to be decided, he told the court. If the statute covers Montgomery Ward & Co., the case is closed, he said. If the statute recognizes the President's reserve power as commander in chief of the army and navy, the case is closed, he said, adding:

"If the Constitution has granted the President the power to exercise this authority, the question before us has nothing to do with civil liberties.

"I have said nothing to the effect that you, the court, have not the power to review this order. I would say, however, that the President has certain powers in an emergency, and I do not think most courts would like to dispute or change a Presidential order in time of emergency."

Biddle Returns to Capital.

Biddle said he will not be in court Monday to hear Judge Holly's decision. In company with Benedict Dienard, special assistant to the attorney general, Hugh Cox, assistant solicitor general, and Francis Shea, assistant to the attorney general in charge of the claims department, he left for Washington yesterday afternoon aboard the Capitol Limited.

U. S. MARKS TIME

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

There will be no attempt by the federal government to extend its control of the Chicago operations of Montgomery Ward & Co. until the legal questions are decided, a government spokesman said yesterday.

Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce, who was designated as government manager for the plant, has spent little time at the company's headquarters since his first attempt to take over the property last Wednesday.

Pending Judge Holly's ruling, the operations are being carried on by the regular operating staff. Remittances are being made, and employes are being paid with company checks, not government checks. Preparations for the company's new mail order catalog are going forward.

Only two of the company officials are absent from their offices. They are Chairman Sewell L. Avery, who was forcibly ejected from his office by soldiers last Thursday, and President Clement D. Ryan, who was barred from his office the next day after refusing to recognize the authority of the government manager. Other officials, including Stuart S. Ball, secretary of Ward's, are free to continue their normal duties.

The government has taken no action to sequester the company's bank balances.

PURSE SNATCHER GETS $49.

Miss Edith Ackerman, 32, of 524 W. 57th st., an office worker for American Airlines, was robbed of $49 by a man who stepped from an automobile and grabbed her purse at Normal blvd. and Tremont st., she reported to police last night.

DOUBLE PRONGED PROBE OF WARD GRAB IS ASSURED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—The house will vote Thursday or Friday on a resolution proposing an investigation of the government's seizure of the Montgomery Ward and Company plant in Chicago, Speaker Rayburn [D., Tex.] told reporters today after Rep. Sabath [D., Ill.], chairman of the rules committee, had reported the resolution on the floor.

The resolution, introduced last week by Rep. Dewey [R., Ill.], in whose district the Montgomery Ward plant is located, had been vigorously opposed in the rules committee by Sabath.

Rep. Cox [D., Ga.], ranking Democratic member of the rules committee, charged that in reporting the resolution Sabath had broken an agreement with other committee members that no member who is opposed to a measure can report it on the floor. A member supporting a bill ordinarily reports it and manages the debate on the measure.

Senate Probe Imminent.

On the senate side of the capitol, Sen. McCarran [D., Nev.] told the senate that the judiciary committee, of which he was chairman, would start hearings on the Ward seizure within a few days, acting under its authority to investigate the directives of executive agencies of the government.

Sewell Avery, Ward's chairman, will be asked to testify at the hearings as well as officials of the justice department and other government agencies, McCarran said. It was understood that Atty. Gen. Biddle will be included among the witnesses:

"Nothing within my memory has so aroused the American public as this action by the government," McCarran told the senate.

Urges Rescinding of Powers.

Other congressional developments today in the Ward case were:

1. Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.] said congress should take back the powers it has delegated to the executive branch or "go home and go fishing."

2. Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.] charged that the administration's seizure of private industries was designed to establish the supremacy of "its political friends in charge of unions."

3. Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] urged in a senate speech that laws giving the federal government power to seize private businesses, if upheld by the courts, should be reviewed by congress and revised to limit the authority of executive agencies and prevent seizures such as that of Ward's.

4. Sen. Barkley [D., Ky.], senate majority leader, defending the administration's action in the Ward case, said the attorney general acted under authority granted by congress.

Says Nation Is Aroused.

Dewey was applauded by house members when he said the Ward case has aroused the country. He told of thousands of telegrams and letters he has received protesting the government's seizure of the plant.

Speaker Rayburn said he would appoint four Democrats and three Republicans to the group if the house adopts the resolution.

In the senate Brooks, referring to the Ward seizure, said in his speech that nothing has happened in the United States since the war began that "has so shocked the sense of justice in this free land as this disgraceful procedure.

"The law under which this disgraceful procedure was undertaken was passed by congress, but was in no sense intended to be an all-out grant of power that would destroy the liberties and the protections of the American citizen."

Brooks Praises Avery.

Brooks praised Sewell Avery, chairman of Montgomery Ward, who was forcibly removed from his office by military police at the direction of Atty. Gen. Biddle. Brooks asserted that Avery had ably served the country by "not meekly yielding to the bluster of an executive agent."

Sen. Byrd [D., Va.], who introduced a resolution last week proposing a senate investigation of the Ward seizure, read to the senate a telegram from Avery in which Avery said his company's Chicago activities were not classed by the war man power commission as essential or locally needed.

Byrd said he will press tomorrow for senate action on his special resolution for an inquiry into the Ward case by McCarran's committee, with particular reference to the use of troops. McCarran is going ahead with plans for the investigation under a previous general resolution, but said he would welcome the special authority proposed by Byrd.

Charges Labor Deal.

Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.], in a house speech, charged that the Roosevelt administration was "encouraging strikes" by saying to labor unions; in effect, that the government would seize the owner's property when a strike was called, regardless of the merits of the case.

"The strike at Ward's, as a strike, was a failure," Hoffman said. "The union had lost its battle. So to the rescue came Atty. Gen. Biddle with the army."

Sen. Wherry [R., Neb.], addressing the senate on the Ward case, said it was time congress took back the powers it had delegated to the executive branch and to "check the high handed manner in which executive bureaus and governmental agencies are coercing the activities" of the people of the country.

"If we don't do that we might as well go home and go fishing," Wherry concluded.

WORKERS AT WARD'S SHIFT JOBS WITHOUT WMC INTERFERENCE

Several young women have quit jobs with Montgomery Ward & Co. since the CIO strike was called and have gone to work for Butler Brothers, a general merchandise firm at Randolph and Canal sts., without interference from the war man power commission.

The personnel department of Butler Brothers reported yesterday that it hired the women from Ward's without requiring them to have certificates of availability because the WMC does not consider Ward's an essential business, altho the war labor board contends the government's seizure of the company was necessary because it is of war importance.

"Ward's is an unclassified industry," Lester Brown, WMC area director, explained. "It is not an essential, or a locally needed, industry, and employes may transfer to other unclassified jobs without certificates. The government's operation of the business has not changed its status."

MERCHANT CHIEF IN ALABAMA RAPS WARD'S SEIZURE

A "riptide of public protests" has rolled over Alabama against the government's military seizure of Montgomery Ward & Co. in Chicago, B. C. Apperson, secretary of the Retail Merchants Association of Alabama, with headquarters in Birmingham, said in a statement yesterday.

"We Alabama merchants can not imagine the Gestapo inventing any more severe methods than the tactics used in the Ward case," he said. The association sent a protesting resolution to Alabama senators and representatives.

"If our representatives in Washington are responsible for authority which will bodily eject a man from his business, then there is something rotten in Washington and we would do well to see that some changes are made," an association member declared. "All business associations in the state should express their opinion on this most serious cloud which threatens the skies of freedom over our nation."

TENTATIVE PLAN FOR EDUCATION IN EUROPE TOLD

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Rep. Fulbright [D., Ark.], back from a London conference of allied education leaders, said today the conference had agreed tentatively on creation of an organization to reestablish educational facilities in Europe once the continent is liberated. The agreement will be reviewed by various allied governments and probably will require some change, Fulbright said.

The organization would be patterned after the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration.

Fulbright headed a delegation of six named by Secretary of State Hull to confer with allied education authorities. He said the proposed plan contemplates a fund contributed by allied nations to help liberated European countries purchase books, paper, desks, scientific equipment, and other materials needed to supply schools and universities.

SENATE AGENT ENDS PROBE INTO SEIZURE OF WARD'S BY ARMY

George M. Moore, special investigator for the United States senate judiciary subcommittee investigating the government seizure of Montgomery Ward & Co., said last night he may return to Washington, D. C., today with his report.

Moore came to Chicago last Wednesday and has interviewed representatives of the company and of the CIO United Mail Order, Wholesale and Retail Employes' union. He would not confirm a report that he has interviewed Sewell L. Avery, chairman of the company.

Samuel Wolchok, international president of the union involved in the strike; other officials of the union; and Francis Heisler, attorney for local 20, met with Moore yesterday. Wolchok later said he had told the investigator "the more searching you do the better we will like it."

KILL PETITION ATTACKING 4TH WARD ELECTION

A petition filed by James E. Kidwell contesting the reëlection of Charles Krutckoff as Republican committeeman in the 4th ward was dismissed by County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki on technical grounds yesterday. Krutckoff defeated Kidwell by 1,818 votes. Judge Jarecki found that Kidwell improperly made the summons for the defendant returnable April 29 when the court had set the hearing for May 1.

Hearings on three other petitions involving the election of Republican ward committeemen April 11 were continued until tomorrow after Judge Jarecki heard arguments by John F. Tyrrell, attorney for Ald. Frank O. Hilburn, who is contesting the election of Frank R. Leonard in the 47th ward. The other contests were brought by Eden T. Brekke, defeated by Joseph F. Gubbins in the 36th ward, and by William A. Cunnea, defeated by George O. Lehr in the 13th ward.

SEN. HILL WINS RENOMINATION IN ALABAMA VOTE

Corrals Bulk of State's Absentee Ballots.

Birmingham, Ala., May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Beating back a Dixie challenge to the Roosevelt domestic program, Sen. Lister Hill won renomination by defeating James A. Simpson, Birmingham attorney and administration critic, in yesterday's Democratic primary by a sizeable margin. The vote in 1,740 out of the state's 2,310 boxes was: Hill, 94,899; Simpson, 74,681.

Hill, his party's whip in the senate, in a victory statement early today said:

"The verdict of the voters of Alabama today is a verdict for Democratic rule in Alabama—and in the nation."

Simpson retired without making a statement.

Opposition Statement.

The Mobile Press Register, largest of the Alabama newspapers supporting Simpson against Sen. Hill, tonight conceded Hill's election.

The newspaper said:

"The Press Register was the first to support Jim Simpson, is the first to concede victory to the opposition, and is the first to reiterate that whenever the question arises again of 'bureaucracy against the people,' it will again be the first to support the people."

Hill gained an early big lead in absentee returns and won his home county absentee vote 1,289 to 63.

5 House Seats Contested.

There were contests for five United States house seats of the state's nine, for six delegate-at-large members of a 24 man uninstructed delegation to the Democratic national convention, and for two of three state Supreme court justiceships.

Alabamians estimated at upward of 200,000 made their senatorial choice after one of the most controversial primary campaigns in the state's history.

The Roosevelt domestic program and the racial issue dominated the weeks of speech making by the candidates. Hill stood four square on his support of the President, and Simpson criticized federal "burocracy" and "extravagance," but without mentioning Mr. Roosevelt or the New Deal by name.

Attacked Interference.

Simpson had attacked what he called federal interference with the state's handling of the Negro problem thru the activities of the fair employment practices committee. He argued this is a matter solely for the state to decide.

Hill contended his opponent was backed by northern Republicans and "so-called Democrats" with huge sums to spend on "propaganda." He also charged Simpson had the support of "scandal sheets" in the state,

WLB Orders Harvester Strikers Back to Work

Striking members of the International Association of Machinists [AFL] of the International Harvester company plant in Canton, near Peoria, were ordered to return to work yesterday by J. E. Kuzma, assistant director of disputes of the 6th regional war labor board in Chicago. He ruled the strike in violation of "labor's no strike pledge to the President." An independent union, Kuzma said, recently won out as bargaining agent at the Canton plant, contesting with the AFL machinists.

BURGLARS STEAL TAVERN LIQUOR.

Liquor valued at $324, tomato paste worth $31, and $24 in cash were taken by burglars from a tavern at 3134 N. Western av., the owner, Albert Moretti, 2713 N. Mozart st., reported yesterday to police.

NEGROES DENIED BALLOTS IN SOME SOUTHERN CITIES

Allow Others to Vote Unchallenged.

Atlanta, Ga., May 2 (AP).—Negroes voted, unchallenged, at several polls in Democratic primary elections in Alabama and Florida today, but were refused ballots in at least two cities.

Ten Negroes, whose appearance at a Mobile, Ala., voting place coincided with arrival of magazine photographers, were met at the entrance by Deputy Sheriff Frank Pryor who explained that the primary was restricted to white electors. The Negroes departed without incident.

Registered Democrats Vote.

A Negro woman high school teacher attempted to cast a ballot in Tallahassee, Fla. But left the polling place without being admitted to a booth. Officials said she was not refused a ballot but was asked to wait until they could obtain a legal ruling on her qualifications.

At another polling place in Tallahassee eight Negroes, some faculty members of the Florida Agriculture and Mechanical college, were permitted to vote. They were among 19 Negroes who registered as Democrats.

Vote G. O. P. in Miami.

In another exception two Negroes appeared at a voting place in Montgomery, Ala., but were not allowed to vote. In Birmingham, Ala., Negroes voted, as they usually do, in the Democratic primary, but only a small percentage of the several hundred qualified were seen at polls.

In Miami, the office of Carl Holmer Jr., supervisor of registration, said Negroes were voting exclusively in the Republican primary, also being held in Florida today.

GURNEY NAMED FOR U. S. SENATE AGAIN BY G. O. P.

Sioux Falls, S. D., May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Republican United States Sen. Chan Gurney won renomination in yesterday's South Dakota primary election, and a Dewey inclined convention slate triumphed over one favoring Lt. Comdr. Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor.

Gurney jumped into an early lead over Lt. Gov. A. C. Miller, who campaigned that Gurney had "absorbed" the New Deal on domestic policies, and settled down to a safe margin of nearly 10,000 votes as the bulk of the state's 1,963 precincts was counted.

Dewey Backers Win.

New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was designated the choice of Republican voters who turned out in one of the state's lightest primary election votes in many years.

Latest returns:

1,308 precincts: Gurney, 32,041; Miller, 23,488.

1,257 precincts: Dewey delegates, 26,320; Stassen delegates, 17,440.

1,131 precincts: Democratic delegates headed by former Congressman Fred Hildebrandt, 5,027; delegates headed by former State Party Chairman A. W. Powell, 4,615.

All delegate lists appeared officially on the ballot as having no Presidential preference since none of the groups obtained written agreement of their publicly announced choices, required by state law before ballot designations may be given.

Some Lack Opposition.

Nominated without contest were George M. Bradshaw, Lennox rancher as Democratic candidate for United States senator; Gov. M. Q. Sharpe and Lynn Fellows, Plankinton lawyer, as Republican and Democratic choices, respectively, for governor, and candidates in both parties to the state's two seats in the house of representatives.

The Republican vote in the 1942 primary was 82,667 and the Democratic vote 39,404. The 1940 total primary vote was 160,000.

KELLY GIVES UP ON ORDINANCE TO BRAND FURS

Mayor Kelly yesterday announced abandonment of the plan to enact a city ordinance requiring all fur coats sold by dealers in Chicago to be marked or branded to make thievery more difficult. The proposal was canceled, however, after two representatives of the Chicago Retail Merchants association, William S. Street of Marshall Field & Co., and M. C. Penticoff of Sears, Roebuck Co., told the mayor that in many cases branding would ruin the skins and indelible ink would stain the pelts. A further hardship cited was that customers objecting to such marking would buy out of town.

PROWLER STEALS JEWELRY.

While Mrs. Mary Gorman of 9317 May st. was in her back yard some one entered her home thru an unlocked door and took a watch and two diamond rings, valued at $700, and $170 in cash, she told police yesterday.

G. O. P. CONGRESS RACE IS CLOSE IN INDIANA'S LAKE COUNTY VOTING

Three candidates were in a close race for the Republican nomination for congressman from the 1st Indiana district, in the Lake county primary last night.

A tabulation of 120 of the county's 231 precincts gave Otto G. Fifield a slight lead with 2,750 votes, to 2,599 for Fred F. Schultz, and 2,099 for Samuel W. Cullison. Fred G. Behmlander was fourth with 705 votes, and Frederick A. Wood fifth with 341. Ray J. Madden, Democratic incumbent, had no opposition.

A heavier vote was cast for local offices. Charles W. Gannon, prosecuting attorney and Republican candidate for renomination, led his opponent on the G. O. P. ticket by 5,896 to 2,056. John E. Roszkowski was comfortably ahead of six opponents on the Democratic ticket with 3,443 votes.

Frank M. Galloway led a field of four with 3,581 votes on the Republican ticket for sheriff, but the Democratic incumbent, Fred M. Stultz, polled 5,488 votes, running away from eight rivals.

The Republican race for county treasurer gave John Machacek 2,351 votes; Stanley Wieklinski, 2,207, and Steve L. Chelle, 1,855, while the Democratic race virtually assured John Knotts victory with 5,165 votes against 2,816 for Patsy J. Natale; 2,629 for Leon J. Granger, and 1,334 for Michael M. Matovina.

In the election for county commissioner, 1st district, Fred Rose was in the lead on the Republican ticket, and John A. Hollenbaugh, incumbent, in the lead on the Democratic ticket.

DUE FOR A REST, ELGIN GUNNER HELPS PAL, DIES

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AT A U. S. 9TH AIR FORCE BASE IN ENGLAND, May 2.—Staff Sgt. Harry W. Gross of 685 Slade av., Elgin, Ill., engineer and gunner on a B-26, completed his quota of missions a few weeks ago and wrote his family that he thought he would be coming home soon for a rest. But the army decided otherwise and Gross made two more missions.

Just before the second, Gross learned the army had changed its official mind again and included him among two veteran crews due for 30 day furloughs in the United States. Gross didn't have to make the second mission. But, to oblige a buddy, he took the latter's place one morning as a Marauder tail gunner.

His plane, attacking a secret target area thru an anti-aircraft barrage known as "popcorn alley," was hit heavily. Coming home on one motor, the pilot succesfully crash landed the plane. But Gross did not climb out. They found him dead at his guns, killed by shells.

$1,000,000 WAR PLANT BURNS.

Lebanon, Pa., May 2 [AP].—The Lebanon plant of the National Radiator corporation, completed six months ago at a cost of $1,000,000, was destroyed by fire today. It was used entirely for war production work. Several blasts shook surrounding buildings as oxygen tanks exploded.

NEW DEAL THRU IN SOUTH, SAYS BYRD'S BACKER

The Florida primary is official confirmation that the south is thru with the New Deal, J. J. Kramer of New Orleans, executive secretary of the Byrd for President clubs, declared here last night.

On the basis of early returns indicating the election of at least 12 Byrd delegates out of the 18 Florida will send to the Democratic national convention here next July, Kramer predicted that at least nine of the 15 southern states would send anti-fourth term delegations to the convention.

Called "Political Miracle."

Making his first trip out of the south in nine months of intensive campaign work for the drafting of Sen. Byrd of Virginia and in opposition to the New Deal, Kramer characterized the Florida results as a "political miracle."

He declared the Florida primary removed the last doubt that the south would oppose the fourth term. But, Kramer pointed out, the 15 southern states have fewer than 400 of the 1,167 delegates to the party's national convention. That is why he has journeyed into the middle west where he hopes to find Democrats who are willing to join the south in opposing the New Deal.

"65 Pct. Against Fourth Term."

He estimated that 65 per cent of southern voters are against the fourth term and perpetuation of the New Deal. He is convinced from his trips thru the south the last nine months that more than 45 per cent are so strong in their opposition they will vote Republican, if necessary. While this would not be enough to swing strong southern states, he said it would mean the loss of such border states as Kentucky, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, and possibly Tennessee. Florida can be included in the doubtful list if Roosevelt is the nominee, Kramer said.

Kramer pointed out that Florida was the only southern state that provided an opportunity for a clear-cut test of Roosevelt and Byrd strength. The other states hold conventions, all except one following the Florida primary, and southern political leaders are watching these primary results closely. In the one convention held—Mississippi—State Chairman Herbert Holmes, an anti-New Dealer, succeeded in blocking the selection of Gov. Bailey, a pro-Roosevelt man, as the keynote speaker. Mississippi's uninstructed delegation includes Holmes and former Gov. Martin S. Conner, a strong anti-Roosevelt leader.

Start Draft in New Orleans.

Kramer said the "draft Byrd" movement was started about nine months ago, without consulting the Virginia senator, by a group of Democrats in New Orleans who had been active in the election of Gov. Sam Jones. Each had taken an active part in the destruction of the old Huey Long machine.

"We are not amateurs in fighting political tyranny," said Kramer.

Since then the movement has spread into all the southern states, where Kramer claims a membership of more than 2 million. The list of clubs grows with each mail, Kramer said, and eight girls are kept busy on double shifts in the organization's headquarters in New Orleans answering the mail. The movement has been financed from the start, Kramer said, by voluntary donations.

SIX INCUMBENTS WIN IN INDIANA CONGRESS RACES

Indianapolis, Ind., May 2 (AP).—Indiana's 11 congressmen—nine Republicans and two Democrats—appeared assured tonight of renomination as incomplete results of the state's primary election today failed to disclose a strong competitor for any incumbent.

Six representatives, Harness, Grant, Gillie, Springer, Landis, and La Follette, all Republicans, led in their district contests.

Unopposed incumbents are Representatives Halleck, Johnson and Wilson, Republicans, and Ludlow and Madden Democrats.

Two hundred voters in Wabash township, Gibson county, called off their participation in the primary because of wet grounds. Wabash river flood waters inundated the entire township.

DEMPSEY LIKELY TO KEEP POST IN COUNTY'S G.O.P.

State Democratic Group Pick Kells Today.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

John T. Dempsey, Republican nominee for state's attorney, will keep his post as chairman of the Cook county central committee to preserve harmony within the party, it was reported yesterday. He has been at the G. O. P. helm since Gov. Green's first nomination in 1940.

The county committee will meet May 11 to elect a chairman. All indications yesterday were that Dempsey will be drafted to remain, altho he said he is still pondering the problem.

Some of Dempsey's friends believe that his continued party leadership may handicap his campaign for state's attorney. A greater number, including one who is said to have been in touch with Gov. Green in Arizona, have urged him to stay on as chairman. Several other candidates on the county ticket are dubious about the wisdom of the move.

Move Begun on South Side.

A group of south side ward committeemen is said to be organizing to keep Dempsey as chairman, primarily because of inability to assure victory for their own candidate to succeed him. Probably the other county ticket nominees will join in the draft movement.

Ald. George D. Kells [28th] is expected to be elected chairman of the Democratic state central committee today at its meeting in Springfield. The Cook county organization believes that it has insufficient recognition on the state ticket and wants a place on the driver's seat because of its dominant share of the Democratic vote.

Represent 495,924 Votes.

Altho Cook county has only 10 of the 25 members of the committee, Kells' election is believed to be assured because of the system of voting employed on the committee. Each member casts the vote his party received in his congressional district at the April 11 primary.

State's Atty. Courtney, nominee for governor, will go to Springfield today.

Robert E. Hannegan, Democratic national chairman, will meet Mayor Kelly today to discuss arrangements for the national convention here July 19.

City Employes' Red Cross Gift

PROPOSE WALK ABOVE DEBRIS AT RAINBOW BEACH

Rainbow beach will be inspected today by a group of aldermen led by Ald. Bowler [25th], chairman of the council's finance committee, to determine whether an asphalt walk should be provided for bathers over debris piled on the beach at the 77th st. entrance.

Ald. Bohling [7th], representing the ward in which the beach is located, has reported to the council that stone and other material removed from the south side water filtration plant tunnel has been emptied on the beach.

Public Works Commissioner Hewitt said plans to construct the asphalt walk will be started immediately, if the aldermen approve it today. Eventually, the area will be paved as a parking lot, he said.

Courthouse Passes Jury Inspection—Or Does It?

Erie, Pa., May 2 (AP).—Judge Miles B. Kitts told the May grand jury to inspect the Erie county court house. Here's what the jurors reported: "We find everything all that any one could hope for under present conditions. Some things could be done if there were nothing else to do and we had some one to do it. So, as bad as it might be, we are pleased to find it as good as it is."

Top Their Quota

A check for $120,225, exceeding the quota of $100,000 for city employes in the Red Cross war fund campaign, was presented to Martin H. Kennelly, Red Cross campaign chairman, by Mayor Kelly in the mayor's office yesterday. Also present was James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross. The mayor said that all departments attained their quotas.

10 OF ARKANSAS' G.O.P. DELEGATES NOT INSTRUCTED

Little Rock, Ark., May 2 (AP).—The Arkansas Republican convention today nominated its first full slate of state candidates in 16 years and voted to send 10 uninstructed delegates out of the state's 12 to the Republican national convention.

State Committeeman Dalton Dodson of the 3d congressional district, unsuccessfully sought to pledge the state's four delegates-at-large to Dewey. The other six congressional districts, with one delegate each, also voted to send uninstructed delegates.

Victor M. Wade, Batesville insurance man, was nominated for United States senator. Five candidates are contesting for the Democratic nomination, including the incumbent, Sen. Hattie W. Caraway.

LEGION GROUP ACTS TO RETRACT REP. FISH SMEAR

Washington, D. C., May 2 [Special].—The executive committee of the American Legion today labeled as unjustifiable the criticism heaped upon Rep. Hamilton Fish [R., N.Y.], the America First committee, and congressional isolationists at the Legion convention last year. They voted complete exoneration of Fish.

The committee, in adopting the report of its subcommittee on the controversial "Hamilton Fish resolution" of the convention at Omaha, Neb., said "we have no right, in good conscience directly or by inference or innuendo, to impugn the good faith or ascribe any subversive or un-American tendencies to either such persons, their point of view or their program.

"It is unfortunate that we should not have kept our escutcheon untarnished."

Up to Next Convention.

The committee voted to submit to the convention next September its report on the Omaha action.

Fish had been held guilty, in the resolution, of improperly permitting his congressional frank to be used by George Sylvester Viereck and others for disseminating propaganda inimical to the United States. Regret for the action was expressed by Legion leaders immediately after the convention's action. They conceded the resolution was part of a smear campaign.

Fish, himself a Legionnaire, had formerly protested the resolution at the convention.

Chairman Harry W. Colmery of the subcommittee vigorously assailed the critics of Fish and others not in sympathy with our pre-war foreign policy.

No Supporting Evidence.

Colmery's committee said that "whether the purpose of the resolution was to curb the abuse of the franking privilege or to condemn Fish for the alleged misuse thereof, your committee does not see where any good purpose was served, or any sound reason for, including the reference to an implied criticism of 'other isolationist members of congress' and of 'the America First committee,' and attributing to them un-American and subversive tendencies."

The subcommittee added: "Our investigation as to the Omaha convention justifies the statement that at that convention there was no evidence before the convention's Americanism committee to support such a charge against the members of congress.

"In fact, to carry out the instruction, the national commander would have to put some snoopers on guard to check the use of the franking privilege and the nature and character of all such mailed matter."

Beneath Legion's Dignity.

Making some observations "for the good" of the American Legion, the subcommittee recommended that the Legion not "attempt to solve all the social, economic, and civil problems of the nation." It further declared: "To fiddle around with the problem of what mailable matter should be sent free, and by whom, and what violations have taken place is beneath the dignity and high purpose of our great American institution."

The purpose of sponsors of the Fish resolution, the committee said was "to stop members of congress from abusing the franking privilege" whereas their "effort should have been or should have been directed to changing the law governing franking privileges."

No Right to Accuse.

In one section the report said: "Our examination of the declared principles of the America First committee, our rather intimate knowledge of the public life and service and public and private character of many fine citizens who are active in or adhered to the cause of that committee; our knowledge of the ebb and flow of public opinion on the matter of our foreign policy before Pearl Harbor; our acquaintance with many pre-Pearl Harbor isolationists; compels the conclusion that, altho fair criticism may be justifiable, we have no right, in good conscience directly or by inference or innuendo, to impugn the good faith or ascribe any subversive or un-American tendencies to either such persons, their points of view or their program."

'TRY, TRY AGAIN' BOY DISCHARGED AS NAVY FINDS HE'S ONLY 16!

Thomas E. Rom, 16, will return next week, his parents stated yesterday, with an honorable discharge from the United States navy. After enlisting under an assumed name, Rom completed training and received his honor stripes before naval authorities discovered he was under age.

Thomas E. Rom.

Previously Rom attempted to enlist in the marines and the army, but his age was discovered. This was his second attempt to serve in the navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rom, 2306 S. 58th ct., Cicero, and a nephew of George Rom, superintendent of the job printing department of THE TRIBUNE.

RENOMINATION OF FISH BACKED BY G. O. P. GROUP

Goshen, N. Y., May 2 [Special].—Rep. Hamilton Fish unanimously was endorsed for renomination tonight at a meeting of the Orange county Republican committee.

Fish, before the endorsement, addressed the committee, setting forth his views on United States post-war policy.

"I admire Winston Churchill for always putting the interests of the British empire first, and likewise Josept Stalin for looking after the interests of the Socialist soviet republics first," Fish said.

"The time has come when we, in this country, should look after the interests of America first and keep them uppermost all the time, because if we don't no one else will."

SIAMESE TWINS IMPROVED AFTER SINKING SPELL

Phoenixville, Pa., May 2 (AP).—The Stierly Siamese twins showed "slight improvement" tonight.

Dr. J. Elmer Gotwals said, after inspecting the twins that their color was "much better" and that the larger twin was in "very good shape."

Their temperature, he added, had risen a point to 104, but he said this "didn't mean much" in babies of their age.

Earlier today, Dr. Gotwals reported that the smaller child had almost stopped breathing. Her death, he said, would mean death of the other.

Accuse Humane Society Officer of Killing Dogs

Eugene, Ore., May 2 (AP).—Arthur T. Hall, a humane society officer who conducted mass meetings to protest the mutilation of a terrier, was charged today with beating seven dogs to death and killing another with a meat cleaver. The complaint was filed by Marion F. McClain, Lane county Humane society president, who charged that Hall and Joe Vicenzi, a chemical works employe, clubbed seven dogs to death last April 24.

MAN, 70, KILLED BY STREET CAR.

Arthur Lyman, 70, of 1206 Montana st., was killed last night when he was struck by a north bound Halsted st. surface lines car at Fullerton av. He was pinned underneath the front of the car.

POWER OF PARK BOARD UPHELD BY COURT RULE

Injunction Is Reversed by Appellate Bench.

Power of the Chicago park district to forbid individuals or groups preferred privileges on park property, which was a lively issue between Back of the Yards council and Park President Robert J. Dunham in recent weeks, was upheld yesterday by the Appellate court in a ruling denying the Lincoln Park Traps use of skeet and pistol ranges in Lincoln park.

The opinion, written by Judge John J. Sullivan and concurred in by Judge Hugo M. Friend and Judge Kickham Scanlan, reversed a Circuit court order by Judge Cornelius J. Harrington granting the gun club a permanent injunction against the park district, and remanded the case, with directions to allow the park district's motion to dismiss the club's complaint for want of equity.

Park Districts Held Trustees.

"It is clear . . . that all lands, the title to which is in commissioners of park districts, are held in trust for the equal benefit of all the people of the state, that the facilities of park districts are for the equal benefit of all the people of the state, and that park districts cannot operate their facilities or permit them to be operated in such a manner that a preferential use thereof is granted to one person or to any group of persons," the Appellate court stated.

President Dunham said the ruling was a "complete vindication" of the park board's position in refusing the Back of the Yards council use of a park fieldhouse for its program of aid to children of the neighborhood.

Regulation Basis Established.

"The paragraph containing the gist of this decision," said Dunham, "reads as if it were written to apply to the Back of the Yards council. It establishes a basis in law for regulating the use of park property by minorities. It means the people have regained control of the parks."

In respect to the gun club, which was a privately organized group altho making its clubhouse and target ranges open to the public, Dunham said the only effect of the court opinion would be to establish who is in control.

"We don't plan to discommode the members of the club," he said. "The only question on which we have insisted is who is to operate the facilities."

Numerous Groups Affected.

Numerous other sportsmen's organizations also have used special park areas, Dunham pointed out, and they, too, will find themselves in the same situation. Among them are six boat clubs, as well as casting, archery, lawn bowling, and roque clubs.

"The park district's control probably extends even to the use of park property by La Rabida sanitarium in Jackson park," he said. "All of these special uses have existed by right of agreements in which the park district reserved the right of concellation.

"However, we do not intend the public shall lose these means of recreation. The change will be that the park district will operate them as public facilities, open to all the people, as golf courses have been, and not given over to any group as a special privilege."

Lease Conflict Begun in 1938.

The gun club began its case in October, 1938, shortly after the park district canceled a lease granted by the old Lincoln park district in 1920 for 26 years at a yearly rental of $50. The club asserted it had spent $50,000 installing a clubhouse and shooting equipment, and that the public had been invited to shoot at a "reasonable" cost.

The park board contended that tho the club offered the use of its ranges to the public it could bar a nonmember. Another argument was that public property held in trust for use of the people could not be leased for an "inadequate or purely nominal consideration," which the $50 a year was held to be.

Edward A. Zimmerman, attorney for the gun club, said a rehearing probably would be asked, alleging the Appellate court erred in its summary of facts.

Helicopter Gets Flight Test

New two place cabin helicopter developed at Buffalo, N. Y., hovers a few feet above ground in test. It has a single blade rotor and a propeller on the tail.

Easier Control

Buffalo, N. Y., May 2 [Special].—Development of a new helicopter with improved flight stability and precision control, providing easier handling by pilots, has been announced here by the Bell Aircraft corporation after extensive flight tests.

The 33 foot rotor blades of the craft are made independent of the mast by a new stabilizing device, the corporation said, keeping the blades on a horizontal plane. A five foot anti-torque propeller on the tail helps to simplify handling.

Despite improved controls, the company said, operation of the helicopter still requires much skill and technical knowledge and widespread civilian use is not expected for several years. Helicopters now are used principally for coast guard patrol and rescue work, forest fire control, short hauls for mail and commercial cargoes, and for geological surveys.

DEMAND PROBE OF ARMY CAMP SLOT MACHINES

Operation by 'Select' Clique Reported.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—An investigation of reports that some soldiers are losing a large part of their pay in army camp slot machines was sought today by Sen. Bridges [R., N. H.].

Bridges asserted in an interview that he had asked the war department whether any one had been given permission to install slot machines at military posts.

He said information had reached him that "the ownership and control of these machines is in the hands of a very small and select clique close to the administration."

General Asked to Act.

The request for investigation was directed to Brig. Gen. Wilton B. Persons, chief of the war department legislative and liaison division.

"The complaint reaching me is that the slot machines have been taking a substantial part of the pay of some service men and placing them in financial difficulties," Bridges said.

"I have asked the department whether their use at the camps has been sanctioned officially and, if so, who owns or controls the machines.

"In that connection I mentioned having received reports that some of the machines are owned and controled by a very small and select clique close to the administration."

Virginia Camp Mentioned.

Bridges said he had relayed to the department one complaint that Camp Patrick Henry, Virginia, was "one place where the situation is extremely bad."

Brig. Gen. J. R. Kilpatrick, commanding officer of the Hampton Roads port of embarkation, said today at Newport News, Va., that "there are no slot machines or any other gambling devices available to enlisted men at Camp Patrick Henry or any other installation of the Hampton Roads port of embarkation."

A war department spokesman said army regulations forbid slot machines or gambling devices in post exchanges, service clubs, or auxiliary facilities available to enlisted personnel. He said post commanding officers in some instances would have authority to permit their use in officers' clubs.

4 SISTERS LEAP TO SAFETY FROM BLAZING HOME

Four sisters, trapped in their bedroom when fire started in their home at 5624 Higgins av., early yesterday leaped to safety from a 16 foot porch roof. Two of the girls, Electra Massari, 12, and Liberta, 16, were injured in the jump. The others, Helen, 10, and Mary, 18, were unhurt.

Their father, Onofrio, an invalid, was aided to safety by their mother, Rachel, down the stairway of the house. The family was aroused by the barking of a dog.

The girls were taken to the Swedish Covenant hospital where attendants said Electra's right arm was broken, and Liberta's foot injured.

Chicagoans Photograph Vesuvius in Eruption

Lt. Louis Goldblatt, a director of Goldblatt Brothers department stores, in Italy with an army entertainment unit, had a close view of the eruption of Mount Vesuvius and photographed it, he wrote in a letter received yesterday by his brother, Joel, general manager of the stores. Lt. Herman G. Buckley, also a director, was with Lt. Goldblatt.

MAYOR AFFIRMS POLICY OF CITY ON POLICE UNION

There will be no change in the city policy regarding the banning of a police union, Mayor Kelly yesterday assured three union officials who called at his office. The union leaders were: Harry O'Reilly, midwest director of organization for the AFL; James McCormick, general representative of the international union of municipal employes, and Arnold Zander, international president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal organizations.

The mayor's statement followed the ruling of Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes that the police commissioner, the city council, and the civil service commission have the right to prohibit such a union.

The mayor told the union representatives that Commissioner Allman is running the police department. The latter sent out an official form to all police districts and bureaus last month banning the union.

BERVE DEMANDS OPA GRANT GAS AS ELECTION AID

Modification of office of price administration regulations so that political workers can obtain sufficient gasoline to get voters to the polls on election day in November was urged yesterday by Ben Berve, Republican state central committee chairman.

Berve said an analysis of downstate primary totals indicated clearly that gasoline rationing played its parts in reducing the total vote to the lowest mark in many years. He said it would play an even more important part in the November balloting unless red tape were eliminated so that party workers, particularly in small towns and rural areas, could get gasoline allotments without losing time from their work.

Way to Save Gasoline.

"The necessity of allowing every American means to travel to polling places should not be questioned," he asserted. "Most voters in the rural districts have no means of transport other than their gasoline powered equipment. Proper allowances will actually mean a saving in gasoline, because workers can gather a large number of voters and thus eliminate duplicate trips."

"It strikes me," Berve added, "the New Deal is very anxious not to have an expression of opinion from all the voters, but only to maintain and provide for its yes men. The blank bobtailed ballot it attempted to foist on the men in war duty and the multitude of red tape the average American must go thru to get enough gasoline to vote are two more assaults on freedom."

Urges Red Tape Be Cut.

Berve joined with Lew Wescott, chairman of the Cook county Republican country towns organization, in urging that ward and township committeemen be authorized to certify a list of party workers to OPA boards and that permits for the added gasoline required for political workers be mailed, after proper investigation, to the worker, thus eliminating individual trips of each worker and the resultant loss of time from his work.

Berve pointed out that in the smaller towns and in the rural areas Republican strength is greatest and that the present complicated regulations work a greater hardship on Republicans than on Democrats, whose voting strength is largely concentrated in urban centers, where there is little or no travel involved.

Retired Admiral, 72, Asks Divorce in Cross Suit

Baltimore, Md., May 2 (AP).—An absolute divorce was asked today by Rear Adm. Yates Stirling Jr., 72, United States navy, retired, of New York, from Mrs. Adelaide E. Stirling, whose partial divorce and alimony suit against him now is pending in the Baltimore Circuit court.

CHAVEZ PLEADS: HELP MacARTHUR AVENGE BATAAN

Asks More Fighting Men for South Pacific.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—While the federated Bataan organizations prepared to hold their first annual convention next Saturday, Sen. Chavez [D., N. M.], demanded in the senate today that adequate numbers of the nation's millions of trained but idle fighting men be sent to Gen. MacArthur.

Chavez recalled his own previous unavailing pleas that the war in the Pacific be pushed with every resource available, and told the senate:

"My purpose is to continue to speak in this vein until the day when the hundreds upon hundreds of men who were snared in the Japanese ambuscade will be safely returned to the bosom of their people."

Meet in Missouri.

The convention of relatives of the men who were killed or taken prisoner at Bataan and Corregidor will be held at St. Joseph, Mo. The convention opens on the second anniversary of the fall of Corregidor.

Asserting that Gen. MacArthur's renunciation of Presidential aspirations last Saturday shows MacArthur's determination to go back to the Philippines, Chavez said:

"The American people will not forget either Corregidor or Bataan, nor will they soon dismiss from their memory the American boys who bled and died in that far eastern outpost. But eloquent words and fond remembrances are not enough to expect from a grateful people or a grateful government.

Tardy, but Not Too Late.

"Even tho tardy by many, many months, we should express our concern in the shipment of more men and more supplies to the Pacific battle lines."

Chavez recalled the war and navy department's assurances of American naval superiority in the Pacific and told of the increasing American air dominance.

"We have millions of men fully armed," he said, "fully equipped and fully trained, but who have seen no action whatever. Our supplies are little short of abundant.

"So far as this war is concerned, the Pacific is more important to us than any other area in the world.

"Recent events point to eventual victory, but the pace we are maintaining will not end hostilities in the Pacific for many, many years—too many years."

Disclose Nazi Seized in Crete Led 22,000 Men

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Maj. Gen. Heinrich Kreipe, who was captured by British officers a few days ago during a raid on Crete, had perhaps 20,000 Nazi troops under his command at the time he was seized, it was learned today. Kriepe was commander of the 22d panzer grenadiers, known as the Sevastopol division. Announcement of his capture was made yesterday in Cairo.

JAPS' ACTIVITY ON BOUGAINVILLE HINTS AT ATTACK ON YANKS

ADVANCED ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Strong Japanese patrols are operating east of the allied beachhead at Empress Augusta bay, on Bougainville Island in the Solomons, possibly foreboding a renewal of the attacks which cost the enemy thousands of men in March.

A report of the Nipponese activity, noted Sunday, was made by a spokesman for Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, commander of ground forces in the South Pacific. Some 200 Japanese were observed and reconnaissance showed the enemy had constructed many new bridges.

Allied air and ground forces meanwhile were ferreting out isolated enemy groups in the Hollandia area of Dutch New Guinea. The allied air offensive continued against Japanese bases west of Hollandia. Heavy units hit enemy shipping near Manokwari. Twenty barges were sunk fleeing Wewak by planes and P T boats.

M'ARTHUR'S MEN SMASH 296 JAP PLANES IN APRIL

ADVANCED ALLIED HDQ., New Guinea, May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Allied airmen in the South and Southwest Pacific destroyed 296 Japanese planes in April at a cost of 39 of their own, Gen. MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

The recapitulation of the month's bulletins showed a total of 178 enemy planes destroyed in the air and 118 aground. In addition, 35 Japanese aircraft were listed as probably destroyed, 32 in combat and three on the ground.

The review also fixed at 166 the number of enemy surface craft destroyed during the month and at 117 the vessels damaged. Specifically, 13 merchantmen, 128 barges, and 25 small craft were sunk or smashed. One destroyer, 17 merchantmen, 72 barges, and 27 small craft were damaged.

REJECT BREMEN TOWNSHIP PLEA FOR RELIEF CASH

Bremen township's request for $950 from the Illinois public aid commission to help pay for 43 poor relief cases in May was turned down yesterday because the township's poor relief levy, adopted April 4, does not equal 30 cents on each $100 valuation under Cook county's new 100 per cent property valuation.

Altho the township's relief levy this year was larger than last, it still falls below the requisite 30 cent figure on the basis of the new assessment base. The levy this year totaled $15,660.

Walter C. Dohl, township supervisor, said the township has only $980 to pay an estimated relief load of $1,930 this month. He said he plans to appeal to state authorities for aid.

SUBMARINES BAG JAP CRUISER AND 3 DESTROYERS

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—American and British submarines have cut a new gap of 17 ships, four of them war vessels, out of the Japanese line of conquest.

The total represents 12 American kills, including a light cruiser and two destroyers, and five British, including one destroyer, announced respectively in Washington and London.

The American coups brought to 695 the number of Japanese ships sunk, probably sunk, or damaged by United States submarines including 69 warships.

Large Tanker Sunk.

Aside from combat vessels, the lists included:

Sunk by American subs—one large tanker, two medium size cargo transports, five medium size cargo vessels, one large naval auxiliary.

By British subs—four large supply ships, two more smaller, and the fourth not described.

The United States navy, in line with policy gave no details, but the British were more communicative. The British-sunk destroyer went down south of the Andaman islands in the Indian ocean while escorting a supply ship, which also was torpedoed. Another supply vessel, strongly escorted, was sunk in the same area.

Sub Bombards Island.

In Malacca strait between Malaya and Sumatra the British reported destruction of a medium sized vessel with a deck cargo of motor transport, and two smaller ships.

Two supply ships and an escort vessel were damaged in addition to the actual sinkings, the British reported, and one of the submarines bombarded military installations at Port Blair in the Andaman Islands, hitting a small escort ship and escaping undamaged after a duel with shore batteries.

Grand Total Is 2,224.

American attacks by means other than submarines build up an overall figure of 2,224 Japanese ships, including 609 combatant vessels, sunk, probably sunk, or damaged. A breakdown shows this enemy loss:

By submarines—combatant ships, 45 sunk; 10 probably sunk; 14 damaged, total 69. Noncombatant ships, 499 sunk, 26 probably sunk, 101 damaged, total 626—grand total 695.

Unofficial tabulation of damage from all causes—combatant vessels, 267 sunk; 30 probably sunk; 312 damaged, total 609. Noncombatant, 952 sunk, 83 probably sunk, 580 damaged, total 1,615. Grand total 2,224.

The few soldiers who get out of line simply are required to work a little more.

PREDICT DEMAND ON PORTUGAL TO STOP HITLER AID

Nation Last Major Source of Tungsten Supply.

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Stiff British-American pressure upon Portugal to halt wolfram [tungsten] shipments to Germany—the reich's last major source of supply of the steel hardening ore—today was regarded as a certain aftermath of Spain's agreement to cut exports to a trickle.

Some degree of heat already may have been turned on by the allies' economic warfare experts in Portugal's direction in the belief that the enemy was near the bottom of his stockpile. There also may be a belief that the war could be shortened on the theory that tungsten and steel starvation will prevent replacement or construction of new war material.

Followed Steps Closely.

Portugal has been following the Spanish negotiations closely. There is strong likelihood that she now will realize that Secretary of State Hull meant business when he said recently that the allies no longer would tolerate neutrals doing business with the axis at the risk of the lives of those in the allied military services.

Just how much tungsten Portugal has been exporting is uncertain. However, it has been confirmed in responsible American quarters that the amount has been greater than that shipped to Germany by Spain. Thus Portugal's exports are greater than 1,200 tons a year, and possibly are in the vicinity of 2,000.

Details of Deal with Spain.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The allies have lifted the embargo on oil shipments to Spain in exchange for a nine-tenths cut in that country's sales of tungsten to Germany.

The United States and Britain have agreed with Spain that the Nazis may obtain not more than 20 tons of Spanish tungsten for each of the next two months, and not more than 40 tons monthly the rest of this year "if as a practical matter shipments can be made." This is about one-tenth of what the Nazis expected to get, officials said.

Lifting of the allied oil embargo permits shipments to be resumed under the former quota arrangement, with strict supervision to see that none of the petroleum goes to the Nazis.

Sought Flat Embargo.

While officials said this government wanted to hold out for a flat embargo on tungsten for Germany, such as Spain imposed during the three months of negotiations, the continuation of shipments in token amounts was approved at "the urgent request" of the British who receive important war materials from Spain.

Aside from the desire to withhold every possible ounce of strategic supplies from the Nazis, the United States was anxious for an embargo so that large sums of money previously used to outbid the Nazis for Spanish tungsten could be diverted to other allied efforts to win the war.

The agreement with Spain also provides that axis agents designated by the allies are to be ousted from Spain, Spanish Morocco, and Tangier; the German consulate and other axis agencies in Tangier are to be closed; five of seven Italian merchant ships interned by Spain are to be released immediately; the question of what to do with two other merchant vessels and Italian warships now in Spanish waters is to be arbitrated. The agreement states furthermore that all Spanish forces have been withdrawn from the Russian front.

List Chicago Bombardier Missing in Pacific Area

Mr. and Mrs. William C. Rodgers, 2454 North av., were notified by the war department yesterday that their son, Lt. William J. Rodgers, 26, an army bombardier, is missing in action in the South Pacific. Lt. Rodgers, a chemist in civil life, had been in the army more than two years. He was a graduate of Roosevelt High school. The Rodgerses have a second son, Reuben, 22, who is in the navy.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY MARYON ZYLSTRA

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by David Deutsch, 129 S. 2d st., Brooklyn, N. Y.]

THE QUESTION.

What interested you most on your first trip to Chicago?

WHERE ASKED.

Lincoln park, Chicago Historical Society museum.

THE ANSWERS.

Bernard Baker, 12, Goshen, Ind.—A group of us won this trip to Chicago for selling war bonds and I could hardly wait to ride on the subway. We rode from one end to the other, then came back on an elevated train and took rides on a street car and a bus. I'd never been on any of them before and I really enjoyed it.

Norma Cripe, 11, Goshen, Ind.—There were so many beautiful things to see I could not begin to say what interested me the most. I've never been in a big city like this before. I like the tall buildings and the pretty parks and I've never seen so many people at one time before in my life. I wish we could stay longer.

Phyllis Schieber, 13, Goshen, Ind.—We were so excited when we left home this morning we couldn't eat breakfast. When we got here we had doughnuts and hot chocolate. We saw a bank on La Salle street that had over a billion dollars. The Board of Trade building was interesting and I wish we could have gone to the top of it.

Bob Buyler, 12, Goshen, Ind.—In our town we don't have any buildings over three or four stories high. My biggest thrill was eating lunch in the tearoom on the top of a big hotel overlooking Lincoln park. Another thing I liked was North av. beach. The bathhouse looks like a great big ocean liner.

Betty Kauffman, 14, Goshen, Ind.—I think the conservatory in Lincoln park was the most beautiful thing I saw in Chicago. There were some flowers called ladies' pocketbooks I'd never even heard of before. We have flower gardens at home, but no one has anything to compare with the flowers in the conservatory.

SOVIET PLANES SINK 5 VESSELS FLEEING CRIMEA

LONDON, May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Soviet Black sea naval planes bombed and sank five enemy vessels fleeing toward Romania from the Crimea, a midnight Russian war bulletin said. On the land front minor engagements were fought south of Tiraspol, along the lower Dnestr river where the Russians have established bridgeheads. Four hundred axis troops were slain in that area. A German counter-attack southeast of Stanislawow in former Poland was reported beaten off.

Soviet bombers attacking the big rail junction of Lwow in old Poland Monday night destroyed six troop and ammunition trains and several warehouses and left 30 big fires, Moscow announced.

Not one plane was lost in the attack on Lwow, one of the largest rail hubs in Europe and the bastion of German defenses in lower Poland, said the bulletin, recorded here by the soviet radio monitor. [Germany reported another soviet raid on Lwow Tuesday night.]

Berlin reported Russian attacks at the extreme northern and southern ends of the front, in the Murmansk sector above the Arctic circle and around besieged Sevastopol in the Crimea. Other Red army attacks were declared repulsed on both sides of Vitebsk in White Russia, southwest of Kowel, between the Dnestr river and the Carpathian mountains in Poland, and north of Iasi in Romania. Axis gains were claimed in the lower Polish area southeast of Sanislawow.

100 Carriers for Pacific This Year, Says Admiral

College Station, Tex., May 2 (AP).—Rear Admiral Andrew C. He described the American Pacific fleet as the greatest the seas ever had produced.

JAPS HIT BRITISH NEAR IMPHAL; BIG ATTACK DUE

SOUTHEAST ASIA HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, May 2 (AP).—Japanese forces are attacking strongly in the Palel area, 28 miles south of Imphal in India, it was disclosed today, amid indications that the enemy was about to launch his expected mass assault on the big allied base from that direction.

A bulletin issued by Adm. Mountbatten's headquarters said a Japanese attack on Palel's defenses Sunday was beaten off, but added that patrol clashes were raging in the hills north of Palel. A road runs from Palel to Imphal, passing east of Lake Loktak.

[A Tokio dispatch said 12,000 allied troops had begun a "wholesale, confused retreat" from Palel and that the main fighting now centers around a point nine miles north of Palel, or 19 miles from Imphal. The broadcast claimed that 72 allied planes, mostly transports, had been destroyed over the Imphal plain in the last two weeks.]

Chindits Kill 1,000 Japs.

Allied leaders in this theater, including Mountbatten, have given repeated assurance that Imphal is in no danger of falling to the Japanese.

From the Burma interior, 150 miles east of the India theater, came an announcement that allied airborne troops had killed at least 1,000 Japanese in repulsing a three day attack on an allied road block 65 miles southwest of Moguang.

It was the enemy's fourth costly try at wiping out the "Chindit" force that cut the Mandalay-Myitkyina railroad—main Japanese supply line between northern and southern Burma—at a point near Mawlu. Col. Philip Cochran's air force again played a big part in repelling the enemy's charges.

Stilwell Takes Point.

An allied bulletin indicated that Lt. Gen. Stilwell's Chinese-American forces, supported by medium tanks, continued to make steady progress in northern Burma, capturing an enemy strong point south of Warazup and seizing large quantities of munitions.

In discussing the fighting about Kohima, allied base 60 miles north of Imphal, an allied spokesman dispelled some confusion by explaining that the Japanese had held both Kohima village and Kohima Bazaar for some time, but that they had not penetrated the boxlike defenses of the main town. The native village and the bazaar are about a mile from Kohima town. Today's bulletin said there was no change in the Kohima situation.

WE'RE SWINGING TILL WE GET WHERE WE'RE GOING—STILWELL

NEW DELHI, India, May 2 (AP).—Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, commander of American and Chinese forces in northern Burma, issued a confident statement today in which he promised that "we'll be in here swinging until we get to where we're going."

The statement came from his headquarters in the Mogaung valley, where his forces have reconquered 7,500 square miles and killed more than 7,000 Japanese. Two years ago this week Stilwell began his dismal walking retreat out of Burma, and pledged himself to find out what was wrong and return.

"We are sawing wood and learning," he said today, "and meanwhile stretching our shoestring as far as it will go. We haven't much to boast about—the Japs ran us out a damn sight faster than we're going back. It's a long road yet with a lot of hard work. We've come far enough, tho, to know that we are right about some things. We know the Chinese soldier can take the Jap if he has a decent chance, and as for the Americans—you know how you feel about your own people."

REPORTERS RIP CENSORSHIP OF NEWS ON GREECE

CAIRO, Egypt, May 2 (AP).—Correspondents accredited to the middle east command today expressed their "collective dissatisfaction" with censorship of Greek news.

In a memorandum filed with allied authorities they said the correspondents felt they were "in danger of being used by authorities as mouthpieces for official views and propaganda."

WE MUST FREE SUBJECTS SEIZED BY JAPS—BRITAIN

BY ROBERT CROMIE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 2.—An exhibition of posters, photographs, and show cards intended to remind Londoners that Britain's war job will not be finished when Germany falls opened today under the auspices of the ministry of information.

It is called "Our Far Eastern Task," and points out Japan's power, her present far-flung holdings, and her determination not to relinquish her gains without a struggle.

The posters show Japan's war factories, the Pearl Harbor bombing, and newspaper headlines recalling the surrender of Singapore, Rangoon, and Hongkong.

The public is reminded: "One hundred and forty thousand of our fellow subjects are in Jap prison camps. To free them is our urgent duty.

"There is a long way to go. Germany hoped we would not fight. We did. Japan hopes we will get tired. We won't."

WARING OFFERED A POST TO AID IN DEMOBILIZATION

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The army announced today that Roane Waring of Memphis, Tenn., former national commander of the American Legion, has been asked to accept a post as special consultant to Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, commanding the army service forces, on demobilization personnel problems.

Waring would give particular attention to problems concerning wounded soldiers, including hospitalization, reconditioning and rehabilitation programs and personal affairs.

He said he would give the appointment "considerable thought" before deciding.

JAPS SCORE GAIN IN BATTLE DOWN PEIPING RAIL LINE

CHUNGKING, China, May 2 (AP).—Chinese warplanes, supporting ground troops battling three Japanese columns driving down the Peiping-Hankow railroad, attacked enemy air fields in southern Shansi and northern Honan provinces yesterday, the high command announced today.

More than 800 Jap troops were said to have been killed, against 300 Chinese casualties, in the fight for Mihsien, in north central Honan.

One Jap column was reported to have reached the gates of Hsuchang, Honan province city, and fighting has been raging in the area since Sunday, a war report said.

A second column reënforced with tanks and armored cars broke thru a Chinese encirclement ring six miles southeast of Hsuchang, the high command said, while a third enemy force operating about eight miles northwest of Hsuchang has been reënforced and progressed to within three miles of Fancheng.

In eastern Honan, Chinese troops, beginning "a large scale mobile warfare," have recaptured Yushih city, it was announced.

The high command said Jap forces which had occupied Yingshang, in Anhwei province, were continuing to advance but had been engaged northwest of the town.

MANSHIP NAMED AS U. S. CENSOR CHIEF IN LONDON

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Charles P. Manship Sr., Louisiana newspaper publisher and past president of the Southern Newspaper Publishers' association, was appointed London director of the office of censorship today.

Manship, 62, was born in Mississippi. He is president of the Capital City Press, which publishes the Baton Rouge, La., Advocate and the Baton Rouge State-Times, and owner of two radio stations.

Director Byron Price announced Manship will take up his duties in London within the next month. He succeeds John S. Knight of the Knight newspapers.

BOMB NAZI RAIL FEEDER LINES TO ATLANTIC WALL

Traffic Hubs Hit at Rate of One an Hour.

LONDON, May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP). — Sky-filling allied armadas spearheaded by hundreds of United States Liberator bombers hammered German invasion coast defenses and rail feeder lines from dawn to dusk yesterday. They hurled explosives at a two-ton-per-minute clip and smashed key junctions at the rate of one an hour. They went almost unchallenged by the Germans.

German radio announcers predicting that the big allied land invasion was "imminent" came on the air just before midnight to shout: "Attention! Attention! Enemy intruders entering western Germany." This signified that giant R. A. F. night bombers were carrying the pre-invasion onslaught into the 19th straight day.

Hit 35 Rail Junctions.

Allied sorties daily were running into the 2,000 and 3,000 brackets, and presumably yesterday's attacks would approximate those of the days before. These onslaughts now include mass dive bombing at low level with little interference.

Since May day dawn American and allied airmen have blasted more than 35 rail junctions and other key targets supplying the German Atlantic wall barricades.

Yesterday 500 American Liberators and fighters from Britain flew across a foggy channel and unloaded a powerful freight of explosives on the Pas-de-Calais area.

Thunderbolt fighter bombers and fighters hit the French rail junctions of Le Mans, 120 miles southwest of Paris, and Tergnier, between St. Quentin and Soissons in northern France. They and their supporting Mustangs also struck at the rail center of Aulnoye near the Belgian-French frontier.

Raid in Circle Around Lille.

Namur in Belgium, Busigny, Valenciennes, and the industrial village of Blanc-Misseron in northern France also were attacked.

Late yesterday United States Mustang and Thunderbolt fighter bombers attacked rail yards at Charleroi in Belgium, and Somain and Tourcoing in northern France, along with an air field at Peronne without a loss. Most of these attacks were being concentrated in a circle around Lille, ranging 70 miles inland along vital traffic routes to the Calais coast.

During Monday night 1,000 R. A. F. bombers from Britain and Italy dropped more than 2,500 tons of explosives on continental targets.

The United States strategic air force based in Britain and Italy hurled more than 43,500 tons of bombs on Germany and German occupied Europe during April, American headquarters announced. This was a new daylight record.

537 Bombers Lost in April.

American losses were 537 bombers, less than 3 per cent of those used, and 191 fighters, just over 1 per cent of loss.

Operations were carried on thru 23 days and more than 36,000 individual offensive flights were flown, about 20,000 of them by heavy bombers.

A total of 1,282 German planes were destroyed in combat, in addition to heavy damage to the German aircraft industry. United States fighters, corroborated by gun cameras, claimed the destruction of more than 450 German planes on the ground during April.

Attacks were made on 29 aircraft plants, compared with a third of that number in March.

The R. A. F. announced that its bomber command dropped a record 37,960 tons of bombs on Germany and enemy targets during April, 6,720 more tons than in March.

Tons of Bombs

(Story in adjoining column.)

How total weight of American and British bombs dropped on axis controled territory in April, translated into the volume occupied by coal, compares with Tribune Tower. The tower is 456 feet high. The coal volume, representing bomb tonnage, rises to 760 feet.

GERMANS DENT ALLIED LINE IN ANZIO SECTOR

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, May 2 (AP). —The Germans have thrust forward against 5th army positions on the Anzio beachhead and made a slight gain three miles southwest of Carroceto, it was announced today. The enemy attack came while an allied raiding party was stabbing at Cerreto Alto. The results of the latter raid on the extreme right flank of the front were not immediately available.

Enemy shelling also increased in the long dormant Cassino area of the 5th army's main front and strong enemy patrols were driven off in that sector, headquarters said.

The allied tactical air force yesterday attacked enemy rail targets in the Rome area, dumps at Stimigliano, railroad installations on the east and west coasts, and ammunition dumps and gun emplacements in the battle area.

Rome Still Not an 'Open City,' Commons Is Told

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Germany still is using the environs of Rome for military purposes and the British government has made no commitments on requests that the Italian capital be regarded as an open city, the foreign office informed the house of commons today. The statement was in reply to a question by Edgar Granville, Independent.

REPORT 100 NAZI DIVISIONS GUARD WESTERN COAST

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 3 [Wednesday].—The Daily Telegraph's Stockholm correspondent, in the "first detailed and uncensored account" of Nazi military dispositions, today reported that of Germany's 300 operative divisions 100 guard the Atlantic seaboard. Since Germany's divisions now number 11,000 men, he said, the maximum Nazi strength in the west is 1,100,000.

Field Marshal Erwin Rommel, the correspondent said, has switched 50 crack divisions from Russia to meet the threatened allied assault, leaving little more than 1,750,000 men opposing the Red army. In addition, the Germans are said to have nine divisions in northern Finland, and 41 in the Mediterranean.

Disposition of 98 Nazi divisions in western Europe was given by the correspondent as follows: France, 52; Belgium, 14; Holland, 8; Denmark, 6; Norway, 8; Germany, 10. The correspondent attributed his information to "reputable observers" from France and Germany who have visited Sweden.

Foresee Three-Pronged Attack.

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—German military commentators tonight forecast that the allies would spring a three-pronged invasion of Hitler's inner fortress — with Gen. Eisenhower striking from the west simultaneously with the "imminent" renewal of the Russian offensive and opening of a coast to coast drive in Italy.

"Allied troop movements and shifting of materials on the southern [Italian] front indicate the two [5th and 8th] armies intend to launch a fresh attack," said DNB's Karl Pragner in a broadcast recorded here.

Expect Red Drive Soon.

"It is very probable," theorized Lt. Col. Von Olberg in a Berlin broadcast, "that the short lived soviet offensive on the lower Dnestr and in the Iasi [Romania] area has been halted by the express order of Stalin, who wants the great battle in the east, which certainly is imminent, to coincide with the opening of the second front in the west. The German command is firmly convinced that the major soviet offensive will begin soon."

Another commentator said that "strong attacks in the south can also be reckoned with."

Another Nazi military observer said "shipping and troop concentrations on the British south coast indicate it is five minutes to the zero hour" for the expected invasion. He also said "interested" German quarters agree the attack will take place in May.

'NO REPLY,' SAYS GOV. TUGWELL TO DEMAND HE QUIT

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, May 2 (AP).—Gov. Rexford Guy Tugwell said today he did not care to reply to the demand for his resignation made in Washington, D. C., yesterday by Bolivar Pagan, Puerto Rico's resident commissioner in congress.

Pagan declared "Puerto Ricans are almost on the verge of revolution," and called for a reorganization of the island's government.

Similar attacks by Pagan on Tugwell have been printed in Puerto Rican newspapers frequently during the last year.

CHURCHILL BIDS EMPIRE: 'SHOW WE ARE UNITED'

LONDON, May 3 [Wednesday]—(AP).—Prime Minister Churchill, welcoming empire premiers to his residence at 10 Downing st., told them they were here "in the most deadly climax in the conflict of the nations at a time when, altho we need no longer fear defeat, we are making the most intense efforts to compel an early victory."

Churchill's Monday address, made public today, said he did not expect that "in the heat of war we shall reach complete solution of all problems that confront the British empire and vex mankind. But it's high time we got around the table to exchange views and ideas."

Second Reason for Talks.

"There is a second major reason for these conversations," he said. "The commonwealth and the empire now have fighting on their side very powerful allies — the soviet union and the great republic of the United States. It is right that the British empire in its collective aspect should put itself solidly on the map, and make all the watching world realize it stands together, woven into one family of nations, capable of solving our common problems in full loyalty to the supreme cause for which we have drawn the sword and which we shall not cease to pursue until complete victory is won."

Prime Minister John Curtin of Australia told the conference that the "Australian people have been delivered from a mortal peril."

"This has been effected by the gallantry of the Australian and American forces, the ability of the high command, the aid of Britain and the United States, and the war effort of the Australian people," he said.

Grateful to Americans.

"The world-wide nature of the war placed us in the sphere of American strategic responsibility, and we are deeply grateful for the aid of the American people."

Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand said that "there are in the Pacific no problems that cannot be solved by good will and cooperation."

Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King of Canada pictured the Canadian government as being "as anxious as the prime minister of Great Britain and his colleagues to display to the world the solidarity of the commonwealth and the loyalty to the cause for which we fight, and in seeking solution to its many problems."

Calls Group "Torchbearers."

Prime Minister Jan Christiaan Smuts of the Union of South Africa said: "This is a very significant conference held at a great and significant time. In the coming months there will be decided one of the great issues in the history of the world. It was therefore right for us to meet together at this juncture.

"I hope from these deliberations will emerge not only measureless victory for ourselves and the strengthening of ties that have united us, but the furthering of greater human causes for which we have stood. Our group of nations is the torchbearer."

"No Two Opinions in India."

Firoz Khan Noon, India's minister of defense, said: "There are no two opinions in India so far as maintenance of ties with Great Britain and prosecution of the present war are concerned.

"There is no one in India—not even Mr. Gandhi himself—who does not want the united nations to win. And there are no two opinions about maintenance, when the war is won, of India's connection with Great Britain and the other dominions.

"For all time she will stand as an equal and free member of this community of nations and she is gaining in political and economic stature all the time."

★ Hospitalized Service Men Cheered By TELEVISION
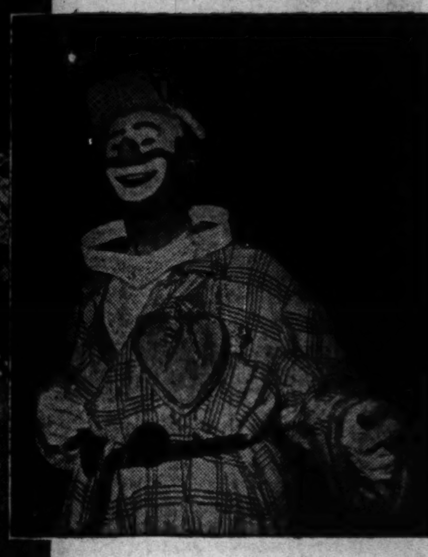
CIRCUS PARTY



They see the fun from their bedsides...
Program also viewed by civilians at home
NONE are more deserving of cheering entertainment than America's service men confined in hospitals. In 7 Army-Navy hospitals of the New York area men are virtually taken from behind walls into the outside world by daily television programs.
It was a high spot for them when, from bedside and wheel chair, they recently watched performers of the great Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus go through their thrilling paces at Madison Square Garden, thanks to the NBC telecast. They were seeing the acts as if from "ringside"... enjoying the glitter, the music and sounds of a show that never fails to fascinate old or young.
Meanwhile, civilians at home in New York, New Jersey and Connecticut were also seeing the television "circus party." It was a treat to many, especially where owners of television sets invited friends and neighbors to see it. (And by the way, if you own a television set, why not invite your friends and neighbors to share in its pleasures, too!)
Every interesting sight in the world—whether it is a circus or a scientific demonstration, a baseball game or a news event—is material for television's "Magic Eye." After the war, more and more of the world's happenings will come under television's gaze as television expands, starting with the "first television market"—New York, Albany-Schenectady, Philadelphia, Chicago and Los Angeles.
The need will be great for sets at prices millions can afford. RCA—cradle of electronic television—will produce such receivers, in addition to the finest of radios and phonographs. Watch for them. And watch for the difference RCA's Super FM circuit will make... virtually static-free sound and a new faithfulness in tone reproduction in your RCA home instrument, whether it be a radio, phonograph or television receiver.

SPITFIRES, TOO, FLY AS BOMBERS FROM CORSICA

Attack; Quickly Resume Role as Fighters.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SOMEWHERE IN CORSICA, April 26 [Delayed].—Revealing the same versatility as other fighter craft recently converted to low level bombers, the famed Spitfires based on Corsica also are being used these days to dive bomb and harass enemy communications.

The Spitfire, credited in many quarters with winning the battle of Britain, carries a 250 pound bomb under each wing. These take the place of extra gasoline tanks which now are unnecessary because of the closeness of Corsica to the Italian mainland.

The Spits, as soon as their bombs are away, immediately assume their old fighting role and are ready and anxious to meet German interceptors.

Sail Into Swarm of Nazis.

This was demonstrated recently when four Spits from Corsica piloted by Americans encountered 50 to 60 German bombers — Heinkel 111s, Dornier 217s, and Junkers 88s —near the Anzio beachhead.

The Spits had started on a mission of their own, but this was too good an opportunity to miss. The pilots notified the control tower, jettisoned their bombs, and sailed into the midst of the Germans. In the next few seconds four Heinkels and two Junkers were destroyed and a Heinkel damaged. The Nazi formations were disrupted, with many bombers dumping their loads and turning back.

Chicagoan Scores 2 Victories.

The American Spit bomber group flying from here is a veteran unit which first battled the Germans over Europe in July, 1942. Transferred to the Mediterranean, it has fought in Tunisia, Sicily, and at Salerno and Anzio.

Among the pilots are Lt. John Anderson, 24, of 6704 Blackstone av., Chicago, who has scored two air victories, and Lt. James A. Adams, Bloomington, Ill., credited with one. Lt. Calvin D. Allen Jr., of Hubbard Woods, Ill., who has been overseas 11 months and on 69 combat missions, has yet to get his first Nazi.

PARENTS CHARGE BABY MIXUP; SUE FOR $500,0000

Los Angeles, Cal., May 2 (AP).—A jury was being selected today to try a $500,000 damage suit brought by a father and a mother who allege the baby they brought home from a hospital was not the one who was born to them.

Mrs. Marry Hardwig charged in the complaint, filed against the South Hover hospital, that attendants told her the baby born April 27, 1943, was a boy. Upon arriving home, she discovered the child was a girl.

Hospital officials deny there was a mixup, and Dr. J. M. Andrews, who delivered the baby, said in a deposition he had made a mistake in the baby's sex when it was born.

Reveals Britain Holds 227 as Dangerous to Security

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, May 2.—Herbert Morrison, minister of home security, announced today that on March 31 227 persons were being held under defense regulations as dangerous to national security. During March he disclosed, 12 detainees were released and one person, a British subject, was placed in detention.

Yanks' Wash Dampens War Effort, Say Britons

LONDON, May 2.—The British admire the cleanliness of our soldiers but it seems to be interfering with Britain's war effort. Our army's weekly wash is now so big that the ministry of supply has asked the United States army whether it cannot do more of its own washing instead of sending it to public laundries here.

100,000 CONVICTS REDEEM SELVES ON WAR FRONTS

Fighting on the war fronts of the world are more than 100,000 ex-convicts, Eugene S. Zemans, executive secretary of the Central Howard association, private post-prison rehabilitation society, said yesterday. He spoke at the 10th annual meeting of the Central States Probation and Parole conference.

Zemans also told the meeting of prosecutors, prison wardens, psychiatrists and other officials that federal penal institutions alone so far in the war have manufactured for the army and navy some 25 million dollars worth of war material. He said state prisons also have produced war goods worth millions of dollars and that thousands of known ex-prisoners are employed in war plants.

"In Chicago alone more than 2,000 firms are employing men who have served prison sentences," he continued. "Illinois prisons have contributed some 2,500 men to the army and navy."

Objector to War Prefers Prison Cell to the Army

Macolm W. Cash, 35, of 1920 Burling st., who described himself as a conscientious objector, was sentenced to three years in prison yesterday by Federal Judge Michael L. Igoe for failure to report for induction last February. When Judge Igoe asked Cash, a floorwalker in a loop department store, if he would rather join the army than go to prison, Cash replied: "No sir, I am opposed to war."

$80 BURGLARY REPORTED.

Max Pollice of 3142 N. Kedzie av. reported to police yesterday that $80 worth of equipment had been stolen from his barber shop at 1130 S. Western av.

CHICAGOAN GRAY FROM WATCHING NAZI FLAK GO BY

Here's Story of Champion Marauder Bombers.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AT A U. S. 9TH AIR FORCE BASE IN ENGLAND, May 2.—On the hard stands of cement around the perimeter of the field they rested like tired war horses. Their bare ribs showed thru where high air speeds had flecked away their war paint. Here and there crew chiefs were repairing damage from anti-aircraft fire.

These were the planes of a B-26 [Marauder] medium bomber group which had flown 168 missions since May 14, 1943, up until late in April—all except two of them since last July 1, when the bombers went back to medium level bombing after disastrous, unescorted, low level raids. They have flown 4,475 sorties, dropping 5,500 tons of bombs.

Handled by Crack Pilots.

Altho the B-26 is not considered too easy to handle, not one has ever been lost on a takeoff or landing. In fact, once when the weather was 10/10ths clouds over the airdrome, 54 Marauders took off in 36 minutes on instruments without mishap.

Now they stood patiently while ground crews groomed them for the day's second mission. For old "Mild and Bitter," however, it meant a full day's rest before she would be ready, the morning raid having peppered her with 10 flak holes.

"'Mild and Bitter,'" said the intelligence officer, Maj. Edgar J. Sauer, San Antonio, Tex., formerly of Kankakee, Ill., "is the pride of our outfit. She leads the pack with 89 missions, and we believe she will be the first American bomber to break 100. She's never lost a man, altho her original crew no longer is with her."

Why Chicagoan Is Gray.

Treading close on her tail for battle honors is "Clark's Little Pill," with 85 missions. Near these two stood another veteran, "Truman Committee," decorated with 10 new flak holes and a cartoon of six plug hatted senators. The Truman committee's disparagement of the B-26 was extremely unpopular with these flyers, who have a record low in losses.

Another in this B-26 group is the "Winnie D." Sgt. Charles S. Walters of 8543 Loomis st., Chicago, is its radio operator and waist gunner. When I saw Walters he was standing beside the plane tossing a piece of flak from hand to hand. A souvenir of his 45th raid, the anti-aircraft slug had pierced the plane just above his head. Walters also pointed to a crop of gray hair which he said had come from watching flak burst around his ship.

Ordinarily in an outfit of veterans like this one, you would find a second lieutenant flying as a co-pilot. But Robert P. Bingham, 714 Aldine av., Chicago, is one of the few first pilots here. The reason is obvious, his pals say. Bingham is good.

THREATEN TAXI HOLIDAYS IN GAS SHORTAGE

Despite increasing demands for taxicab service, Waukegan cab operators said yesterday that restrictions had brought the business to the point where cab holidays might be necessary.

Harold Cameron, vice president of the Waukegan Yellow Cab company, said the gas and mileage allotments made by federal agencies were so low "we will have to get along with fewer cabs." Drivers are harder than ever to get since the council recently passed an ordinance ordering them finger printed, he added.

"There are two things we can do," said Cameron. "Each company can take its cabs off the street one day in the week, a different day for each operator. We also can suspend all service between 3 and 6 a. m. I intend proposing that the companies get together on the matter."

U. S. AND BRITISH TALK ON TRADE MAY OPEN AGAIN

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Hugh Dalton president of the British Board of Trade, told the house of commons today that discussions conducted in the past two years looking toward a British-American commercial agreement probably would be resumed in the future "but no commitment or conclusion has yet been reached."

The statement was made in reply to Emanuel Shinwell, Laborite, who sought assurance "that no agreement would debar this country from concluding separate agreements with the dominion governments."

Dalton said there had been similar discussions with the dominions but that no further developments were expected until conclusion of empire meetings now in progress in London.

Look, Jim. It must be the skipper's wash day.

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

C. M. T. writes: "After 14 months of service in the North Africa and Sicily campaigns, I now find myself in one of our government hospitals without a furlough before entering and none since entering two months ago. I am not alone in this complaint—this hospital is full of men who feel the same way. We were all thoroly examined when we arrived here, yet we are not allowed to see our people unless they come here. We were brought back into the country in the greatest of secrecy as if we are thieves instead of wounded men who have done their duty. Why can't we get furloughs if we are well enough to travel?"

ANSWER: The war department says: "It is a policy of the war department to recondition any patient admitted to army hospitals as rapidly as possible and to restore them to normal health as quickly as possible. Passes, as a general rule, are not given to any patient admitted until they have been in the hospital for at least seven days. That period is for the purpose of making examinations, consultations, and proper diagnosis in order to tell whether or not the patient may be restored to duty or whether he will have to be discharged.

"After the patient has had the necessary clinical examination, he may be given a seven day furlough or leave, plus travel time, provided his physical condition permits travel and provided further his ward officer recommends approval. Upon his return he is required to join the reconditioning class, and it becomes his duty to regain his health as rapidly as possible." The matter seems to rest with your ward officer's recommendations.

L. T. O. writes: "I was carrying quite a lot of civilian insurance when I went into the army. After leaving service, I decided to retain the national service life insurance, but the government has been paying the premiums on my civilian insurance. How long do I have to reclaim this civilian insurance?"

ANSWER: Premiums of private life insurance guaranteed by the government must be paid up within two years after discharge.

H. R. asks: "Does the fact that I signed a statement upon being discharged saying that I did not desire to file application prevent me from filing such a claim now or later?"

ANSWER: No. Any time you wish to file, obtain veteran's administration form 526 at any veterans' administration office, veterans' organization office, etc., and send it in.

R. E. P. writes: "My husband was discharged from the army about two years ago, and he came home with a complete uniform. Since then he has gone back into service and does not seem to have use for it. Is there any place I could send it so that it may be put to use again? It is in very good condition."

ANSWER: If you are sure he doesn't want it, simply bundle it up, take it to the nearest Railway Express office and send it to the Quartermaster of the nearest army post or headquarters.

BENNETT ASKED TO BE 'RETIRED,' GENERAL CLAIMS

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Gen. Thomas Blamey, Australian commander in chief, commenting today upon a statement by Lt. Gen. Gordon Bennett that Blamey had forced him out of the Australian army, said Bennett was placed on the reserve officers' list at his own request.

Upon his retirement from the army yesterday, Bennett, who escaped from Singapore after its capitulation in 1942, issued a statement in Sydney, Australia, in which he said Blamey refused to give him an operational command. The statement said Blamey told Bennett he would not get such a command because he was associated with the failure to hold Malaya and because his "escape from Singapore was ill advised."

Blamey, in London to attend the dominion conference, said:

"I am not prepared to enter into a public controversy over Bennett, who has been placed on the reserve officers' list at his own request. The interview between Bennett and myself, as published in today's London papers, is gravely distorted. It will be noted that Bennett took no action in the matter until I had left Australia for London."

TIRE BLOWS OUT; GIRL, 8, HURT.
Patricia Ann Hartley, 8, was injured yesterday when the rear tire of a truck blew out and the hubcap struck her left leg as she was walking near her home at 7032 South Chicago av. She was taken to Jackson Park hospital.

GAS IN MYSTERY 'SOUVENIR' KILLS GIRL, BURNS TEN

LONDON, May 2 (AP).—Mustard gas burns which developed after handling a mysterious container found on the seashore have caused the death of a young girl and sent 10 other persons to hospitals in South Wales.

The victim, Christine Canton, and her 16 year old brother picked up the container for a "souvenir" last week-end. Her brother, both parents, and a sister now are hospitalized.

Police began an inquiry on why the container happened to be on the shore. Whether it was British or foreign made was not disclosed.

WJJD MUSICIANS IGNORE WLB AND STAY ON STRIKE

Union musicians on strike against radio station WJJD yesterday failed to report for work despite a war labor board order issued in Washington Monday that they return to their jobs immediately. A spokesman for the Chicago Federation of Musicians said no communication had been received from the WLB. James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago union and of the American Federation of Musicians, was unavailable for comment. He was reported to be in the east. Girls were still serving as record turners at WJJD in place of the union men, the station said.

A PACIFIC NURSE TELLS POWER OF PRETTY UNIFORM

Lt. Liesenfelt.

Sunny, warm days in New Caledonia improved the spirits of soldier patients and nurses alike by permitting the American girls to don pretty blue seersucker uniforms instead of khaki slack outfits, 1st Lt. Olive Liesenfelt, an army nurse who served 27 months in the South Pacific, said yesterday in her home at 420 Wilson av., Calumet City. She will join the Gardiner General hospital staff Tuesday.

Lt. Liesenfelt attended the first navy and marine wounded from Guadalcanal and later the army wounded. She also ministered to wounded Jap prisoners, who, sullen at first, became fat and happy when they realized the Americans did not intend to kill them. Her most indelible recollection, she said, was the consuming desire of American wounded to "get back and fight the Japs."

Lt. Liesenfelt, daughter of Mrs. Theresa Liesenfelt, has three brothers in service, all overseas.

ASK INDICTMENT OF 2 AS RAPISTS OF MOTHER OF 4

State's Atty. Joseph Tolson of Kankakee county said yesterday he would ask the grand jury to indict William Downey, 27, and Adolph Ferrero, 28, both of Essex, in Kankakee county, on charges of raping Mrs. Edward Bradbury, 25, of Wilmington, Will county, mother of four children. Mrs. Bradbury said she and her husband met the two men in a Wilmington tavern Sunday night, and later Ferrero attacked her while Downey sat on her husband. She said Downey attempted to attack her. Downey and Ferrero are held in the Kankakee county jail.

Beirut Studies Moves to End Political Rioting

CAIRO, Egypt, May 2.—Increasing of the Beirut police force and the possible creation of a special tribunal to try agitators in Lebanon are among measures taken or being considered by the government there following disturbances last week, a dispatch said today.

Kankakee and Paris Flyers Killed in Tennessee Crash

Nashville, Tenn., May 2 (AP).—Lt. Aaron R. La Reau, 27, Kankakee, Ill.; 2d Lt. Francis R. Stoikowitz, Paris, Ill., and three other army flyers were killed in the crash of a B-24 bomber today, according to authorities at Smyrna army airfield. The crash occurred eight miles northeast of the airfield.

How to Step Up ENERGY

How This Energy-Charged Wonder Bread Can Give You All The Extra Energy You Want

Contains Vitamins of the B Complex and Iron Your Body Needs To Help Get All The Energy Out of It

As you know, energy comes only from the food you eat. Thus, to get more energy—eat more energy food.

To get energy out of food, Nature must have the help of Vitamins $B_1$ and $B_2$ and Iron.

The two vitamins help to oxidize the food in the cells to get the energy out of it. The Iron in your blood acts to bring the oxygen to the cells.

Study the chart. Then eat the extra number of slices of energy-charged Wonder Bread every day to get the extra amount of energy you want.

GET VITAMINS, IRON

When you eat energy-charged Wonder Bread you know it contains Vitamins $B_1$ and $B_2$ and Iron which you know are necessary to help Nature transform it into energy properly.

And only Wonder Bread is sold under $1,000 guarantee of continual tests of Vitamin $B_1$ content.

Only WONDER BREAD Makes This $1,000 Vitamin $B_1$ Guarantee

Regular laboratory tests of typical loaves of Wonder White Bread show an average Vitamin $B_1$ content substantially in excess of the minimum requirements as recommended for bread by the Federal Food and Drug Administration.

We will pay $1,000 to any charitable organization named by the citizen of the United States first to disprove the above statement.

Continental Baking Co., Inc.

DOUBLY FRESH

In addition, energy-charged Wonder Bread is doubly fresh—fresh when you buy it, fresh when you eat it.

Because Wonder Bread is slo-baked—13% longer than many ordinary kinds for lasting freshness.

For extra energy, eat extra slices of energy-charged Wonder Bread every day. Serve your husband and children extra Wonder Bread, too.

Get Wonder Bread fresh from your grocer today. You'll be glad you did.

THIS CHART SHOWS YOU HOW MUCH MORE ENERGY EXTRA WONDER BREAD DAILY CAN GIVE YOU

"Sure glad I've got a FORD!"

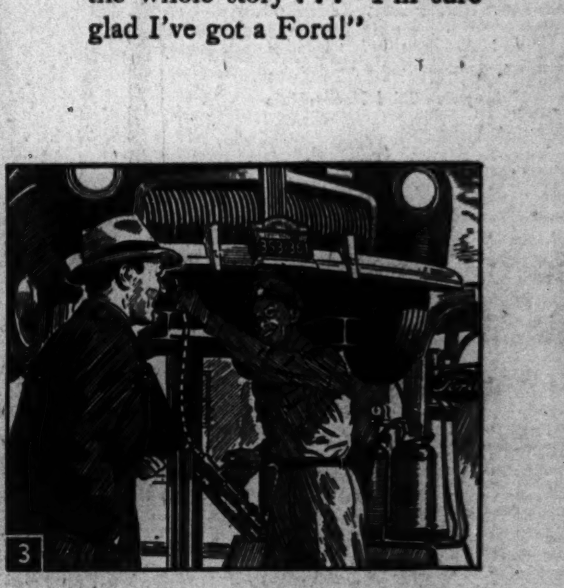
Says RICHARD DEVENS, Evanston, Illinois

Reliability and economy in motoring are familiar to millions of Ford owners. Their satisfaction in the performance, stamina and fine appearance of their Ford cars is expressed, time after time, in these simple words that tell the whole story . . . "I'm sure glad I've got a Ford!"

"I VISIT OVER 65 CONCERNS in Illinois, Iowa and Indiana. My firm supplies vital products for gas masks, tarpaulins, lifeboat equipment and other war goods. Many plants I can reach only by car. My Ford is certainly easy on gas and tires."

"THERE'S LITTLE REST for our car. Week-ends, my wife uses it in her work for Thrift House which collects and sells garments and other articles for local charities. She's really sold on a Ford. And it's mighty kind to the pocketbook!"



"WE TAKE GOOD CARE OF OUR CAR, because the car means so much to us. Regular washing and lubrication, and Protective Service by our Ford dealer, keep the car in good condition. We take a lot of pride in the appearance of our Ford."

NEWS NOTES—The Rouge plant of Ford produces and uses enough high-pressure steam to heat 350,000 homes—saves 25,000 gallons of fuel oil per day by burning coal tar. Ford's giant plant capacity is totally devoted to hastening the day of Victory.

REPORT PRIEST ON RED MISSION IS SENT BY F. D. R.

Activity Abroad Called Betrayal of Poland.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—A suggestion made by Josef Stalin to President Roosevelt at the Teheran conference brought about the much criticized mission to Moscow of a Roman Catholic priest of Polish descent, according to a report which reached here today from a credible and well informed source.

Rep. Lesinski.

The chorus of resentment against the Kremlin visit of the Rev. Stanislaus Orlemanski of Springfield, Mass., reached a crescendo in a house floor speech today of Rep. Lesinski [D., Mich.], who likened the priest to Judas Iscariot and called for the unfrocking of "this traitor of his church."

The incident promises to become a sizzling political issue among voters of Polish descent, the majority of whom have supported the New Deal administration.

Seen as Propaganda Agent.

Already irate at the failure of Mr. Roosevelt to make the Atlantic Charter apply to Russia's post-war boundary plans, they are up in arms at the apparent use of the Rev. Orlemanski as a propaganda agent for Stalin.

The report that Stalin asked the President at Teheran, Iran, to facilitate the visit of a Roman Catholic Polish-American with communistic sympathies to smooth over his troubles with the Poles and Catholics alike was given support in the fact that the state department first opposed issuance of a passport to the Rev. Orlemanski but that "pressure from higher up" broke down its resistance.

Assails Prof. Lange.

Rep. Lesinski noted that the Rev. Orlemanski had been accompanied by Oscar Lange whom he identified as a professor at the University of Chicago who became an American citizen only a year ago.

"Lange is a self-appointed, one-man representative of the Americans of Polish extraction and is attempting to sell Communist Russia to Poland so that Poland would then become a republic—but within the boundaries of Russia," he said. "It seems that he is in favor of giving away a greater portion of present Poland as a gift. I say that only a rat or a Quisling would sell his own mother country to the hated Communist.

"Rev. Orlemanski, a Catholic priest, American born, of Polish parentage, has made this trip with Prof. Lange without his bishop's consent.

Compared to Judas.

'Remembering Judas Iscariot who betrayed his Lord for thirty pieces of silver, I can't help wondering what price this priest is asking to betray the land of his forefathers, his church, and the loyal Americans of Polish descent.

"I am wondering too why the state department has issued visas which permitted the transportation of these two 'representatives'

Rep. Lesinski put into the record a denunciation of Rev. Orlemanski issued Sunday night by Msgr. Michael J. Ready, general secretary of the National Catholic Welfare conference.

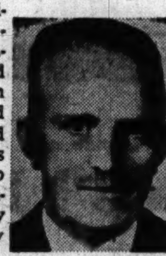
Charges Russia Fills Poland with Propaganda Against U.S.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—An accusation that the soviets are spreading anti-American and anti-British propaganda in Poland thru fake Polish underground newspapers and radio stations was read into the Congressional Record today by Rep. Busbey [R., Ill.].



Rep. Busbey.

The charge was made in an article in the current issue of The Sign, national Catholic magazine, by Ann Su Cardwell. Rep. Busbey explained that Ann Su Cardwell is the maiden name of Margert Super, an American Warsaw correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor, and wife of Paul Super, also an American and head of the Y. M. C. A. in Poland. The Supers, who are now in America, lived in Poland 19 years.

"The article, entitled "Soviet Activity in Poland," is based on first hand information and reports from friends who have escaped from Poland or smuggled messages out, Busbey said. He hailed the article as giving the most accurate picture of occupied Poland today from unbiased, American observers.

Told to Beware of U. S.

"They [Russian agents] are everywhere spreading anti-British and anti-American propaganda," the article said. "The Poles are told that they must beware of what the British and Americans tell them, that salvation will never come to Poland from the 'capitalist' countries, that there is no hope for Poland except from the U. S. S. R.

"This is nothing new. Authentic reports of such propaganda, carried on in both eastern Europe and the U. S. S. R., have been coming out ever since the war began. Such propaganda was entirely unaffected by the German attack on Russia which made the latter one of the 'democratic' countries lined up with the 'capitalists.'"

Mrs. Super wrote that the so-called partisan groups, which are opposed to the Polish government in exile and favorable to Russia, are not Poles but integral parts of the Red army who were left behind when the Germans invaded Russia. These units have been augmented by Red soldiers dropped by parachute.

The Partisans, according to Mrs. Super, have carried on enforced recruiting among Poles, in some cases shooting those who refuse and in other cases hiding their Communist affiliation until the recruit is signed up and unable to escape.

"Many of these Partisan units wear Polish colors and the Polish emblem, the white eagle," the article stated. "Some say they are detachments of Gen. Berling's army, 'Gen.' Berling being the commander of the Polish divisions organized under compulsion in the U. S. S. R. by the 'Polish Patriots.'

"The Partisans are splendidly armed and equipped. . . . These bands do not seek to engage the Germans. Quite the contrary, they raid and pillage the homes of the Polish countryfolk, whether manor house or cottage, the homes of the intellectual classes and of the clergy. They burn stores of grain and stacks of hay, altho they know—or because they know—that increases the danger of starvation for the Poles."

STEALS CHECK, PLEADS GUILTY.

Edward Levy, 25, Negro, of 4526 Cottage Grove av., was sentenced to six months' imprisonment yesterday when he pleaded guilty before Federal Judge William J. Campbell to a charge of stealing a government check from a hall mail box.

CIO'S POLITICAL GROUP RECEIVES 2D WHITEWASH

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—A justice department spokesman informed the senate's campaign expenditures committee today that the department had found "no evidence whatever" of any violation by the CIO political action committee of federal statutes covering election contributions by labor organizations.

The report was submitted to the committee by James P. McGranery, assistant to Atty. Gen. Biddle, but a Republican committee member, Sen. Ferguson of Michigan, promptly commented:

"It might be added that so far there have been no campaigns going on for which the CIO's funds might be used. Whether the law is violated will depend upon the facts as they develop later."

Report 2 Million Sought.

Ferguson, at whose request McGranery and Assistant Atty. Gen. Maynard E. Smith were called before the committee, said he referred to the manner in which the CIO group might spend the fund it had been raising for campaign purposes. The Dies committee of the house recently asserted the CIO committee was seeking to raise 2 million dollars.

Sen. Green [D., R. I.], who heads the campaign expenditures committee, told reporters McGranery reported that the justice department "concluded that if the CIO committee stayed within its stated purposes it would not be in violation."

He said that as he understood it, the Hillman CIO committee would not contribute to individual candidates, but would use its campaign fund for "educational purposes—to campaign for issues rather than for individuals."

Whitewashed by Biddle.

Ferguson called the session, he said, to learn "the facts" behind Biddle's recent opinion that activities of the CIO group are not in violation of the corrupt practices act. Biddle had rejected a request by Rep. Smith [D., Va.], co-author of the war labor disputes act, that he seek an indictment against the CIO group.

In asking for the prosecution, Smith charged that the committee, by raising an initial fund of $700,000 from CIO unions for campaign purposes, was seeking to "influence if not control" the national elections this fall.

A Dies committee investigator announced last night he had served upon Sidney Hillman at Atlantic City, N. J., a subpoena calling for submission of the CIO committee's financial records by May 8. Hillman earlier had asserted such a demand would be refused.

Doctor to Be Arraigned Today on Morals Charge

Dr. Mark Schapiro, 30, of 5121 Drexel av., was arrested yesterday by Hyde Park police on a morals charge involving a boy, 15. Police said several other boys identified the physician during a special show-up. Dr. Schapiro will be arraigned today in the Court of Domestic Relations on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

In Britain a Week, Yank Flies on 5 Raids in 4 Days

A U. S. AIR BASE IN BRITAIN, May 2 (AP).—Sgt. Denis Brookshier of Sentinel, Okla., has spent seven days in Britain and has flown five missions as a Liberator bomber engineer and gunner. Already he has his air medal and he has been to Berlin. Actually, Brookshier did not start work until three days after his arrival from the United States. He was assigned to a bomber and compressed his five missions into four days, flying twice on the seventh day.

RAILS AWAITING WOUNDED AFTER INVASION BEGINS

Ordinary Traveler May Find Self Stranded.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—When the invasion of Europe starts and the wounded begin returning to the United States, every transportation facility will be at their disposal and the unessential traveler who finds himself stranded will have only himself to blame, Col. J. Monroe Johnson, director of the office of defense transportation, said today in a statement issued by the office of war information.

"We don't know when or where the invasion will start or what the cost will be, but we do know that our men will be assaulting the strongest defenses that German military ability can devise," Johnson said.

"When the landing barges nose onto the shores of Europe and our men fight thru the enemy defenses, the casualties must be immediately evacuated and dispatched to America. There will be no room or safety for the disabled on the strife torn beachheads."

Heavy Military Needs.

Johnson said that organized troop movements already are absorbing more than half of all available sleeping cars and more than a third of the day coaches. When the wounded begin arriving in hospital ships, he warned, every sleeping car that is needed will be used.

"The transportation system must be free to respond to any demands that the occasion may make upon it," he said. "Any unessential traveler who gets caugnt in the invasion traffic will have only himself to blame if he is indefinitely stranded, or finds his reservations summarily canceled."

Warn of Inconveniences.

Johnson said that self-imposed travel restrictions have enabled the country to get along for two years of war without imposing travel priorities and that he hoped the record can be maintained.

For those who must travel, the ODT advised: Don't count on return reservations being available; be prepared to wait long hours in stations; be ready to stand in coaches and buses; carry your own lunch or be prepared for long waits for dining car service or no service at all.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Appointed

James D. Marnane of 5141 Wilson av., a retired building contractor, was appointed a member of the Cook county civil service commission yesterday, Clayton F. Smith, president of the county board of commissioners, announced. Marnane will fill the unexpired term of William P. Haberkorn, who died two weeks ago. The term will end the first Monday in December, 1945.

HIGHWOOD ARMY FLYER REPORTED MISSING IN RAID

Staff Sgt. Frank Spano, 20, a gunner aboard a Flying Fortress, has been missing in action since a raid over Germany April 11, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Spano, 231 North av., Highwood, were notified yesterday. Spano participated in the first all-American raid over Berlin in March.

FORECASTS HUGE RISING IN FRANCE TO AID INVASION

The extent and effectiveness of the help the European underground will give to the allied armies when the day of invasion comes will constitute one of the biggest surprises of the war, Louis Dolivet, formerly a gunner in the French air corps, now editor of the Free World association's magazine and a member of the executive committee of France Forever, yesterday told a luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations in the Palmer house.

"The people will rise to assist the allies," he declared. He described the intricate organization of the French underground and the single mindedness of the people in their hatred of the Nazis, and suggested the great damage they could do to the Nazi scheme of defense, which depends largely upon the much vaunted mobility of German armies.

Asked about the status of the German underground, Dolivet pointed out that it was handicapped by the fact that in Germany the vast majority of the people would be hostile toward a conspirator against the regime.

A SIGN OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP

When you see a coal dealer's truck unloading "black diamonds" into the basement of a home this spring and summer, you are looking at a sign of good citizenship. Early coal orders are essential this year to avoid a fuel crisis next winter.

Shortages of manpower at the mines, on the railroads and at the retailers' coal yards will make it impossible to mine and deliver all the coal the nation needs if everybody puts off buying until next winter.

Of course, an individual's coal purchase may not be large, but the total of tonnage that can be delivered to home coal bins is tremendous...enough to make the difference between a warm nation and a coal crisis.

2 Boards Can't Decide on Gas Ration.

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—The story of an Oklahoma farmer who couldn't sow his oats because two local ration boards each contended the other should issue his gasoline ration was related today by Rep. Boren [D., Okla.].

Boren, member of a house subcommittee investigating gasoline rationing practices, told the group the mishap resulted from a dispute between the two boards as to which county the farmer belonged to.

The man, Boren explained, has his farmhouse in Pottawatomie county, while most of his land is in Seminole county. So he applied to the Pottawatomie board for gasoline for his tractor, but was told he should go to the Seminole board. The latter board refused the request, telling him he really belonged to Pottawatomie in the first place.

Keep Passing Buck.

The buck-passing continued for several days, the congressman said, while the farmer, forced to leave his work, used up gasoline shuttling back and forth between the two counties seeking relief.

"By the time he finally got the gas, he had to give up planting 160 acres of oats in the heart of a region where there is an acute feed shortage," Boren said.

The congressman told Shad Polier, chief of OPA gasoline rationing enforcement, that OPA maladministration is forcing honest citizens into technical violations of OPA rules "so they can get on with the war."

Forced Into Violations.

"OPA rulings and misapplications of regulations," he said, "are making violators out of American people who don't want to break any laws but are forced into technical breaches so they can do their jobs."

Rep. Brown [R., O.], another committee member, asked Polier whether Mrs. James Roosevelt, daughter-in-law of the President, has been dealt the same punishment from OPA as many ordinary citizens for her recent conviction for speeding in California.

Many constituents have reported, the congressman said, that OPA has suspended their gasoline rations for exceeding the 35 mile an hour federal limit. Mrs. Roosevelt, he added, was recently fined $10 in a local court for driving 55 miles, but he added, there has been no announcement that her ration has been revoked.

CROWLEY DENIES LUXURIES BEING SENT TO MEXICO

Washington, D. C., May 2 [Special.]—Rep. Bradley [R., Mich.] was "100 per cent in error" in asserting that civilian or commercial aid is included in the lend-lease program for Mexico, Sen. McKellar [D., Tenn.] today informed the senate in reading a letter from Leo T. Crowley, foreign economic administrator.

Crowley's letter said that from March, 1941, to March, 1944, about 1/20th of one per cent of United States lend-lease exports or less than 12 million dollars' worth, went to Mexico. It said more than 65 per cent of that amount went to aircraft and the balance to "tanks, military vehicles, and other munitions."

"No high priced Michigan automobiles, enamel bath tubs, or any other consumer goods are finding their way across the border under lend-lease," Crowley wrote.

Bradley last week told the house that he had been told some Americans are getting rich and living in luxury on fees collected "in exchange for political influence used in obtaining lend-lease funds." Bradley said he was "willing to accept" Crowley's explanation.

MacARTHUR WITHDRAWS.

Gen. MacArthur was never an avowed candidate for the Republican nomination, but until he formally withdrew his name the other day he was in the race. He had received an overwhelming indorsement in the preferential primary in Illinois and a number of delegates from other states were pledged to him. Some of his friends at home were organizing in his behalf and a little money had been raised by them to meet expenses.

In all probability, the full story will not be told for many years, but all the evidence at hand suggests that Mr. Roosevelt brought about the general's withdrawal. Mr. Roosevelt must have recognized in Gen. MacArthur a dangerous, if not an unbeatable opponent. The general is strong where the President is weakest. MacArthur has had an outstanding military record thruout his life and is the only one of the allied generals to have distinguished himself greatly in this war as organizer, as strategist, and as a leader of men. Mr. Roosevelt could not have regarded him otherwise than as a major obstacle to the fourth term.

Just what leverage was used to remove the general from the race is a matter for conjecture. Mr. Roosevelt could have threatened the withholding of support for operations in the Southwest Pacific or he could have promised every resource needed by MacArthur in the campaign to which he is wholly dedicated, and to the success of which he is ready to make any personal sacrifice.

Mr. Roosevelt is now rid of the rival he most feared in the election. It is to be expected that the fourth term candidate will continue his adroit moves which are all calculated to bring about the nomination on the Republican ticket of one or another of the men Mr. Roosevelt feels confident he can beat. It remains to be seen if the Republican delegates and their leaders will fall into the trap.

THE VOICE OF AMERICA.

There was common sense and national self-respect in the recent remarks of Sen. Brooks and Sen. Vandenberg. Mr. Brooks spoke last week at a Republican rally in South Bend, Ind. Mr. Vandenberg on the same day gave an interview to the London Mirror. Both men talked about foreign affairs in a fashion calculated to hearten their countrymen.

These Republican senators have not lost touch with the people and their wishes. Neither Brooks nor Vandenberg has made the mistake, common to many men in public life in this country, of regarding foreign affairs as a subject to be approached with awe, trembling, and a bucket of soft soap. Statesmen who will fight for a month over a patronage job have a way of going soft in the head at the mere mention of foreign policy. They want to give everything away and give it away just as fast as they can. They hanker for dotted lines upon which to sign away the nation's independence, scrap its navy, and export its wealth. This attitude toward foreign relations has become almost an occupational disease among public men in Washington.

Happily, neither Mr. Brooks nor Mr. Vandenberg has succumbed. Mr. Vandenberg has told the British public that the Republicans have no intention of subordinating our country to a world state, and will give first consideration always to American interests and welfare. Mr. Brooks, for his part, emphasized the determination of the American people to win the war as rapidly as possible, with a view to bringing our victorious armies home at the earliest moment. Americans, he said, do not approve the squandering of our men and our natural resources for the aggrandizement of the Russian and British empires.

This is the authentic voice of America and we hope that it is given its due weight overseas. More especially, we hope that it will be heard and heeded in the Republican convention. There can be no doubt that if the issue is put before the voters in clean-cut fashion in November, they will indorse the views expressed by Mr. Vandenberg and Mr. Brooks. The great danger is that the convention will be swept by the giveaway disease and that there will be no real opportunity to vote for an American policy.

THE 1887 ADAM.

A friend has sent us a copy of the report of the Charity Organization Society of Chicago for 1887. He found the pamphlet among some old family papers. It is a reassuring document. It shows that nothing much has happened since 1887. To be sure, the name of the society is abbreviated in the report as "the C. O. S.," and today it would be called COS without even a definite article to distinguish it; and the budget in those days was balanced at a modest $10,632.79. Otherwise everything is pretty much as it is now, including the family names in the list of contributors.

Nowadays the place of the C. O. S. is filled in part by such organizations as the United Charities and in larger part by the Council of Social Agencies. The principal business of the C. O. S. was to direct unfortunate people to the agency that was qualified to give them the kind of help they needed. The society sought to prevent needless duplication of effort in philanthropy. It boasted of the card index of its clientele and of relatively low overhead costs. It complained of the difficulty of finding properly qualified case workers. [They were called "friendly visitors"; the change of title is understandable.] It foresaw the need for larger subscriptions in the year ahead.

In only two important respects was the C. O. S. out of tune with the times nearly 60 years later. The organization ran what was called the Provident Wood Yard and this institution made money. Gentlemen who needed supper and a bed and lacked the means to pay for them were invited to saw what was known as a stint. The report showed that 7,308 stints were sawed in the year ending Sept. 29, 1887. Social workers, then as now, were strong on statistics.

"The business that is doing at the Wood Yard is a steady and reasonably profitable one," the report says. "The profits have been used for the relief of distressed men who come to the central office too late in the day to go to the Wood Yard." If any of these late applicants was "not known as a professional beggar or dissolute man" he was "furnished with one or two meals and a lodging and directed to the Wood Yard the next day."

This account suggests that the beneficiaries of all this bounty could be seen happily trooping to perform their stints the next morning, but, as was noted before, nothing much has happened since 1887. As the report puts it:

"We still deplore the need of a Wayfarer's Lodge in connection with the Wood Yard, since very few of the men who are given meals and lodgings at night ever go to the Wood Yard in the morning." It is a great comfort to discover that the old Adam has scarcely changed, and certainly not for the worse.

CONSOLIDATING THE ARMY AND NAVY.

Congress has recently received a volume of persuasive testimony—mostly, it may be noted, from army sources—in favor of consolidating the army and navy in a single department of the government.

One of these proposals would recognize the demand for an independent air corps by setting up three major divisions of the department, for ground, sea, and air forces. A fourth division, for supply of all branches of the service, has also been suggested.

A minor, and silly, part of the proposal is that the consolidated departments be placed under a secretary of the "armed forces." The phrase is an affectation that has crept into use during the present war and it grates on the ear if for no other reason than that it is tautological. Until moral suasion becomes more effective than can be foreseen in the near future, any United States forces may be expected to be armed.

If the consolidation is approved, the new agency should be called the war department, and its head the secretary of war. In adopting these terms congress would be going back to the original organization of our government. When President Washington formed the first cabinet he entrusted both the army and navy to his secretary of war. A separate navy department was not created until 1798.

Armies of that day consisted mostly of infantry and a few small cannon. The gentry appeared in the cavalry and there were engineers to construct fortifications. Transportation, of course, depended upon horses. Seamanship was the primary qualification of the navy and after instruction in handling what for the day was heavy artillery crews could move readily from the merchant fleet to the navy.

Today the army and navy use weapons which, when they are not identical, are similar. There are no sails and virtually no horses, and both services use vast quantities of internal combustion engines. Neither, moreover, can function without air power, and the interservice rivalry over respective jurisdiction in the air has been more bitter than that engendered by the Annapolis-West Point football games.

Not only are their weapons frequently similar, but the amphibious nature of the present war has required the army and navy to operate in the closest coöperation, under unified command of sea and ground forces and of the air components of both services. Despite the best will on the part of the officers concerned, the separation of forces under the jurisdiction of two departments has needlessly complicated joint operations.

It is to be hoped that any consolidation of the army and navy will put an end to much of the interservice jealousy, which has its origin in West Point-Annapolis rivalries. Contrary to much opinion, neither West Point nor Annapolis gives its graduates much specialized training in military or naval technology. That is learned after graduation, in various service schools. There is no reason why the two academies, and other schools which the increased size of the post-war army and navy will make necessary, should not have a uniform curriculum, allowing students to choose their branch of the service upon graduation, and giving them their specialized training later.

MR. WALKER'S ZEAL.

The magazine, Esquire, has sued to enjoin Postmaster General Walker from carrying out his order depriving the magazine of its second class mailing privilege. To this Mr. Walker has replied by saying that the magazine published some dirty stuff. He charges that Esquire "skirted as close to the edge of obscenity as it believed would avoid the loss of its mailing privilege."

But to say that invites the question why Mr. Walker is so concerned about Esquire and so indifferent to the salacious items published in some of the competing magazines? Why doesn't Mr. Walker do something about the obscenities that have appeared in Mr. Henry Luce's magazines? Time, Life, and Fortune have been frequent offenders but they have escaped Mr. Walker's crusading zeal. Why?

The daughter of a former German consul in Cleveland has fled the Nazis and come over to our side. No explanation for her action is given, but the Come-to-Cleveland committee ought to be able to make something of it.—Cleveland [O.] Plain Dealer.

NAMES IN THE NEWS.

Avery: An Early American family name of ancient English origin. It appears on the Hundred Rolls, which were records for tax-collecting purposes made by the conquering Normans in the 12th century. Avery belongs to the large group of family names that come from first or given names, and may be connected with Everard and Every, still in occasional use in England as Christian names. If so, the meaning of the name focuses on "wild boar," an animal which contributed many names to the races of northern Europe.

* * *

There are eight Averys in the last edition of "Who's Who in America," and 58 in the Chicago telephone directory. Among the notable American Averys were Samuel, agricultural chemist and chancellor of the University of Nebraska; Samuel Putnam, art dealer and a founder of the Metropolitan museum, New York, and Henry Ogden, the latter's son, a successful architect. The Avery library of architecture and decorative art at Columbia university commemorates this father and son. The most romantic Avery of historical record was Capt. John, who figures importantly in the lore of piracy. His exploits inspired Defoe's story, "The Life, Adventures, and Piracies of Capt. Singleton."

* * *

MacArthur: The name of an ancient clan of Highlanders, which claims that it is the older branch of the Clan Campbell. A Scotch folk saying ran: "There is nothing older except the hills, MacArthur, and the devil." The clan's power was broken in 1427 when its chief was executed by James I. The principal family of the clan was the MacArthurs of Strachur, from which came John MacArthur, whom Australians call "the father of New South Wales." The clan's crest is two laurel branches; its badge is bog myrtle, and its war cry is "Eisd O' Eisd" [Listen, O, Listen].

* * *

Eicher [judge of the sedition trial]: Possibly this name comes from a German noun which means "gauger."

* * *

Hitler: The family tree, which has traced for five generations of Austrian peasant stock, contains as earlier forms Hiedler and Hütller. Its meaning, if any, is beyond this column's limited knowledge of the German language. Schicklgruber, the name of Hitler's father before his legitimation, might mean, at a guess, "stubborn bargainer."

The Lady Who Asked for It.

Mike, a friendly traffic cop on the north side, had long enjoyed the reputation of never giving a motorist a ticket for a minor traffic violation. Then, one day at the height of the late afternoon rush hour, it happened.

A woman motorist drove up in front of a movie theater on a thru street and stopped between two signs which read, "No Parking at Any Time." A small, browbeaten man got out and dashed into a near-by store.

Five minutes elapsed. Leaving his post, Mike sauntered over to where the car was blocking one lane of traffic. "Pardon me, madam," he began.

"Yes, I know I'm blocking traffic, so what? [breath] there's a war going on and stores won't deliver packages and you cops are all alike [breath] and I'm not going to move . . ."

"But . . ." Mike tried to interrupt. Meanwhile, a crowd of 15 or 20 people gathered.

"There's not enough gas, no tires, and then you cops [breath] want to give me a ticket, well, go ahead, go ahead, GIVE ME A TICKET!"

Mike looked around helplessly for a place to escape, but he was surrounded. Fumbling around in his pockets, he finally located his book. The woman was still talking.

"Go ahead, GIVE ME A TICKET!"

Scribbling in the book, he looked around apologetically at the curious throng and mumbled, "Well, she asked for it." Then, after tossing the ticket on the seat of the car, he beat a hasty retreat around the corner, leaving the offending car and traffic to shift for themselves. Hig.

BAPTISM AT ANZIO.

Here, where death hovers as near as the dawn,
While the arrogant guns dispute our power;
The half truths die as, old standards withdrawn,
Man against man awaits destiny's hour.
Gone now the dream that earth held every prize,
That our own hands' toil sufficed for the day;
And now in our need we turn to the skies
As hearts newly humble learn how to pray.
Father, we join in the prayer that ascends;
Give them assurance, wherever they are,
Heal every fear of the storm that impends
With courage to vision the unchanging star,
As Anzio waters, sweet cleansing as tears,
Wash the scarred shore in the mercy of years.

HERNIA—A WEAKENED ABDOMINAL WALL.

WHAT do we mean by hernia? As a rule, we refer to the protrusion of some part of the viscera outside and beyond its normal habitat. We imply, therefore, that somewhere the wall has given way or that an abnormal opening has developed. In males the most common site is the so-called inguinal canal, which carries the spermatic cord. A bit of bowel may be crowded down along this channel, producing a bulge that may be felt, if not seen.

Why are these defects important? We can understand what may happen when a loop of intestine is squeezed into a tight, narrow conduit. We call it "strangulation" because fecal matter cannot pass along the tube. Furthermore, blood vessels may be shut off and, if the condition is allowed to persist, gangrene [death of the tissue] may ensue.

All hernias are congenital—that is, we are born with the tendency. In some instances, the abdominal structures have failed to close firmly during the process of development. Now and then the anomaly will run in families.

Among the precipitating causes we must think of obesity, in which the lower portion of the abdomen is obliged to sustain more weight than nature intended. In addition, exertion, heavy lifting, or prolonged coughing will place extra strain upon this area. But these are merely factors which aggravate a preexisting condition. The hernia is already present, but it has not become obvious because the descent of the abdominal contents has not become discernible.

There is always the possibility that a blow or a laceration will allow the bowel to protrude but such episodes are uncommon. Only in cases of this sort can the situation be considered as the direct result of injury. Furthermore, the acute symptoms which present themselves—nausea and vomiting—will be severe. Then there will be no doubt about what has happened. The descent of the gut will be immediate. It will not make its appearance a month or two later. There is no variation in the opinion of experts that hernias due to accidents are extremely rare. But we do have them and we must confront the problem for the sake of the victim who wants to be able to earn his daily bread.

If, in the course of a physical checkup, it is learned that weakness of this type exists, the wisest thing to do is to insist that the sufferer wear a well fitting truss. This will prevent the lesion from enlarging and the tissues from stretching. Sometimes actual cure will ensue inasmuch as pressure may be sufficient to cement the parts together.

Those that are sizable, however, will require surgery and here the greatest skill will be demanded. The operation is not one that should be performed by a novice, otherwise recurrence is likely.

Let us assume that careful repair has been accomplished. After the patient is up and about he may be given some form of support, preferably a truss with a flat pad. This will supply added protection and may be worn for a period of two or three months. The apparatus will not be satisfactory, however, unless it holds the contents of the abdomen securely regardless of how much the patient may twist or turn, bend or stoop.

Thousands of patients go thru life without the slightest inkling of trouble. On the other hand, when it appears, diagnosis is not difficult. Neglect spells danger. The fact that the parts can be pushed backward into place may lead to a false sense of security. There may come a time when this maneuver will become impossible. There is then presented a surgical emergency, which multiplies the risk. For the one who dreads operation, a protecting truss is good insurance.

GOOD DEED.

Mrs. R. writes: I have been asked to help some Boy Scouts earn their merit badges. Will you state briefly what to do for a man found in a starving condition?

REPLY.

If he has been deprived of fluid, number one is the cautious administration of teaspoonful doses of hot liquids—for example, normal salt solution. Thereafter, soft edibles may be given gradually—not more than one ounce per hour for several hours. Keep the victim warm.

CONSTRICTED.

O. V. writes: On the first visit to my physician I was quite nervous and my blood pressure registered 130. Two weeks later I was not at all jittery, but the level was 140. Could a new, very tight girdle, worn on the second trip, be responsible for an elevation of 10 points?

REPLY.

Probably not. On the other hand, an annoying type of discomfort may produce higher readings.

RAYNAUD'S DISEASE.

Mrs. F. writes: What causes spasms of the arteries of the hands?

REPLY.

A disturbance of the sympathetic [automatic] nervous system. We do not know what pulls the trigger.

SUN AND FEVER.

O. B. writes: May a sun lamp be used when the temperature is elevated?

REPLY.

Not advised.

In peace the night could wear
An evening gown of blue,
With stars like globes of dew
To glisten in her hair.
And, O, her face was fair;
Around it soft clouds drew
With brush strokes sure and true

Long rapiers of light
Crisscross around her head

The Meanest Thief.

The meanest thief probably is the man who steals flowers from a cemetery grave, but right on his heels must always come the man who steals a dog. Certainly the man who steals a dog is unfit to own a dog, for he has neither heart, soul, nor imagination, and a dog could never mean to him what it means to its most mentally retarded master. It happens all the time, and on April 17 it happened again. The letter telling of it is from a sailor stationed at Great Lakes:

"I am writing in hope of getting your help in the recovery of my dog. It is a small brown Pekinese answering to the name of Lady Au Faun. It was my mother's companion in Colorado, and when mother passed away last September, I brought the dog to Chicago where my father-in-law lives. He has been taking care of her for me until after the war.

"On April 17 he was shopping inside a store near the corner of 53d st. and Ingleside. While in there he left the dog waiting outside. A blue sedan drove up, and a man stepped out quickly, picked up the dog, and drove off.

"The dog is 8 years old and has little value to any one but me."

[Note to the interested: The father-in-law lives at 937 E. 53d st. He has offered a reward for the dog's return.]

Comes Back in Sandwiches.

A genial gentleman of our acquaintance who for years has lived out of tin cans lorded it over all his friends when butter rationing came in. He had 12 tins of canned butter in his larder. Well, time went by, and so did the butter. Last week he went to get his last can and thought it throbbed curiously in his hand. When he punched a hole in the tin, a geyser of odiferous yellow ointment hit his eye. He surveyed it sadly for a while and then put all the contents in a pan, where he melted them. He then melted two pounds of lard. He added the melted butter and the melted lard to his hoard of bacon fat, took it all to the grocer, and received eight red points in exchange. With these—and the necessary amount of coin—he bought half a pound of butter.

Horrors of War.

Word comes from a warrior on maneuvers that he expects to be hung at the next propitious sunrise. Several weeks ago his company was on patrol in a section of wilderness. The men knew that officers, posing as enemies, would be attempting to infiltrate their lines, stealthily join their patrols, and try to annihilate or capture them. He saw a jeep drive up ahead of him in a clearing with its lights turned out. He flanked it and came up from behind. Beside the jeep stood a brave, lone figure, evidently trying to observe the actions of our warrior's patrol, which was out in front. Our warrior stalked this enemy with the combined skill and cunning of an Iroquois brave and a World Playhouse soviet guerrilla hero. Finally he thrust his rifle into his back and stage-whispered the challenge. The enemy wheeled about with the defiant roar: "I'm not to be captured!" He was the colonel of the entire regiment.

"And I," writes the warrior, "remembering that discretion was the better part of valor, retired into the darkness, leaving the outraged martinet to sulk in his jeep."

THE CLOVEN HOOFPRINT.

Chicago, April 29.—As a retired teacher of political science in college and state university halls, permit me to express my personal gratification with your editorial, "Force Replaces Law," on the seizure of Ward's retail merchandising establishment here in Chicago. You have said what needs to be said "again and again and again" and broadcast from pole to pole around the world!

This is the culmination of lawless license. I have sometimes felt that your editorial warning smacked more of personal dislike [which I shared] than of actual danger from the streamlined "dictator"; but this event reveals the cloven hoofprint in clear cut imprint; it vindicates your iterated and reiterated warnings against the present regime. More power to you in this cause.

THE VOICE OF PATRICK HENRY.

WRITE YOUR CONGRESSMAN.

Chicago, April 29.—It seems to me that the action taken by President Roosevelt in seizing the Montgomery Ward plant has indicated a new high in his campaign of disregard of the Constitution and the laws passed by the congress of the United States.

If the people of the United States sit back and permit this action to go on unopposed, Mr. Roosevelt will be sure to follow it up with other actions against the constitutionally guarded rights of the people. The people should act and act now by writing their representatives and senators in Washington and letting them know exactly how they feel about this unconstitutional action on the part of the man who has pledged himself to uphold the Constitution.

R. R. ROZEMA.

SAD NEWS FOR THE UNDERGROUND.

Batavia, Ill., April 28.—The underground of the occupied countries is composed of men and women risking their lives to hasten the day when they may return to run their business houses without fear of being thrown into the streets. Uniformed troops evicting an old man from his office is an old familiar sight to most of them.

The Montgomery Ward case must be a very disappointing letdown, not only for them, but for people all over the world, who after years of dictatorial rule, were given hope and courage by a voice purring promises of four freedoms for every one.

MRS. J. THEO. MORTON.

NEW BUSINESS STYLES.

Chicago, May 1.—Since Sewell Avery had the intestinal fortitude to stand up for his constitutional rights and was, in consequence, forcibly and literally carried out on the sidewalk by the United States army, working under orders of the administration, I am wondering what I should wear in the way of clothes. I too am a president of a business concern [tho a small one] and as such am liable to come down to the office most any morning and find myself dragged down the stairs and out in the street. Wouldn't a football suit complete with helmet and knee guards be most practical and useful?

CLARENCE B. ALDRICH.

"U. S. STEAL."

Chicago, April 28.—I wonder if Montgomery Ward & Co., stockholders at their meeting decided that "United States steal" had reached a new low?

H. E. L.

ASKS WARD'S WORKERS TO BACK AVERY.

Pomona, N. Y., April 28.—As a working woman who has got on well with her employers for 40 years [10 of them spent in Chicago], may I express my outraged disapproval of our government's action in taking over Montgomery Ward & Co., apparently to benefit the CIO. I observe that Mr. Avery's directors and stockholders support his stand against this injustice. I suggest that it is a good time for his employes also to support him.

Many working people, among them myself, believe in the union principle, but thoroly disbelieve in unions as at present operated in America. I am eligible to belong to a CIO union, but I would not do so under any coercion. If the majority of Montgomery Ward employes feel that they do not want to be forced to join the CIO group by a government elected to represent the country as a whole, let them now speak and act accordingly.

SARA H. BIRCHALL.

A YOUTH'S QUESTION.

Chicago, April 30.—I am a student in high school and thru all my years of schooling I was always taught that our President was a "servant of the people," and not the master. Now that this Ward's case has been handled as tho this country is a dictatorship, I am beginning to wonder what kind of a country I am going to live in and vote in. If the war keeps up I will probably go into the army, and I will be glad to go, but I don't want to go to fight a war so one man can be a dictator over us all.

JOHN ROBERTS.

SAYS CONGRESS SHOULD DENOUNCE SEIZURE.

Evanston, Ill., April 30.—In my opinion the only way the congress of the United States can escape culpability for the indignities the President heaped upon Sewell Avery and for the unwarranted seizure of Montgomery Ward & Co.'s Chicago properties is for the congress to pass a resolution denouncing the President's action and denying that it had ever conferred such powers on the President.

ARTHUR D. FOYER.

NEW RACKET BUSTER.

Oak Park, Ill., April 28.—Don't look now, Mr. Dewey, but there goes the nation's No. 1 racket buster—Sewell Avery.

M. STANTON.

INHERITING A CAR.

Evanston, Ill., April 21.—[1] Is real estate inherited without court procedure after seven years? [2] What procedure should be taken to get an automobile in heir's name? [3] What is done about the gas ration book?

A. E. W.

1. The real estate is "inherited" as soon as the ancestor dies. The importance of the seven years is that after that period there will be a presumption that the debts have been paid.
2. Write to the secretary of state, Springfield, Ill., for printed forms and instructions.
3. Take the matter up with the ration board.

SENATE REVIVES SCHOOL LUNCHES FOR TWO YEARS

Approved as Temporary War Measure.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—The federally subsidized school lunch program, killed by the house on March 7, was revived by the senate today after its propagandists had been soundly rebuked.

Continuation of the program was voted for two years, subject to house approval and appropriation of approximately 50 million dollars. The senate action was taken in an agriculture department bill, which also made the farm security administration a permanent organization.

No opposition was voiced to the feeding of needy children, but the lunch program was attacked on these grounds; providing free school lunches is not a proper function of the federal government, the program is so administered that free lunches go to those who can afford to pay, and supporters of the plan have drawn a false picture of undernourishment in the schools.

Charges Stirred Up Enthusiasm.

Sen. Taft [R., O.] charged that division chiefs of the department of agriculture have neglected their work to stir up enthusiasm for the project, encouraging persons unacquainted with the facts to flood congress with appeals that the program be saved.

Taft said the program is in no way related to need, since it is actually so administered that rich and poor alike get free lunches, and added that it is undemocratic to try to draw a distinction between those who should pay and those who should not.

"If the federal government is to be called upon to feed school children," he said, "we might as well give every school child a pair of shoes."

Taft accused the department of agriculture of bad faith, asserting that its original authority was to supply surplus foods to the schools.

Says Plan Was to Make Jobs.

Sen. Bushfield [R., S. D.] told the senate school lunches were never intended to relieve a hunger problem.

"They were originally adopted," he said, "to get rid of surplus farm products and hire WPA labor."

Sponsors of the lunches had sought to make them a permanent institution. While opponents voiced no objection to continuing the program as a temporary war measure, they showed no disposition to vote for permanent free lunches. Sen. McFarland [D., Ariz.], author of the amendment restoring the lunches to the house bill, then changed it to provide a two year extension, acknowledging that he felt the amendment would be defeated otherwise.

Day by Day on the Farm.

★ The GARDEN ★

ADDITIONAL plantings were made Saturday in the sample gardens on The Tribune farm, Wheaton. The total plantings Friday and Saturday were 800 row feet of Little Marvel peas, 50 feet of Crimson Giant radishes, 100 feet of Crosby's Egyptian beets, 100 feet of Touchon and Nantes Half-Long carrots, 100 feet of head lettuce, 100 feet of onion sets, 100 feet of onion seed, and 200 row feet of Red Triumph potatoes.

All of the head lettuce was planted from seed, and included equal sections of Bibb, Big Boston, and New York varieties. The onion sets were Golden Globe and White Portugal, and the onion seed was White Portugal and White Globe.

The rain which fell in northern Illinois Sunday was excellent for new seedings made last Friday and Saturday, but Monday's additional precipitation saturated the soil so thoroly that new plantings were further delayed.

The FARM by Ben Markland

May 2, 1944.

ENGLISH starlings, staging a contest with the English sparrows as the most troublesome birds in America, are trying to upset one of the oldest bird traditions of the Fox River farm.

For more than 40 years, flocks of purple grackles have used as their headquarters the row of stately pines on the west side of one of the farm homes. Grackles aren't particularly attractive birds, and their squawking songs certainly couldn't be called melodious, yet for generations they have been a part of the American farm scene. They're graceful flyers, stay close around the houses, and provide action on summer days and evenings.

Bullies Attack Grackles.

Now the bothersome starlings are following their usual tactics of attempting to drive out the native birds. Almost every evening they attack the grackles, trying to chase them away from the roost, with partial success. If the bullying starlings succeed in driving the grackles out of the roost the farm residents may as well say good-by to the bluebirds, flickers, and other native songsters which now nest in the area.

Drive Out Other Birds.

The spread of the English starling across the country, since the original release of 60 birds in New York's Central park in 1890, is a distasteful story to bird fans. The starling is a typical bully, a practitioner of the art of ganging on smaller bird groups. Bluebirds and flickers have been driven out of areas by starlings which take over their natural nesting cavities, and the purple martin also has suffered from similar attacks.

The starling is a pest the year around, in the city as well as the country. Business men in many towns have had the problem of trying to eliminate starling roosts from ledges on store and office buildings, because wherever they congregate they defile the area and bring their raucous squawking. A general realization of the birds' faults may lead to their control.

DE TARNOWSKY'S ATTORNEYS CALL DIVORCE 'FRAUD'

Capt. Alexis de Tarnowsky, thru his attorneys, filed a reply in Circuit court yesterday to the answer made April 20 by Mrs. Alice Rand de Tarnowsky McIntosh, Barrington heiress, to his suit for divorce. Capt. De Tarnowsky is in England with the army engineers.

The "so-called" divorce obtained by Mrs. De Tarnowsky in Mexico last November "was procured by fraud," and her subsequent marriage in Detroit, Mich., to Pvt. Charles L. F. McIntosh "is no marriage whatsoever," said the reply, submitted by Attorneys Joseph H. and Norman Becker.

De Tarnowsky never was served with a summons in the Mexican divorce proceeding and had no notice of it until advised that the decree had been entered, his reply stated.

Denying the charge by his former wife that their separation was his fault, De Tarnowsky charged she refused to live with him and abandoned her home to be with one John Doe.

He denied her claim that she is a fit mother to have custody of their three children.

HEALTH QUIZ

| | YES | NO |
|---|---|---|
| Do you have poor digestion? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you feel headachy after eating? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you get sour or upset easily? | ☐ | ☐ |
| Do you feel tired—listless? | ☐ | ☐ |

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

OWI TELLS WHY BOOK GLORIFIES ROOSEVELT ERA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washintgon, D. C., May 2.—Director Elmer Davis of the office of war information today defended OWI's recently issued "handbook of the United States" which has been denounced in congress as a fourth term and New Deal propaganda organ.

The handbook, which has been distributed overseas for "reference" use and republished by a London concern for general sale in England, was recently attacked by congressmen for allegedly glorifying the Presidency and New Dealers while belittling congress, and for giving more space to 10 years of New Deal history than to all previous events since the discovery of America.

Called Effective Job.

Davis, in a letter read to the house by Rep. Eberharter [D., Pa.], called the book "one of our effective minor jobs" and cited a review by the London Spectator praising its "factual sobriety."

Referring to contentions that the OWI book gave excessive space to chronicling New Deal history, Davis said it is "interesting to note" that the World Almanac in its chronology of world events devoted 14 pages to nearly 6,000 years of history prior to the New Deal, and gave 10 pages to the 1933-'43 period.

As to the charge that congress was snubbed in the publication in favor of the Presidency and New Deal agencies, Davis' letter said, "the Congressional Directory itself devotes not a single line to the functions of the congress and gives nearly 200 pages to a discussion of the functions of executive agencies."

Reference to Women.

The OWI director said critics who contended only two women, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and the late Jane Addams, were mentioned in the OWI effort evidently have not read the book. It mentions many other women, including Emily Dickinson, Willa Cather, Edna Ferber, Zona Gale, Mary Beard, and Clare Booth Luce, he added.

The handbook was not distributed for public inspection in this country, Davis said, because congress by law has forbidden OWI to issue any pamphlets for domestic consumption. In view of this, he asserted, it was unfair for members of congress to charge that OWI suppressed the book at home because it was ashamed of it.

A 20 foot apricot tree is in full bloom in the back yard of W. A. Herbster at 2616 Wilson av. About five years ago the tree started to bear apricots, but usually the squirrels beat the family to the fruit. Herbster, who served 42 years with a loop bank, is retired. He said he believed the tree had grown from an apricot stone dropped in the yard by one of his children 15 to 18 years ago.

INSPECTION is Vital in Stretching Tire Life!

ASSOCIATED TIRE SPECIALISTS OF CHICAGO

Most Motorists Cannot Get Replacements

Even though the government no longer requires regular inspection of passenger car tires, the value of having your tires examined at least twice a year by a member of Associated Tire Specialists is just as great as ever in assuring maximum mileage.

All members are independent tire merchants. They have had long and specialized experience in tire repair and maintenance—as well as in selling nationally-known makes of new tires—which enables them to detect signs of faulty wear and correct the trouble. They often find cuts and bruises which motorists aren't aware of and which would ruin the tires if not repaired promptly. And finally, they can tell whether tires are ready for recapping—a service available to all, without certificate.

So make it a conservation "must" to have your tires inspected regularly by a member of Associated Tire Specialists. Consult him on all tire problems.

CONTEMPT CASE LIKELY TO DELAY SEDITION TRIAL

Hearing on Citation Put Off to Tomorrow.

BY PHILIP WARDEN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Suspension of proceedings in the mass sedition trial for the rest of the week appeared probable today as the trial judge, Chief Justice Edward C. Eicher of the federal court of the District of Columbia, expressed unwillingness to continue until contempt proceedings against a defense attorney in the case may be settled.

James J. Laughlin.

Justice Jennings Bailey of the same court continued until Thursday a hearing on an order of Justice Eicher that Atty. James J. Laughlin of Washington show cause why he should not be held in contempt for what Justice Eicher termed "scandalous, insulting, scurrilous, and contemptuous" attacks on him.

Lawyers Ask Inquiry.

Meanwhile Milton W. King, president of the bar association of the District of Columbia, had before him a petition signed by 26 leading members of the Washington bar requesting a special meeting of the association be called "for the purpose of taking cognizance of the situation and such action as may result from said meeting pertaining to the so-called sedition trial."

While a special meeting of the bar association must be called if 25 members in good standing petition for such a meeting, King said it was learned that a special investigation of the sedition proceedings, as urged by several local attorneys in no way connected with the case, appears unlikely at this time. It is believed the association will oppose investigation of the case while trial is in progress.

Disturbed by Reflections.

Washington attorneys are said to be greatly disturbed by the unfavorable reflection cast upon the legal profession in general by disclosures in press reports of the sedition case proceedings. The petition for the special meeting was made public by F. Regis Noel, a past president of the bar association. Noel has no connection with the sedition proceedings.

The sedition case defendants were directed by Justice Eicher Monday to appear in court Wednesday at 10 a. m. to begin once more the job of choosing a jury. It appeared likely today, however, that court would recess immediately after it has been called to order to await the outcome of the contempt proceedings against Laughlin Thursday. No sessions are being held on Fridays or Saturdays.

Lawyer Supports U. S.

Ira Chase Koehne, attorney for defendant Lois De Lafayette Washburn, Howard V. Broenstrupp, Ernest F. Elmhurst, and Frank W. Clark, tonight filed a petition asking permission to join government counsel in prosecuting the contempt proceedings against Laughlin.

Koehne attacked the affidavit filed by Laughlin on behalf of his cilent, Robert Noble, in which it was charged that Justice Eicher was biased and prejudiced against the defendants. The affidavit said it was Noble's "information and belief" that Justice Eicher had been promised by President Roosevelt an appointment to an Appellate court judgeship and possibly a berth on the Supreme court if he obtained a conviction of the alleged seditionists. Koehne said of the charge:

"If true, it is the greatest of national scandals; if false, it is the most colossal contempts of the age with practically no likelihood of the same being otherwise than false."

PILOT OF FORTRESS LISTED AS MISSING IN RAID OVER POLAND

Lt. Elmer P. Julius, a pilot on a B-17 plane attached to the 8th army air force in England, has been reported missing in action over Poland. Commissioned at Douglas, Ariz, on Aug. 30, 1943, he arrived in England last January. Recently he was awarded the air medal and oak leaf cluster for missions over continental Europe.

Lt. Elmer P. Julius.

Lt. Julius joined the air forces while a senior at Northwestern university. He was graduated in 1940 from North Park college and in 1938 from St. John's Military academy, Delafield, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Julius, 5873 Forest Glen av., are the flyer's parents. His wife, Dorothy, lives at the same address. The elder Julius is director of purchases for the Chicago park disrtict.

NAZIS GIVE CUPID A HAND TO SPUR WAR BIRTH RATE

LISBON, Portugal, May 2 (AP).—A nation-wide campaign has been opened in Germany to shuffle war shattered families and encourage new marriages to keep the reich's birth rate at a high level, Nazi newspapers reveal.

New municipal marriage brokerage bureaus, operating without fees, are trying to bring together the woman whose husband fell in battle and the soldier on furlough whose wife died in an air raid. They also are encouraging unmarried women to choose mates from among disabled soldiers returned to civil life.

Seek New Crop of War Babies.

The obvious objective is to speed up a natural process of readjustment that would lead normally after the war to many new marriages—and babies capable of carrying arms 20 years hence for the German homeland.

According to Der Angriff of Berlin, Nazi labor front organ, not enough disabled soldiers have registered to provide husbands for all the women who have offered themselves as prospective brides.

Apparently discharged veterans who have lost legs, arms, or their sight are wondering how they will be rehabilitated for a civil occupation and hesitate to venture into marriage.

To overcome this reluctance, placards advertising the marriage bureaus have been posted in all military hospitals and lectures have been arranged in hospitals and convalescent camps explaining their aims. Newspapers are printing articles romanticizing marriages of girls to such veterans.

1,539,841 Babies Born in 1943.

The strict rationing of food and beverages in Germany has been relaxed to facilitate social gatherings where representatives of the marriage bureaus arrange meetings of prospective wedding principals.

Last year, according to published German figures, there were 625,906 marriages in Germany, "more than might have been expected under the circumstances."

In the same year, according to these statistics, 1,539,841 babies were born—reported as an increase of 4 per cent above the 1942 figure.

BEG YOUR PARDON

A death notice in THE TRIBUNE April 26 announced the death of Pvt. John Leo Overlin, formerly of 304 Concord pl. Pvt. Overlin is alive, well, and on regular duty in Oregon, according to his sister, Mrs. Raymond Flynn, and his commanding officer. The error was attributed to a mistake in identity.

On April 5 THE TRIBUNE published a dispatch from England which indirectly quoted Brig. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson of the 9th air force bomber command as saying he would rather have one WAC than five GIs "for certain office jobs." Gen. Anderson in a letter to Robert Cromie, Tribune war correspondent, said he had never made such a statement, which he wrote "does great injustice not only to the enlisted man but also to the WACs."

CONVICT 7 GIRLS IN 'CALL HOUSE' MANN ACT TRIAL

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Seven women associated with the swank Hopkins institute, alleged million dollar call house, were convicted today of conspiracy to violate the Mann act after a trial that failed to bring fully into the open a "little black book" reputed to contain names of the institute's patrons.

The federal court jury deliberated one hour and 20 minutes. No date for sentencing was set.

The women are subject to sentences ranging from four months to two years.

Woodstock Flyer Killed in Action Over Germany

Sgt. Ben Stedman, 28, of Woodstock, has been reported killed in action over Germany, his mother, Mrs. Kathryn Stedman has learned. The war department, which had listed him as missing in action in January, corrected the report last week.

Stand on War Arouses Fight in Methodism

Kansas City, Mo., May 2 (AP).—Methodists argued hotly today over whether the church should change its position of 1940 when it voted that it would "not officially indorse, support, or participate in war."

The arguments, which are not expected to end until the 762 delegates to the general conference vote on the subject Thursday or Friday, started in a committee meeting after Dr. Albert E. Day, Pasadena, Cal., brought in a majority report of a subcommittee that the church should reffirm its 1940 stand. Dr. Day insisted the church should be used strictly in the "promulgation of peace," while granting the rights of individuals to act as they see fit.

Charles C. Parlin, Englewood, N. J., lawyer, came forward with a minority report which called for a determined stand to support the war. He declared the subcommittee of 20 offered an unfair view of how the church as a whole stands. He said only 600 Methodists are in conscientious objectors' camps, while more than a million Methodists are in military service.

Dr. Henry H. Crane, Detroit, speaking in favor of the majority report, said the whole point of the argument was: "Shall the church bless war?"

"I am a pacifist," he declared, "and it's inconceivable to me that the church ever should bless war."

A report to the conference earlier in the day disclosed that the number of ministers has dwindled so steadily that the Methodist church probably will have an acute preacher shortage in the next 10 years.

The report, prepared by Murray H. Leiffer, professor of sociology and social ethics at Garrett Biblical institute, Evanston, Ill., showed that while the Methodists and the nation's population have grown proportionately since 1910, the number of ministers have failed to keep pace. Between 1900 and 1915, the report added, when the church was only half its present size, it ordained almost twice as many preachers as it does now.

Some of the results of the increasing preacher shortage already have become evident, Prof. Leiffer declared. "It should keep us humble," he wrote, "to know that other great churches, such as the Lutheran and Roman Catholic, have been serving a steadily increasing percentage of the total population; we have not."

Wedding Set for May 27

Miss Martha Jane Beamsley's marriage to Capt. George R. Catlett of the army will take place at 8:30 p. m. May 27 in the First Methodist church in Evanston. Later her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Gilman Beamsley of Kenilworth, will give a reception at home. Capt. Catlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shirley T. Catlett of Fairmont, Ill., is stationed in Chicago.

Chicagoan Is Elected to Head Music Clubs as Convention Closes

Mrs. Alma K. Anderson, Chicago, was elected and installed as president of the Illinois Federation of Music Clubs yesterday at the close of the state convention, held in the La Salle hotel. Mrs. Anderson, succeeding Mrs. Royden J. Keith as head of the federation, will serve for a four year term. Others elected with Mrs. Anderson were: Reuben H. Brand, Springfield, southern region vice president; Mrs. Walter Flandorf, Chicago, recording secretary, and Mrs. George H. Osborne, Chicago, historian. Mrs. L. H. Bruce, Champaign, was reëlected treasurer.

Pageant Tells 50 Year Story of Commons

Service in two wars, in a depression, and thru problems over half a century were depicted last night in a series of tableaux presented at Chicago Commons, 955 W. Grand av., in observance of the settlement's 50th anniversary.

Edward L. Ryerson, president of the board of trustees, presided at the program. Paul Kellogg, New York, editor of the Survey Graphic, spoke to stress the increasing need of common meeting grounds as typified by the Commons. Among trustees present were Frank H. McCulloch, a member of the board since 1900, and Mr. and Mrs. Frederic W. Chamberlain, who came to the anniversary meeting from Lakeside, Mich.

In May, 1894, the late Graham Taylor, clergyman, teacher, and sociologist, founded the Commons in an old home on Union st. near Kinzie st., in a neighborhood then largely Scandinavian and German. Four of his theological students made up his staff of the settlement, which was to be a common meeting ground to promote understanding among peoples of divergent backgrounds. Hence the name, Chicago Commons. The settlement moved to its present quarters in 1901.

The founder's daughter, Miss Lea Taylor, is now head resident with a staff of 22, including part time workers, who operate a war nursery and clothes conservation clinic and other war time services in addition to the regular settlement shedule. The neighborhood is now largely Italian, with some Greeks, Mexicans, and Armenians.

Mrs. Otto Theiss wrote and directed last night's pageant from which at least one star was born. He was 9 year old Gerald Carrao, who, overcome by the number of girls taking over the dressing rooms, demanded and recived a private dressing room for himself.

More than 400 attended last night's event, which was especially for friends of the Commons. Two celebrations had been held previously, one for the young people of the community and one for former residents.

Thru the Looking Glass

Surveying the field for Mother's day offerings, we were drawn irresistibly to some families of true flower fragrance. Traditionally, the true-to-the-blossom, straight floral scent is somehow right for mothers—and when such scents are of good quality and presented attractively they're quite perfect gifts to lay at the feet of the lady of the house.

The floral gift families we like so well are distinguished in appearance and really superior in quality. You can have your choice of a variety of fragrances—carnation, wood violet, lily of the valley—each one of which is exquisite.

The carnation is particularly lovely and faithful to the flower itself. It has that mixture of sweet and spicy notes and that perkiness that makes it sing a lilting song of springtime. Actually, this is a difficult scent to translate. The maker of these has captured it exactly.

In the scent there are hand sewn sachets of satin, with an artificial spray of pink carnations nestling on the top. These are charming in themselves. There are also concentrated perfume, toilet water, talc, bath powder, and bath oil all echoing the spicy carnation scent. The talc and body powder are particularly gifty-looking. The handsome boxes are topped by lovely carnations that can be removed and worn as a corsage, a coiffure ornament, or an accent for a dress.

These things aren't nearly as expensive as the quality and the simple but elegant packaging might lead you to expect. Any one of them would make a charming Mother's day gift. A threesome, say, or a foursome, all in the same scent, would send the lady into raptures.

Arden Shore's Fund Drive to Begin Monday

BY JUDITH CASS.

ON the eve of its annual subscription drive, the Chicago committee of Arden Shore has an eye for "conservation first." When letters go out Monday to ask for donations to maintain the Arden Shore camp at Lake Bluff for underprivileged mothers and children, Chicagoans will recognize last year's folders—donated ones, at that—which are being used again this season to save paper.

Details of the drive were outlined at a meeting Monday, a few days after a luncheon which Mrs. Walter Cruttenden, its chairman, gave for provisional members last week at the Camellia House. In the absence of Mrs. Maynard Fessenden, chairman of the Chicago committee, Mrs. Robert Berghoff is serving as acting chairman. Shortly after her return from Mexico, Mrs. Fessenden left with her husband and their daughter, Gay, to spend the remainder of the season in North Miami Beach, Fla.

The drive will be well under way by the time the Chicago committee gives its membership tea at 4 p. m. May 15 at the Arts club.

Wedding News.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor of Kenilworth are enjoying a week's visit with their son, Sgt. Richard O'Connor of the marines, and his bride, the former Anna Mae Tersteege, who is a private first class in the marines. The wedding took place April 25 in the chapel at Parris Island, S. C., where Sgt. O'Connor and his bride are stationed. The reception was postponed until they reached Ardmore, Pa., home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tersteege, who entertained for them Sunday.

The former Miss Tersteege attended Chestnut Hill Women's college. Sgt. O'Connor was graduated from Loyola academy and attended Northwestern university.

From New York city Mrs. Edward F. Peil, formerly of Lake Forest, sends word of the marriage April 20 of her daughter, Patricia Eleanor, to Robin Baxter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Baxter of London, England, and Nassau, Bahamas. The ceremony took place in the United Congregational church in Miami Beach, Fla., and Mr. Baxter will take his bride to live in Nassau for the war's duration. The bride, daughter of Mr. Peil of Sydney, Australia, attended the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Lake Forest and was graduated from Ogontz. Mr. Baxter attended college in Wellington, England.

St. Luke's Style Show.

The date of the St. Luke's fashion show, which returns this year to its former headquarters, the Stevens hotel, has been changed from Oct. 11 to Oct. 18. Mrs. Walter Wolf again will serve as chairman and Mrs. Frank Hibbard as vice chairman. Other members of the woman's board of the hospital, which sponsors the large annual event, who have been named to head committees are Mrs. Edward A. Cudahy, stage chairman; Mrs. Huntington Henry, boxes; Mrs. A. Watson Armour III., exhibitors; Mrs. Robert M. Adams, production; Mrs. Frank Hixon, properties; Mrs. Louis Sudler, models, and Mrs. Joseph T. Ryerson, program.

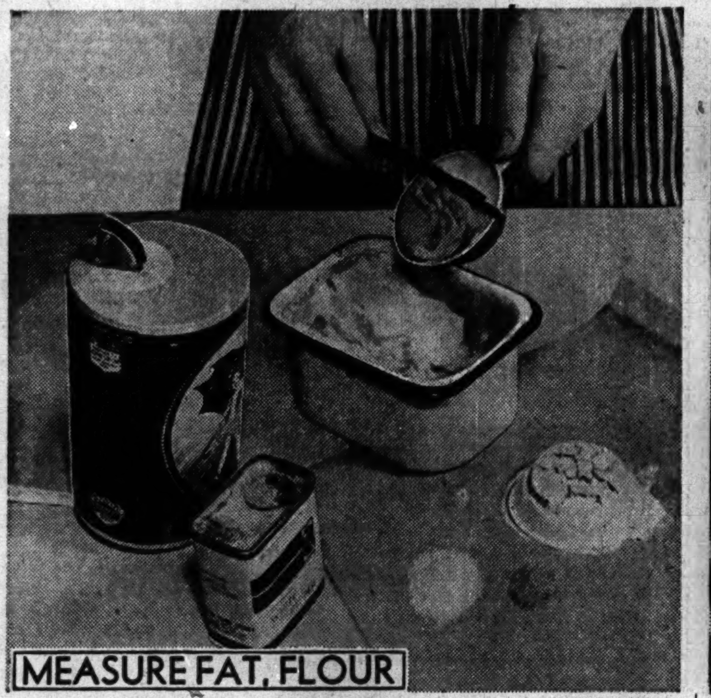
Mary Meade Shows Easy Way to Prepare a Tasty War Time Dish: Creamy Eggs

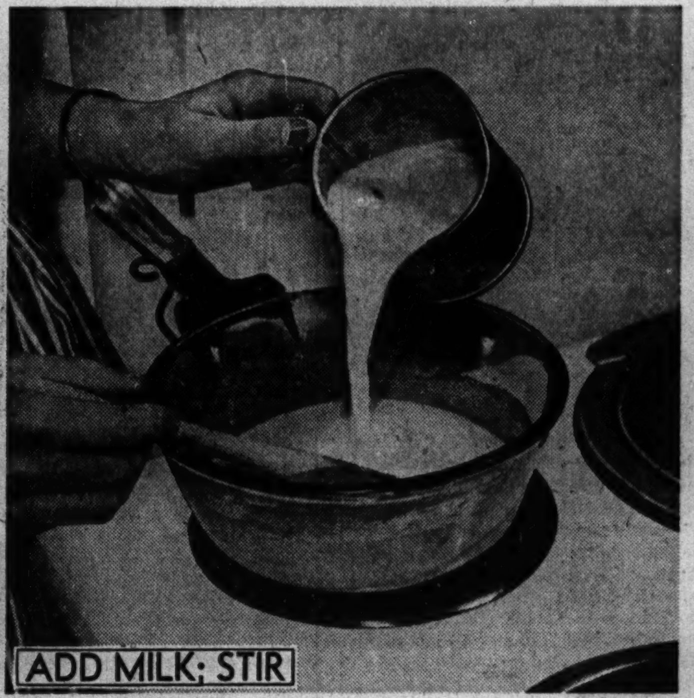


MEASURE FAT, FLOUR

1. Begin by making 2 cups of standard medium white sauce. Measure ¼ cup (4 tablespoons) margarine, ¼ cup flour, 1 teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon pepper.

BLEND OVER HEAT

2. Melt margarine over low heat; add flour and seasonings. Since this white sauce is to be used for eggs, 1 teaspoon dry mustard may be added.



ADD MILK; STIR

3. Add gradually 2 cups milk, stirring constantly over low heat to keep smooth. Cook until thickened. Have ready 7 hot hard cooked eggs.

SERVE ON EGGS

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

The SPAR recruiting office at 53 W. Jackson blvd. has a new senior women's officer, Lt. [j. g.] Donna Gill. Lt. Gill is not new to duty in Chicago, however, because as an ensign she was an interviewing officer for 10 months, talking to recruits to determine their capabilities for various billets in the women's reserve of the coast guard.

Lt. [j. g.] Gill.

Lt. Gill relieves Lt. [j. g.] Mary Kennedy Daly, who has been detached from the Chicago office. Lt. Daly headed Chicago recruiting for the SPARS during the last year and was the first SPAR to be assigned to the 9th naval district.

Lt. Gill is the sister of a coast guard lieutenant, Warren C. Gill, who has won the Legion of Merit, the Purple Heart, and the Navy Cross for distinguished and valorous service in the Sicilian invasion and for participating in coast guard operations at Salerno, Italy.

Presidents of women's clubs from each of Chicago's 75 community areas, representing 1,400,000 women, will open the first of a contemplated series of emergency state-wide salvage meetings at a luncheon at 12:15 p. m. today in the Merchants' and Manufacturers' club of the Merchandise Mart. Mrs. Anne V. Zinser, state director of women's activities for the war production board, will be in charge. Similar gatherings will beheld in other communities thruout Illinois.

The purpose of the meeting will be to plan the clubs' participation in a campaign to collect as much scrap paper and other salvage as possible during the housecleaning period. If every Illinois housewife will turn in all the salvage material in her home, Mrs. Zinser estimates, the state's collection will be equal to war production requirements thruout the summer months.

Mayor Kelly is scheduled to be the keynote speaker at the luncheon. Others expected to take part are John R. Robinson, representative of the Chicago Newspaper Publishers' association; William M. Scanlan, salvage manager of the WPB; George Eisenberg, state salvage director; William L. McFetridge, salvage director of the Chicago metropolitan area; John G. Sheldon, executive secretary; Thomas J. McHugh, state salvage secretary, and Mrs. Walter J. Kelly, director of women's salvage, OCD, Chicago metropolitan area.

Morale has reached a new high, absenteeism a new low, among women and men war workers at the Utah Radio Products Co., 320 W. Ohio st., since employes have been rehearsing and are preparing to present an all-employe musical revue, "On the Level," Friday evening thru next Thursday at the Eighth Street theater.

Remy Hudson, a vice president of the company, which is filling war contracts, originated the show. He unearthed "home talent" of the professional type, singers and musicians included. One of the leading roles will be played by a woman war worker, Miss Marie Viverito. There are approximately 100 in the cast, which will put the seven performances on for workers and their famil'es.

The show's book is based on war plant life. There are ten musical numbers written by co-authors Henry Tobias and Don Reid, who have turned out several hit tunes. Employe choruses and dancers will interpret the numbers.

White Collar Men.

They would impress me with a handsome smile,
A quick touch of their fingertips on mine;
They stand around and chat to pass the while
And question will I go with them to dine.

Tall, dark, and debonnaire—or short and stout,
The young, the old [perhaps it's not their fault],
They whisper softly of what love's about
And don't suspect I take a grain of salt!

Sister Act.

From Meliss comes the story of three WCGs who attended a dance recital at the Goodwin theater recently. There is a decided family resemblance among them; nevertheless, they were more than a little surprised when, as they sat on a bench in the lobby during intermission, two separate groups, in passing, looked their way and murmured audibly: "Three sisters."

The incident became somewhat less of a mystery when one of the WCGs noticed the painting that hung on the wall behind them. It was called, of course, "The Three Sisters."

Your Telephone Personality.

"In discussing our telephone personality, first let's see whether we use the telephone correctly. The convenient cradle telephone makes it a simple matter to hold the telephone correctly for clear speech transmission. Yet countless persons swing it beneath the chin, or sideways, allowing the voice to be carried out into space instead of into the telephone. The correct way to hold the transmitter is directly in front of the lips, one-half inch away. Speak in a firm, even tone of voice and slightly slower than in ordinary conversation."

Ruby Riley in "Correct English."

Today I Saw.

Today I saw:

A bright eyed lad of 15—a Boy Scout—run to help a feeble old lady across a busy intersection.

A mother stoop to kiss her two small children as she left them at the nursery door and then go on to her work in a war plant.

A mailman smile as he called to a worker on her way to the factory—and the sparkle in her eyes as she took the letter her husband had written from overseas.

A robin calling from the highest branch of the tree and as I looked up to find him I looked beyond and—

I saw a beautiful blue sky.

Who could object to going out to work bright and early each morning?

Summer Hats Will Be Crisp, Cool, and Lacy

BY REA SEEGER.

A summer hat should be featherweight, super-flattering, cool, and crisp. The best materials are those that assure a lacy shadow over the eyes and brow, whether small, medium, or large. For even the very small new summer hats are worn dipped way over the forehead so the brief band brim makes a shadow. The cartwheels, preferably of straw or linen, are time-honored models for dazzling summer sunshine because all the brims bend down over the face. New medium brims, from three to four inches in depth, make ideal suit and tailored dress complements.

The big excitement this year will be the sheer hats made of layer upon layer of net, chiffon, or fragile looking horsehair braid. The dull blacks go out with dress parade clothes, so do the candy bonbon pinks and blues and whites, while the gray and black and white or the brown and white and navy and white mixtures of filmy braids make the best daytime hats to wear in town. This last group is sensationally successful, for the braid remains crisp and smart to the last day of summer.

In a knockout new summer collection of charming hats are some of the most engaging millinery creations imaginable — all for hot weather costumes. Airy little trifles of white pique are no more than a whiff of spanking white on the hair. Sequins and colorful contrast are used on bright colored prints to make gloves and matching hat. Small wicked-looking halo effects, worn front to back instead of from ear to ear, are made of dozens of tiny baby ribbon black bows with a tiny black humming bird to perch on a serene brow.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., May 2.—Myrna Loy's got the sweetest setup in this town: One picture a year, and what she gets paid! O, my! . . . No wonder Metro's making a sequel to "Lassie." "Lassie, Come Home" cost a little over a half million, and so far it's taken in over two and a half millions. . . . I thought Sam and Bella Spewack were off to Russia. Instead they're returning to Metro for a writing chore. . . . After all these years, Bing Crosby got around to recording a Cole Porter song. First one was "Night and Day." They've always liked each other. . . . Carol Cameron, age 7, plays Eddie Robinson's daughter in "Once Off Guard," with Fritz Lang as director.

Cole Porter. Myrna Loy. Fritz Lang.

Orson's At It.

Orson Welles has no intention of doing "Don't Catch Me" on the screen. It's a good mystery yarn which he'll resell. He was set to do a play for David Rose in New York with Agnes Moorehead, but Agnes couldn't get away from Lionel Barrymore and "Mayor of the Town," so he dropped the whole thing. His "Suspense" shows are good listening. This is his sixth. . . . Gypsy Rose Lee was all set to buy a Beverly Hills home which belongs to the grandmother of Mrs. Wayne Lonergan, but Gypsy's New York lawyer said "No"—and I'll be darned if she didn't take his advice. . . . A year ago Bunny Waters was fancy free, giving her blood regularly to the Red Cross. Now she's Mrs. Johnny Green, about to have a baby—and getting a blood transfusion.

It's Really His Year.

Harry Cohn got his way. His baby looks like its mother, and the Merle Oberon-Paul Muni "Chopin" picture is now "The Love of Mme. Sand." Harry wants Merle for "The First Woman Doctor." That gives her three to choose from, what with "Nob Hill" and "Dark Waters" in the offing. . . . Jessie Matthews will revive "Quaker Girl" in London. That sure takes me back. Ina Claire did it originally. Believe it or not, I sang the prima donna role in the road company. That's what they paid me for. Theda Bara played a French woman, and Natalie Alt the Quaker girl.

What Price Laughter?

I was dining with Sid Grauman and Ole Olsen at La Rue's, when Phil Baker came over to pay his respects to Sid. "Remember 20 years ago," asked Phil, "when you brought Jack Benny [only then his name was Ben Benny] and me out to the coast for four weeks, then canceled us out after two? You said you didn't want your audiences getting used to the idea of laughing. If they did you'd have to furnish a comedian every week." Ole Olsen is conferring with Sid about putting footprints of an unknown WAC, WAVE, SPAR, and Marine in the forecourt of his Chinese theater.

Lest We Forget.

Billy Bitzer, who together with D. W. Griffith filmed "The Birth of a Nation," "Intolerance," "Broken Blossoms," and invented so many things our cameramen are using today, was only 70 when he passed away. He had been living at the motion picture country home. Bitzer was years ahead of his day. So is Griffith. Hollywood isn't using his talent any more than it used Bitzer's. What's the matter with us? Too many producers today know how to live well and what kind of wine goes with each course, but what have they ever created but discord? . . . The U. S. S. Lucky of the coast guard sure had a sending away party. It's been in five major battles, so the crew stopped here to celebrate, with Virginia Bruce, Susan Peters, Carole Landis, Margaret Lindsay, K. T. Stevens, Jean Feldman, Jane Hopper, Jinx Falkenburg, Mrs. Milton Bren, the Goldwyn Girls, and Walter Kane, former Hollywood agent, looking like an admiral.

Balletomania.

Carla Bradley has engaged Marina Svetlova and Alexis Dolinoff of the Metropolitan Opera ballet as guest stars for three appearances with the Ballet Repertory company at the Eighth Street theater. The dates have been postponed from the end of May to the first week in June, because Leonide Massine, coming as guest choreographer, is being held in New York by the extension of Ballet Theater's engagement.

Marina Svetlova.

Mention of Massine reminds me of yesterday's telephone call from a representative of the canning industry, who wanted to know about the can-can, for reasons best known to the canning industry. Unable to illustrate by telephone, I embarked on a description, relying on Massine's frothy finale to Offenbach's "Gaité Parisienne." Then, not quite satisfied with my demonstration, I looked up the dance in that dignified volume, the Oxford Companion to Music. I quote: "Can-can or chacut—a boisterous and latterly indecorous dance of the quadrille order, dating from about 1840 and then exploited in Paris for the benefit of British and American visitors who were willing to pay well to be well shocked. Its exact nature is unknown to anyone connected with this Companion." Holier than thou, Massine!

More Ballet.

A resounding hit, no less, is Ballet Theater's production of "Fancy Free," which has won Jerome Robbins an offer to choreograph a musical called "I'll Marry You Sunday," which Rouben Mamoulian may stage in the fall. Mr. Robbins' ballet is a strenuous affair with a humorous score by the versatile Leonard Bernstein and a street corner setting by Oliver Smith, who designed "Rodeo." It concerns three sailors who pick up two girls and stage a dance contest to eliminate the odd man. The sailors are Robbins, John Kriza, and Howard Lang, and the girls are Janet Reed and Muriel Bentley. According to Edwin Denby of the Herald-Tribune, Robbins' own rumba is a takeoff on Massine, while Kriza's dance has its fun with Antony Tudor.

Picayune Prize.

Too bad "Oklahoma!" could coax no more from the Pulitzer committee than the special $500 prize to the men who wrote it. It might easily have followed "Of Thee I Sing" as the second musical to win the full honor. However, "Oklahoma!" is getting along fine without medals, and the Erlanger cast has settled its problem about a new Curly. He is John Rait, a young Californian now in our company, where he replaced Jack Kilty in a small part and as Harry Stockwell's understudy. He was chosen by audition on the west coast and this is his first professional show. He sings the part once a week, but on no special night. Described as 24, six feet two inches tall, and the momentary pride of the Theater Guild, Mr. Rait takes over June 1 when Mr. Stockwell goes to New York.

Protestant Women's Club Completes Season Today

The Protestant Women's Service Club of Chicago will give a breakfast at noon today in the Edgewater Beach hotel, closing its season. Appearing on the special program arranged for the party will be Leonard Huber, baritone; Joseph Anderson, accompanist, and Lillian B. Smith, reader. Mrs. C. M. Austin is president of the club.

Big Sisters' Committee.

The case advisory committee of the Jewish Big Sisters will meet at club headquarters on Friday. Mrs. Philip Goodman is chairman.

The Solid Side Gives Out with Solid Answers

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

on the SOLID side

Q.—"Why do boys get mad when you tell them you can't go with them because you already have a date? I have been dating two fellows off and on and when I tell one I have a date with the other whichever one I can't go out with begins to sulk. I don't like to make excuses, so I tell them right out that I have another date."

A.—You're a lucky gal—evidently both joes have a glow for you. Tell them the truth—it's just a small matter of pride that makes one go into a pout when you have a date with another. Many fellows have a queer notion that once they boost a chick to No. 1 on their date parade she should stay there—and ignore the other joes who ask for dates. Don't worry—the more competition, the more the boys will appreciate you.

Q.—"I once read in your column never to give up a girl friend for a boy, but what would you do if your best girl friend is practically taking your boy away from you? Of course, I couldn't prove anything but when she's near him she smiles up at him and hangs onto his every word—you know all the silly things a girl does to get a man. He hasn't asked her for a date yet but I feel that Dick and I are drifting apart."

A.—She's a ghoul friend, not a girl friend, and not even a friend at that. Don't break off relations officially [it wouldn't help if Dick found out that his current honeychile was jealous] but arrange your date life so that this gal and your particular hunk of man don't get within hand-holding distance. You know the old saying, "Out of sight, out of mood"—maybe he'll forget all about her then.

Q.—"We're both 15 and both our mothers always want us to be home at a certain time when we go out with fellows. The other night we went to a party at a boy's home and were supposed to come home by 10 o'clock. The boy's mother didn't start making refreshments till 10:30, then we couldn't get a street car and had to walk and didn't get home until 12:30. Now our mothers are angry and say we can't go out with fellows at all till we're 16 . . . do you think that's fair?"

A.—It won't be fun staying in these mellow spring evenings—but your mothers are right! You were a. w. o. l. from 10:30 until 12:30—that gave them two and a half long hours of worry about whether you had run off with the circus, fallen down a hole, or were just hit by a street car. Why not give your mother a call when you can't make the deadline on a date? She'll be reasonable if you will.

West opened a low diamond. Declarer won, laid down the trump king—and said something under his breath when East showed out. The sound contract didn't look so sound now. However, perhaps something would happen. He stopped leading trumps, cashed the spade king, then led a low spade toward dummy.

Something did happen! For no discernable reason West promptly played the seven of trumps! Declarer grinned as he reached for the spade six and then calmly spread his hand, claiming the contract.

West mumbled something about not having known that East had a spade trick. This, however, did not make much sense. West did know that he himself had a sure trump trick, and whether or not declarer had a losing spade there was nothing to be gained by West's using his trump trick on a spade ruff—surely not on the ruff of a low spade!

Child's Sleep Requirements Vary with Age

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

In today's column I am going to give an approximate chart of the hours required by a child for sleep at different ages. But before doing so I want to tuck in a suggestion for curing the habit of begging to stay up at night, or even dawdling on school mornings for children of the inbetween years.

You might explain to them that soldiers cannot go to bed and get up when they feel like it. They must live by hours. Then you might decorate their room with flags and give them the use of the alarm clock. Set the alarm each day for their bedtime, and after they have turned in, set it for the time they must start dressing in the morning to be ready for breakfast. You could even play "taps" at night for them on the piano. Of course, I do not believe in children being awakened in the morning by anything sharp, like an alarm, so do not use it for that purpose.

Now as to hours, young babies, as you know, sleep almost all of the time. When they pass that stage it is well to get them on a routine of sleep and waking as well as on a feeding schedule, altho none of these should be ironclad, I believe. Also, your baby frequently is the guide to what the schedule should be. Once you have found his rhythm, it is well to abide by it.

The child of 2 to 3 needs 12 to 14 hours of sleep, and a nap of about 2 hours.

The child of 4 or 5 needs about 11 to 12½ hours of sleep, with a nap in addition. The nap often disappears or diminishes at this age, or even before. When it disappears, it does so by being skipped a day or so at a time.

The child of 5 to 6 needs from 10½ to 12 hours of sleep.

When we get to children around 9 or 10 it is not so easy to prescribe hours. But they still wake up early in the morning and I believe should be in bed by about 8:30, with an hour or so of quiet during the day.

I cannot close the article without adding a certain piece of advice. In this case it has to do with sleep and teen-age children. Adolesence marks the onset of a tremendous spurt of growth. Rapid growth now, just as in babyhood, creates in the body a need for a great deal of sleep. Hard as this is to manage with teen-age children, it must be done for their health, and poise, too.

Inter-American Official to Address Woman's Club

The Chicago Woman's club, meeting at 2 p. m. today in Curtiss hall of the Fine Arts building, will hear Manoah Leide Tedesco on "Significant Latin Influences in the Western Hemisphere." Mr. Tedesco is an American citizen of Italian family. He is associated with the office of inter-American affairs in Washington, D. C. The lecture has been arranged by Mrs. Victor Munnecke, who succeeds Mrs. Frederick E. Hutchins as program chairman of the club. Presiding at the meeting will be Mrs. Henry Barrett Chamberlin.

'Danger List'

By Christianna Brand

(Copyright: 1944: By Mary Christianna Lewis.)

SYNOPSIS: Higgins, the postman, delivers seven letters accepting service in Heron's Park military hospital. Dr. Gervase Eden, homely but charming, hopes to escape from a fashionable practice. Jane Woods, a middle aged, successful dress designer, gives up her career to become a nurse's aid. Esther Sanson, against the wishes of a neurotic mother, offers her services. Dr. Moon, whose only son was accidentally killed in childhood, hopes to escape loneliness. Dr. Barnes, exonerated for the loss of a life under the anaesthetic, welcomes a change of scene. Frederica Linley, whose wealthy father remarries, prefers nursing to home. Nurse Marion Bates, man-crazy, is in search of romance. The postman does not know, within a year, one of the writers of these letters will die a self-confessed murderer.

INSTALMENT III.

AN AIR RAID.

Gervase Eden turned his ugly head to grin fleetingly at the success of his joke. He felt a bit of a rotter, but honestly, Marion was like a millstone 'round one's neck. In the early days at Heron's Park, when it had been so dull and uncomfortable, miles from anywhere and no work to get down to, he had flirted mildly with her; only just enough to keep them both amused. He ought to have known better. And now there was this complication of Freddi Linley.

Captain Barnes did not laugh. He thought Sister Bates was pathetic, standing up there making a fool of herself in a last desperate attempt to impress Gervase Eden, and tho, to be honest with oneself, Eden seemed to make no earthly effort to attract women, they all seemed to fall for him and it gave him a sort of responsibility toward them. Bates was obviously unhappy, poor, silly girl.

Even Frederica seemed not proof against that casual charm. Barnes had fallen in love with Frederica at his very first sight of her; had promised himself that he would wait patiently for three whole months until she should have had a chance to get to know him, and in the third week had finally broken down and told her, at a sergeants' dance of all places, that he did not quite see how he could get thru the rest of his life without her. She had put her little hands into his and promised to marry him, "some day." "Not yet, Barney; not for a little while—but one day I will."

Frederica. Right across the hall, Barnes could see her, sitting with Esther Sanson and Jane Woods. Her hair was dark gold, curling heavily under her V. A. D. cap; her face, clear as a cameo, with limpid gray eyes and a little, determined round chin. Beside her Jane Woods looked like a Piccadilly flower seller, with her plain, round face and twinkling, shrewd dark eyes, her arms folded over her deep bosom, under the short, red-lined cape. Between them Esther Sanson seemed drained of all color; she was a different person now from the haunted, broken creature that she had been after her mother's terrible death.

There are about half a dozen songs which can be relied upon for a good reception, however abominably they may be sung; and "Trees" is, [unfortunately] one of them. The audience applauded vociferously and Sister Bates blushed with happy pride.

Every new commanding officer begins his reign by having something repainted. It starts him off with a reputation for efficiency. ". . . and, my dear, he hadn't been two days in the place before the beds in St. Elmo's had all been enamelled white!" Colonel Beaton had created quite a furore by having the word 'Rubbish' on the bins in the corridor, replaced by the word 'Salvage' in huge black and white letters, and at the moment his popularity was at its height. He made a jolly little man-to-man speech.

". . . sorry to break up this happy party, but as you may have noticed, there's an air raid on! If so many of the personnel were to be killed or injured at one time, it would make things very awkward.

"Now, I'm afraid there's been a bad show in Heronsford. The A. R. P. center has been hit, among other places, and there are a lot of casualties. I want all to go to their posts at once. We've all enjoyed the 'play' very much indeed; now it's time for work!"

Marion Bates was theater sister at Heron's Park. She scurried down to see that the emergency night staff was prepared, and her mind was the strangest jumble of surgical instruments and Gervase Eden. She knew that her poor little effort at pleasing him had failed.

The cold sweat broke out on her forehead at the thought of her madness in ever having supposed that it would impress him. If it had been Frederica Linley, now—but she knew that Frederica would never for a moment have considered so demeaning herself. Anyway, he was not with her this evening. Linley had gone back to her ward and Gervase was stroling across the circular hall with Woods.

Outside, the guns thundered and rolled, there was the scream of a bomb and the occasional noisy rattle of machine gun fire; even down here, 20 feet below ground, the room shook with the crash of every gun. "I wonder what he's saying to Woods," thought Bates, automatically separating the jingling instruments. "I wonder if she's still in the hall with him. I think I'll just slip up and see."

Frederica had gone back to her ward with Esther, who happened to be on duty there. "I'll stay and give you a hand," said Esther. "There are two empty beds and they're sure to fill them up with casualties. It's already as much as one person can manage in here, now that we're so short of orderlies."

The relieving V. A. D. was glad to see them. "The orderly officer hasn't made his round yet, Linley. Sister says when he comes will you ask him for some morphia for the two hernias and the appendix that were done today, and to ask him to give you something for the asthma in number seven. She's gone down to St. Cat's ward.

LUTHER ADLER ★ BETH MERRILL

A 21-gun salvo for this click! It bristles with suspense, its episodes follow one upon the other with inexorable logic and its characters are contrived with a civilized deftness. Suffice to say that "Uncle Harry" is a fascinating and engrossing stage document
Miss Merrill, a statuesque blonde with a wide, sensitive face, gives a powerful interpretation to the complex nature of Sister Lettie.
ROBERT POLLAK, Daily Times.

The Great Northern now houses the best written and acted non-musical in town.
The play, and the acting, is uniformly human in key, endlessly fascinating.
LLOYD LEWIS, Daily News.

"Uncle Harry" a fascinating Murder Drama. "Uncle Harry" told its sardonic tale in the hushed silence of rapt attention, with storm claps of applause punctuating each curtain.
Luther Adler plays Uncle Harry with the same lethal quality of the writing, and with the touch of bravura that makes it a star's role.
CLAUDIA CASSIDY, Chicago Trib.

This Thomas Job method of murder is an absorbing play, skillfully contrived . . . packed with suspense.
Mark it down as a melodrama with intelligence and plenty of theatrical fire.

DISTILLERY FIRM INDICTED BY U. S. ON PRICE CHARGE

Wholesale House and 10 Persons Also Accused.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The Schenley Distillers corporation has been charged with conspiracy to sell liquor above ceiling prices and to keep false records, the justice department disclosed today.

A sealed indictment against Schenley, one other corporation, and 10 individuals was returned April 26 by a federal grand jury in Newark, N. J., and was opened today, Charles Fahy, acting attorney general, announced.

The indictment charged the defendants with conspiring to violate the internal revenue code by making false entries in records of receipt and disposition of liquor. The defendants also are charged with conspiracy to violate the price control act by selling liquor at prices exceeding authorized maximums.

Schenley Denies Violations.

In New York the Schenley corporation issued the following statement:

"The indictment attempts to hold Schenley responsible for allegedly unlawful acts of others. Schenley has committed no crime and will meet the charges at the proper time and place."

The indictment alleged an agreemen between the Schenley corporation and Benjamin F. Proos, Great Neck, N. Y., executive business manager of the AFL Wine, Liquor and Distillery Workers' union No. 1 of New York, to dispose of 15,000 cases of liquor above monthly allotments assigned by Schenley to its distributors.

Wholesaler Indicted.

Thereafter, the indictment charged, the bulk of the liquor passed thru the F. & A. Distributing Company, Inc., wholesale liquor dealers of Bayonne, N. J., which was indicted, and Cluff and Pickering, wholesale liquor dealers of New York City. The indictment did not accuse Cluff and Pickering, but Hyman S. Abramson, a partner, was among the defendants.

In addition to the two corporations, Pross, and Abramson, those indicted are Maurice Altschuler of Bayonne, secretary and treasurer of the F. & A. Distributing company; Frank Mayer, Newark, wholesale liquor dealer; Louis Boldreghini, Houston, Tex., retail liquor dealer; Edward Gottehrer, New York City, liquor salesman; Jack Shapiro, Dallas, Tex., liquor salesman; Kenneth Lavine, Dallas liquor salesman; Graham L. Wright, Augusta, Ga., retail liquor dealer, and Samuel Ruben, Augusta wholesale liquor dealer.

DETECTIVE, OFF DUTY, CAPTURES BANDIT IN CHASE

Detective Barney Komie of the detective bureau was off duty yesterday afternoon, but he captured a holdup man who had robbed Mrs. Mae Kulesza of a cash box containing about $35 in her gift shop at 4042 Milwaukee av. Komie, in his car, chased the man into a blind alley and pinned him to a wall. The prisoner identified himself as Albert Manning, 31, of the Y. M. C. A. hotel at 4251 Irving Park rd. Komie said Manning had been released from Stateville penitentiary last February after serving 10 years for burglary and robbery.

Mrs. Kulesza was alone in the store when the robber entered. He dragged her into a rear room to bind her with a rope, but her screams frightened him. He knocked her down and fled.

Komie lives at 1851 Komensky av. He was married two weeks ago.

NEW BRIBE PLOT CHARGED; INDICT 14 IN MICHIGAN

Graft in Legislative Session Alleged.

Lansing, Mich., May 2 [Special].—The one man grand jury of Circuit Judge Leland W. Carr today returned an indictment accusing 14 persons of conspiracy to corrupt the 1939 session of the Michigan legislature.

The indictment charged the giving and acceptance of bribes for votes of legislators in connection with legislation for taxation of intangible personal property, such as stocks and bonds.

Special Prosecutor Kim Sigler said five of the defendants are accused of giving bribes to the extent of "several thousand dollars," and the other nine defendants are present and former members of the legislature alleged to have accepted bribes.

"Bigger Indictments" Probable.

Sigler described the indictment as one of a series resulting from the grand jury inquiry into legislative corruption and said there probably would be "bigger indictments" in the future. Last February Judge Carr's one man grand jury indicted 26 persons for allegedly giving and taking bribes to influence votes on automobile installment sales and small loans legislation.

Twelve named in today's indictment also are defendants in the previous case.

New defendants are Julian Thompson, identified as a lobbyist for the Household Finance corporation of Chicago and the Michigan Association of Small Loan Companies, and Armand E. Robichaud of Newark, N. J., public relations counsel of the Beneficial Management corporation of Delaware.

Others Named in Charges.

The others indicted today are George Omacht of South Bend., Ind., general counsel of Associates Discount corporation; John E. Hancock, assistant vice president and branch manager of Associates Discount; Abraham Cooper, president of the Detroit Investment company of Detroit, and the following past and present legislators, all Democrats: Senators Leo J. Wilkowski and Charles C. Diggs, former Senators D. Stephen Benzie and Ernest G. Nagel, and Representatives Francis J. Nowak, Edward J. Walsh, William G. Buckley, Earl C. Gallagher, and Walter N. Stockfish.

Those named in the first indictment have been bound over for trial, expected to be held in June.

Persons conversant with legislation passed by the 1939 legislature said an intangible property tax law was adopted in that year after the original bill had been amended to such an extent that it was disowned by its sponsor, Sen. George P. McCallum [R.] of Ann Arbor.

The bill sought to substitute a specific tax on stocks and bonds for the existing personal property tax law. As finally adopted, a limitation of three-tenths of one per cent of par value was placed on the tax to be collected from income producing securities, regardless of the income produced. Broad exemptions, especially in regard to securities of Michigan corporations, were written into the law.

BORRELLI TO MAKE PLEA TO HIGH COURT, HIS FATHER ASSERTS

Municipal Judge Francis Borrelli said yesterday that another appeal to the Illinois Supreme court would be made on behalf of his son, Bruce, 34, whose conviction in two slugging cases was affirmed earlier in the day in Appellate court. After his conviction, he was fined $1,000 and sentenced to two years in county jail.

Bruce Borrelli.

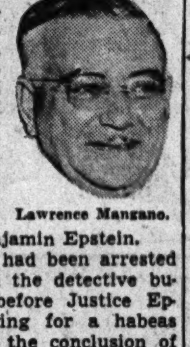
Young Borrelli was in a hospital, the judge said, recuperating from a recent kidney operation, as the court turned down his appeal.

Borrelli, who has been at liberty on a $5,000 bond, was convicted before Judge Julius H. Miner in Criminal court. The convictions were on charges of assaulting employes of the Keeshin Motor Service, Inc., while he was employed by the company during a rump strike; also of assaulting a competitor of the express service.

John L. Keeshin, wealthy head of the motor service, was jointly indicted with Borrelli in both cases. He was acquitted by a jury, however, in one and State's Atty. Courtney then asked for dismissal of the other. The charges against Keeshin were that he conspired with Borrelli to have the employes of the company slugged.

SUBPENA SERVED ON MANGANO IN CICERO KILLING

Lawrence [Dago] Mangano, one of 41 big and small time hoodlums for whom subpenas recently were issued by the grand jury in its probe of the slaying of Jens D. Larrison in a Cicero saloon, was served with his subpena yesterday in the Criminal court of Chief Justice Benjamin Epstein.



Lawrence Mangano.

Mangano, who had been arrested by a squad from the detective bureau, appeared before Justice Epstein on a hearing for a habeas corpus writ. At the conclusion of the hearing, the subpena was served by Chief Bailiff Joseph Lellvelt.

Mike Poston, manager of Gall[illegible] simo's restaurant, appeared before the grand jury yesterday, was questioned briefly, and instructed to reappear today.

Pussy, Wedged in Car, Keeps All Her Nine Lives

When Dr. L. B. Schwartz of 500 S. Central Park av. started the motor of his car yesterday, he heard a squeak—reminiscent of a cat. The doctor found nothing, and drove away. Fifteen minutes later he lifted the hood and discovered a gray alley cat wedged between the radiator and the fan belt. He called the Anti-Cruelty society. Except for a mangled front paw, the cat was unharmed.

CUBS FACE REDS; SOX WIN IN 10TH, 3 TO 2

DERRINGER TO PITCH TODAY IN SERIES OPENER

Johnson to Make Bow as Pilot.

Reds Sign Wilson

JIM WILSON, who resigned Monday as manager of the Chicago Cubs, last night signed a contract to rejoin the Cincinnati Reds as coach, a post he relinquished when he came to the Cub organization three years ago. Wilson signed the coaching contract after a conference with Warren Giles and Bill [Deacon] McKechnie, general manager and manager respectively of the Reds. Wilson will join the Reds in St. Louis Friday.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs, who always are going to do something, but seldom get around to anything more than firing the manager, will get to work this afternoon under their new boss—Roy Johnson, manager pro tem.

The new regime will be launched with the assistance of the Cincinnati Reds who, instead of trying to dissolve the Cubs' losing streak which now extends thru nine games, will endeavor to make it 10 as a means of expressing their sentiments over the bouncing from the Cub leadership of Jim Wilson.

The Reds' intentions are indicated by the fact that they plan to pitch Tomas De La Cruz, who already has proved that so far as he is concerned the Cubs can't hit their way out of a paper bag.

Stan Hack Might Take It.

The hunt for a more or less permanent manager got under way yesterday, but to all appearances Vice President James Gallagher, who is in charge of the search, is not going to be stampeded even tho he doesn't feel comfortable as a cellar dweller.

He declared that when the club finds the man it thinks will fit into the job an offer will be made. Just who the man might be continues anybody's guess. Gallagher not being very communicative on this point. The choice will be some fellow now employed in baseball so acquiring him will involve negotiations with his employer. If the Cubs want to avoid this they can have old Hack Wilson. He wired yesterday that he wouldn't be afraid to take the job. There also were rumors that Stan Hack might consent to emerge from retirement if properly approached.

Roy Shifts Batting Order.

Boss Pro Tem Johnson, after giving his new charges a long workout yesterday, announced that he would go into business today with the same lineup that prevailed last Sunday when the Cubs fattened their losing streak by courtesy of the St. Louis Cardinals.

However, the fill-in leader will juggle the batting order. Bill Schuster will continue to lead off but Roy Hughes, former American leaguer who made his debut at third base on Sunday, will bat second, followed by Phil Cavarretta and Bill Nicholson. Ed Sauer has been moved to fifth and Andy Pafko dropped to sixth. Below that it will be Don Johnson, Bill Holm, and for today, at least, Paul Derringer in the pitching role.

ROUNDERS WINS $15,000 STAKE RACE AT PIMLICO

Baltimore, Md., May 2 (AP).—Rounders carried the blue and white silks of William Helis, New Orleans oilman, to victory in the 31st running of the $15,000 added Philadelphia handicap at Pimlico today.

Rounders came to the wire a length in front of Calumet Farm's Mar-Kell, the lone mare of the small field, Mar-Kell, in turn, led Greentree Stable's Four Freedoms, the favorite of a crowd of approximately 12,000.

The Irish bred Rounders, a 5 year old son of Colorado Kid, was ridden by Nick Jemas and covered the mile and one-sixteenth in 1:45 2-5 over a fast track. The winner returned $9.20, $5, and $2.50 for $2. His victory was worth $12,450.

Home Again.

Home again—it's good to be
Where the home lights softly glow.
Midst the folks you love the best
And the many friends you know.
Mighty pleasant where the cheer
Of the fireside gleams, and then,
Flickers low to gleam once more;
Home again.
Home again, here one forgets
All the sorrows—all the care.
And it seems as tho you dwell
In a world that's free from care.
Here is where those childhood days
Live again in mem'ry—when,
You come back to stay awhile—
Home again.
Home again—how swift the years,
Steps sound heavy on the floor.
Age has changed so many folks,
That you knew in days of yore.
But the laughter and the song.
Bring once more the fleeting past,
How you revel in the wish,
This experience might last—
Home again.

STRONG FINISH BOOSTS STOCK FOR BIG RACE

Broad Grin Second, 6 Lengths Back.

Derby Preview

ARCH WARD'S Sports Preview will originate tonight in the studio of WGRC, Louisville, where Ward is covering the Kentucky Derby for The Tribune. The program will be heard over W-G-N from 9 to 9:15 p. m. Among Ward's guests will be Grantland Rice and Bill Corum, New York sports writers, and Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of Arlington and Washington Parks.

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., May 2.—California entered the lists for the Kentucky Derby today by way of Chicago when Mrs. George Poulsen's Broadcloth, sleek black son of Good Goods-Anacreon by Chance Shot, swept to a six length victory over the Greentree stable's odds-on favorite, Broad Grin, and four other contestants in the seventh running of the $5,000 added Derby Trial, last competitive outing for Derby eligibles before the big race Saturday.

Broadcloth, last year a stablemate of Occupy and Jezrahel when he was owned by John Marsch, the Chicago contractor, was purchased by Mrs. Poulson, who lives in Los Angeles, for $15,000. Even before his showing today Marsch had expressed regret that Broadcloth would not be carrying his colors in the $75,000 climax of the Kentucky racing season.

Pulls Away at Finish.

The Derby Trial victor, ridden by Farril Zufelt, ran the mile in 1:37 1-5 as compared to the record of 1:35 4-5 set in the inaugural race by The Chief. Broadcloth was held back for the first half mile and then came up gradually, overtaking the pace setter, Neville Dunn's Fire Power, and the challenging Rockwood Boy. As they turned into the stretch Zufelt moved Broadcloth into the lead, and from then on it was just a battle for second place between Broad Grin and Rockwood Boy with Broad Grin taking the place by three-fourths of a length and Rockwood Boy leading C. V. Whitney's fourth place American Eagle by a length and a half.

The winner returned $8.20 for a $2 win ticket and $3 to place. Broad Grin's place return was $2.40. There was no betting for show. The victory was worth $4,400 to Broadcloth's owner.

Pensive Named for Derby.

The arrival today from Pimlico of Warren Wright's Pensive brought to 17 the number of horses on the grounds which, according to their trainers, will start Saturday. Trainer Ben Jones of Wright's Calumet farm was the last to declare himself after Pensive finished second to Gramps Image in the $25,000 Chesapeake stakes Saturday.

The others besides Pensive and Broadcloth which are said to be certain starters are A. A. Baroni's Autocrat, A. C. Ernst's Alorter, Dave Ferguson's Bell Buzzer, the Erlanger stable's Brief Sigh, the Brolite farm's Challenge Me, W. C. Hobson's Diavolaw, Joe Goldbladt's Shut Up, M. B. Goff's Skytracer, Mrs. Payne Whitney's Stir Up and Broad Grin, B. R. Paton's Valley Flares, Mrs. Ruth Collins' Kope Kona, Mrs. A. J. Abel's Gramps Image, R. B. Livie's Gaybit, and Philip Godfrey's Comenow.

Ten Starters Last Year.

If they all go postward, it will be the largest field since 1937, when War Admiral whipped 19 others. Only 10 faced the starter last year when Count Fleet won.

No Derby Trial winner ever has gone on to capture the Derby, but three which finished second in the Trial have turned the trick. They were Lawrin in 1938, Gallahadion in 1940, and Whirlaway in 1941.

ALMOST READY FOR DERBY

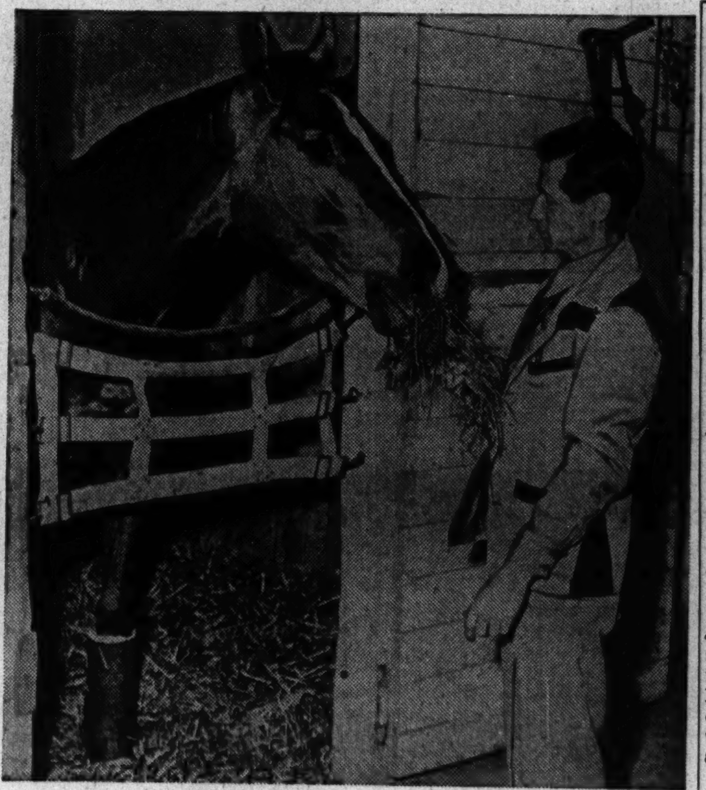
Alorter, a winner in a number of races in the Chicago area last year as a 2 year old, goes thru a brisk workout at Churchill Downs preparatory to the Kentucky Derby on Saturday. Riding the A. C. Ernst colt is Johnny Adams, who will be his jockey in the Derby. [TRIBUNE Photos.]



Autocrat proves that names may be misleading by munching some freshly cut grass offered him by one of the assistant trainers of the A. A. Baroni stable, which he'll represent in the Derby.

POUR $545,489 THRU MUTUELS AT SPORTSMAN'S

BY EDWARD PRELL.

The return of Milton Terry to the jockey ranks, a rarity in racing, passed by unnoticed at mutuel conscious Sportsman's Park. But the little cigar smoking Texan is back in the saddle and no rider knows better how to negotiate the tricky turns at the Cicero track. He piloted Mia Maria for his first Sportsman's victory Monday and yesterday made a late appearance in the sixth and eighth races but failed to hit the winner's circle.

Yesterday's winningest jockey was J. W. Martin, who rode three straight winners, starting his streak in the third when he won on Happy Hiram for a juicy $25.20 payoff. He clicked on the favorite Olivia L. in the fourth and wound up his triple aboard Happy Pilot in the fifth.

The mutuel tune continued in its loud key, with the 11,324 spectators pouring $545,489 thru the machines. This was a strong indication that the daily handle will average more than a half million dollars. Yesterday's total was slightly under Monday's handle and $144,197 in excess of the mutuel play on the third day of the 1943 spring meet.

Huri Hom Hari Wins.

Huri Hom Hari, an old Sportsman's favorite, won yesterday's feature race, the South Bend, and the seven started it was strictly a two-horse race between the winner and Don Devito, which faltered near the stretch in the seven furlong event to lose by a neck.

In the jockey department, it was a victory for Charley Beasy over Leonard Wegrzyn, who is having trouble hitting his 1943 Sportsman's stride. Three Clovers, the favorite, was fifth among the trailers. Huri Hom Hari paid $10.80.

The easiest winner of the meeting appeared when Guest Star won the mile and a sixteenth seventh race by eight lengths. Happy Choice was second and Our Willie third in the five horse field.

Hung Up Boots in 1940.

A comeback jockey is unusual but Milton has improved on that trick. After retiring, he became a trainer for Ben Endovina of Chicago, and now the 112 pound, 32 year old fellow is riding some of the horses he trained.

Terry hung up his bright colored raiment in 1940 after an 11 year career on Chicago and midwestern tracks. Increasing weight forced his retirement and he had hit a high of 158, a mountainous weight for a rider, when he went to work a few months ago in a New Orleans shipyard.

"Yep, the war really chased me back to the saddle," he said yesterday, a towel swathed around his lean middle. "I handled an air compressed chipping gun and for my money that's better than a steam bath. I lost 30 pounds on that job. And when gas rationing came, that made me do a lot of walking. So here I am, right back where I started."

Likes Half Mile Track.

The Texan began his comeback at Oak Lawn in Arkansas last winter. He won three times in his first eight races second twice in his first eight races including the victory on Mia Maria. His best year was 1935 when he hustled home 195 horses.

A half mile track, such as Sportsman's, is Terry's idea of a real test for a rider.

"It puts a premium on skill and quick thinking," he explained. "You've got to capitalize on the good breaks and try to make some on your own. And one thing we've got to remember out here is, keep on the rail. You can't go wide at Sportsman's and win unless your horse is much the best."

Cure for First Tee-itis Is Aim of Tribune's Golf Physicians

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

That pernicious golfing malady known as first tee-itis is among us again with the advent of the 1944 fairway season. This ailment is a common one to the members of the Illinois section of the Professional Golfers' association, who make up the faculty of THE TRIBUNE'S annual free golf school, which will open its 12th yearly session Monday night on the four courses of the Chicago park district.

This is the disease which the members of the Illinois section will begin to attack for the 12th straight year Monday, when the first of the four free lessons will be given. These professionals, who have devoted their lives to the game, and who have donated their own time to giving the instructions since the school's inception, know it well. They realize that first tee-itis is the golfing sickness which prevents thousands of potential beginners from taking up the game each year.

Largest Mass Instruction.

The Tribune school, largest system of mass education in the fundamentals of golf that the game ever has known, has cured many a victim of first tee-itis by the simplicity of the manner in which the classes are conducted. The would-be golfer is taught the ABC's of the game in company with thousands of others in his class. In this way he gradually gains the confidence that will enable him to essay a solo swing on any first tee without fear of blushing.

If you have been timid about taking up golf because of this dread of the first tee, The Tribune school and the members of the Illinois P. G. A. offer you the opportunity for a quick and certain cure.

The 1944 school again will be held at the same four courses of the Chicago park district—Marquette, Diversey in Lincoln park, Jackson, and Columbus.

Bring One Club Only.

All classes will begin at 7:15 p. m. and will last approximately one hour. The first will be held Monday night, May 8; the second on Friday night, May 12; the third on Monday night, May 15, and the fourth and last of the regular program on Friday, May 19.

The only requirement for entering the school is possession of one golf club, an urge to learn the fundamentals of the game, and prompt appearance at the course most accessible to your home or work. All four lessons are absolutely free.

IRISH APPOINT CROWE ACTING BASKET COACH

Notre Dame, Ind., May 2 [Special].—The Rev. J. Hugh O'Donnell, C. S. C., president of the University of Notre Dame, announced yesterday the appointment of Clem F. Crowe as acting head basketball coach and assistant football coach until the war ends. He succeeds Edward W. Krause, at present a member of the United States marine corps reserve.

Crowe, who is now athletic director and head basketball and football coach at Xavier university in Cincinnati, O., will be given a leave of absence from his duties at Xavier.

A graduate of Notre Dame in 1926, Crowe won three monograms in football and three in basketball. He was captain of the 1925 Irish football squad.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., May 2.—Bill Dietrich was the big man of the White Sox's offense and defense this afternoon as he and a heads-up supporting cast administered a 3 to 2, 10 inning whipping to the Cleveland Indians.

Dietrich scored the winning run on a brilliant sprint after two were out in the 10th, but he played other roles earlier, including a swell job of five hit pitching.

Strikes Out Pinch Hitter.

With one down in the tenth the Philadelphia ice cream soda fancier singled to left off Paul Calvert and went to third on Leroy Schalk's single to right. Allie Reynolds then replaced Calvert and Skeeter Webb sent a fly to Pat Seerey in short right center. It took rapid running to beat the throw to the plate, but Bill did it, then went out and retired the Indians in order, striking out pinch batter Paul O'Dea to end the contest.

Dietrich's earlier offense functioning came in the seventh, when the score was tied at 1-all. Johnny Dickshot, who did a disrobing act to make possible a 1 to 0 Chicago lead in the first inning, opened the seventh with a single to center. Tony Cuccinello popped up, but Mike Tresh doubled over third, Dickshot stopping at third. Calvert replaced Al Smith, five-time winner over Chicago last season. Dietrich missed on a hard swing, then bunted foul and Dickshot ran home on the third strike. Dietrich executed a perfect squeeze bunt to Calvert, Dickshot reaching home before the Indian pitcher could pick up the ball.

Grant's Homer Ties Score.

Dietrich had functioned well, but the lead he had supplied vanished when, with two out in the Cleveland seventh, Jimmy Grant, a 1943 White Sox, knocked a homer for his and the Indians' second tying run of the afternoon.

Now let's go way back to the start of the game and Dickshot's big and essential strip tease. Schalk and Webb were retired before the Sox started productive activity in the first inning. Myril Hoag got things started with a single to left and Tal Trosky also singled to left. Guy Curtright walked, loading the bases. Dickshot, contrary to the first belief of Umpire Bill Grieve, was hit in the ribs by one of Smith's pitches.

Dickshot Does a Strip Tease.

John, a Hollywood Star last year, writhed in agony until he heard Grieve deny him free passage to first. Then the Waukegan thespian ripped open his blouse and hoisted

JOE PLATAK WINS SECOND TEST IN A. A. U. HANDBALL

Eliminates Detroit Star in 20 Minutes.

Seaman Joe Platak of the Lake Shore club, defending champion in the National A. A. U. singles handball tournament, advanced to the third round yesterday afternoon on his home court. The eight time title holder required only 20 minutes to play two games and eliminate Leonard Meldman of the Detroit [Mich.] Adams Y. M. C. A. by scores of 21 to 8, 21 to 3.

In the first game, Meldman showed some signs of making the match interesting, when he took an 8 to 5 point lead. A handout gave Platak the service, and from then on Joe was the master, tying the score at 8 all, and then not allowing his opponent to tally another point.

Runs Up 13 Points.

In the second game, Joe displayed some of the kill shots which have earned him the eight titles, and chalked up 13 points before the Detroit contestant could come thru with his first of three points. With the score 17 to 1, Meldman had the service and tallied two more points. Joe then brought the match to a quick conclusion and scored the necessary four points.

Two Chicago duos, Platak and Bob Quin and George Di Re and Dick Martin paced the field into the second round of the doubles competition with victories in yesterday's first round competition. Platak and Quinn beat Lt. Ted O'Leary and E. Good of Kansas City, 21-6, 21-4, and Di Re and Martin eliminated L. Melrman and J. Hagenah of Detroit, 13-21, 21-8, 21-12.

Second round summaries:

SINGLES.

William McGreevy, St. Louis, Mo., beat Bart Hackney, Los Angeles, A. C., 21-15, 21-8.

Lt. Theodore O'Leary, U. S. N. R., Kansas City A. C., beat Joaquin Martinez, Los Angeles, A. C., 21-6, 21-7.

Stanley Shimkus, Detroit, beat Harvey Crane, San Francisco, Cal., 21-4, 21-19.

Joe Platak, Lake Shore club, Chicago, beat Leonard Meldman, Detroit, 21-8, 21-3.

Clary Ehlers, Milwaukee, beat Dave Aronson, Chicago, 21-10, 21-7.

Pep Tocchini, Oakland, Cal., beat Sy Wolff, St. Louis, 21-6, 21-8.

Earl Heinrich, Oakland, Cal. beat Melvin Levy, Denver, Colo., 21-9, 21-19.

Gus Lewis, Buffalo, N. Y., beat Charles R. Bennett, Detroit, Mich., 21-1, 21-4.

Leonard Dueball, Detroit, Mich., beat the Rev. D. F. Ryan, Chicago Lake Shore club, 21-3, 21-2.

Jack Hagenah, Detroit, Mich., beat Corp. Jack Goldstein, Camp Campbell, Ky., 21-4, 21-5.

Oscar Klayman, St. Louis, Mo., beat Joseph Frank, Chicago Hyde Park Y. M. C. A., 21-19, 21-12.

2 SERVICE PAIRS TO SHOOT IN PIN DOUBLES MEET

Two service combinations will be represented in the second national match game doubles bowling tournament to be held in the Auditorium Service Men's center on May 18, 19, 20, and 21. The army duo will consist of Pvt. Joe Wilman and Pvt. Bud Tierney of Camp Grant, who were officially entered yesterday.

Prior to their signing a Great Lakes team composed of Jimmy Vaughan and Bob McLachin had entered. Vaughan, a 19 year old native of Dallas, Tex., has four perfect games to his credit, while his partner, McLachin, has distinguished himself in Los Angeles rolldowns. Pvt. Wilman, former captain of the Budweisers, has long been one of Chicago's ablest pinmen, while Tierney has been rated among Kansas City's best tenpin performers.

GLENVIEW NAVAL NINE WINS, 7-0, OVER WILDCATS

Glenview Naval air station trounced Northwestern university's baseball team, 7 to 0, on Dyche field yesterday. Eddy Boyk yielded only four hits and contributed to the service team's attack with a triple while a teammate was on base in the seventh.

Ward Pitches Wheaton to 6-0 Victory Over De Kalb

Wheaton college defeated De Kalb, 6 to 0, at Wheaton yesterday for its second victory of the year over the Teachers. Bill Ward went the distance, striking out 13 while yielding three hits. A double and two singles, combined with four De Kalb errors, accounted for four Wheaton runs in the third inning. The losers made nine errors.

Browns Lose Gutteridge; Also Game, 4-3

St. Louis, Mo., May 2 (AP).—In the first defeat for a St. Louis team at home this season the Browns lost to the Detroit Tigers today, 4 to 3, but still remained at the top of the American league.

The Tigers won with an extra base hit attack, including a home run and double by Eddie Mayo, a triple and a double by Chuck Hostetler, and doubles by Rudy York and Pitcher Hal Newhouser.

Second Baseman Don Gutteridge of the Browns suffered a torn finger and was forced to retire from the game. His place was taken by Floyd Baker.

Strip Tease?

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

John Dickshot, Sox right fielder, essays strip tease act in Cleveland yesterday to prove he was hit by one of Al Smith's pitches during the first inning of game with Indians. When Umpire Bill Grieve ruled Dickshot was not actually hit, Johnny hoisted his blouse to show mark left by ball. Grieve reversed his decision.

his sweat shirt. Grieve, a strip-tease fan, took a good look, discovered a round red spot on John's left side, and waved him to first base. This enabled Hoag to score and the bases remained loaded.

Only six batsmen faced Dietrich in the first two innings, but there was trouble in the third. Grant opened with a single to center and advanced on George Susce's sacrifice. Smith then doubled to left center scoring Grant with the tying run.

ROSS FACES HARDER

Yankees Win; Lose Services of Stainback

Philadelphia, Pa., May 2 (AP).—Bill Zuber made his first start of the season a winning one in pitching the New York Yankees to a 4 to 1 triumph over the Philadelphia Athletics today, but had to get relief from Jim Turner in the ninth inning.

Outfielder Tuck Stainback of the Yankees broke his right leg stealing second base in the third inning and was taken to Presbyterian hospital, where the fracture was discovered above his right ankle. Later he was removed to his hotel room.

Fishing Tackle Sent to Seabees Makes Big Hit

BY BOB BECKER.

The fishing tackle which readers of this department donated in response to a request for such equipment for the Seabees in Bermuda has been received by the boys and is already in use. Lt. Robert W. Smith, CEC, U. S. N. R., executive officer of construction battalion maintenance, unit No. 540 of the Seabees, has acknowledged the receipt of the tackle which this department forwarded in the following letter:

"The fishing tackle you provided for the men in this unit has arrived and is in excellent condition. It will see a great deal of service and will furnish the means for some mighty fine fishing. May I express my appreciation to you, for the unit.

"No doubt some of the men will write and thank you personally. It is most reassuring to have this tangible expression of your backing for some of us who are overseas."

We want to relay Lt. Smith's thanks to the readers who donated the hooks, lines, lures, and other fishing accessories which they sent in so we could make up the shipment to the Seabees.

DE LUXE FIVE IN LEAD IN STATE TENPIN TOURNEY

The De Luxe Beer team of Chicago took over the lead in the regular division of the state bowling tournament in Bowling Lanes, 5221 Broadway, turning in a 3,025 total on games of 1,059, 952, and 1,017 last night.

The team was paced by Matt Simmons who shot games of 236, 212, and 230 for a 678 total and gave him the top spot in the all-events standings with 1,894. He got 595 in his doubles and 621 in his singles.

The Meister Brau team of the North End Traveling league took second place with 2,938 and the Bowlway Recreation of Elgin, last year's champions, went into fourth with 2,872.

GARY ROOSEVELT WINS ITS FIRST TITLE—IN TRACK

Roosevelt High school yesterday afternoon won its first city championship as it made team balance pay off for a decisive triumph in the annual Gary High school track meet.

Roosevelt, winner of only three individual events and the half mile relay, gained enough points from place positions to collect 65⅓ points. Horace Mann, winner of five events, finished second with 46⅓. Then followed Froebel, 28; Emerson, 21⅓; Lew Wallace, 15; William Wirt, 6; Edison, 3; Tolleston, 2.

Melton, Dodger Hurler, Accepted for Navy Duty

New York, May 2 (AP).—Reuben Frank [Rube] Melton, Brooklyn Dodger right handed pitcher, who won five and lost eight games last year, was accepted today by the navy, but will remain with the club until summoned for boot training.

SWITCH POLO DATE.

MEXICO CITY, May 2 [AP].—The United States and Mexico will play the fourth match of the international polo tournament on Friday, instead of Wednesday, it was announced today.

Thornton 21 Game Streak Is Ended, 7-2

Bloom Township High school of Chicago Heights dealt Thornton its first defeat in 21 games, 7 to 2, to take first place in the South Suburban baseball league yesterday. Thornton's winning streak was two years old.

In City league competition Chicago Vocational won, 5 to 3, to hand Fenger its first loss in the south section race. At the same time Calumet defeated Harper, 11 to 4, to gain undisputed leadership in the section.

Gene Revell pitched Crane Tech to an 8 to 0, no hit victory over Washburne. The victory moved Crane up to half a game behind Marshall, current section leader.

Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days,
Sincere and true in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.
LOVING HUSBAND AND CHILDREN.

PARKER—Edwin J. Parker, May 3, 1943.
A bitter grief, a shock severe,
To part with one we loved so dear.
God loved him, too, and thought it best
To give him home to eternal rest.
LOVING MOTHER AND SISTERS.

WAGNER—Tillie Wagner, May 3, 1935. A tribute in memory of our precious mother.
Home is not home, for Mother's not there.
Angels have taken her out of our care.
Dark is her room, and empty her chair;
She is not here to greet us, we know not where.
Sleep, Mother, sleep; your toils are over,
Sweet is thy rest, so oft needed before.
We loved thee dearly; God loved thee more.
He called you to that bright happy shore.

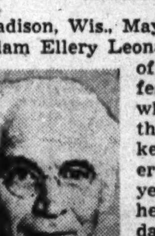
PROF. LEONARD, 'PHOBIC PRISON' CAPTIVE, IS DEAD

Heart Ailment Is Fatal to Wisconsin Poet.

Madison, Wis., May 2 [Special].—William Ellery Leonard, University of Wisconsin professor of English who asserted that a phobia kept him prisoner more than 35 years, died of a heart ailment today in his home at 433 N. Murray st. He was 68 and had been on the university faculty since 1906.



William E. Leonard.

Leonard, a widely known Wisconsin literary and campus figure, had been ill several weeks.

In his autobiography, "The Locomotive God," published in 1927, Leonard said that a childhood incident resulted in his phobia. He said that when he was 3 he was taken to a railroad station to await the arrival of a train and that the onrushing locomotive frightened him. He said the fear lay dormant for many years and was revived when he saw a gaudily painted locomotive "rushing at him" from a calendar.

Afraid to Travel.

He said the phobia manifested itself by making him afraid to travel and forcing him to live in what he described as a "phobic prison"—an isolated life on the campus. During his tenure here he ventured only once out of a five-block radius from his apartment and classroom. The adventure consisted of a trip downtown to a movie.

Leonard was a controversial figure in professional circles. He embraced liberal causes, defended "free love," quarreled with the university's deans of men and women, and defended Tom Mooney, west coast labor leader who was convicted in the bombing of a parade. Mooney later was pardoned.

Leonard engaged in a word battle with Scott H. Goodnight, university dean of men, and Miss F. Louise Nardin, former dean of women, in a campus scandal in 1930.

Defines "Code of Chivalry."

The dean of men had surprised a student and his co-ed sweetheart in an apartment. The students were expelled, and Leonard advocated the discharge of the two university officials, declaring the code of chivalry "forbids a man to invade the privacy of another man with a woman in the relation of lovers."

In 1931 Leonard flouted a university edict requiring swimmers at university piers to wear bathing suits with shoulder straps. He said the ruling was "tragic flapdoodle." In defiance of the regulation, Leonard appeared at a beach with the upper part of his suit rolled down to his waist.

Sonnet Tells Love Life.

Leonard's first marriage was to Charlotte Freeman on June 23, 1909. She committed suicide in 1911, and Leonard set forth the story of their love and marriage in a sonnet, "Two Lives," published in 1925. He remarried in 1914, his second wife being Charlotte Charlton of Janesville, Wis. She divorced him in 1934.

On June 29, 1935, he married a former pupil, Grace Golden, 27, of Green Bay. She divorced him July 28, 1937. On April 23, 1940, Leonard and his second wife were remarried. She survives him.

Leonard was born in Plainfield, N. J. He attended Boston university and received a master's degree from Harvard university in 1899. Before coming here he received a doctorate at Columbia university, did graduate work at universities in Germany, and taught Latin at Boston university.

Funeral services will be here at 3:30 p. m. Thursday.

SALESMAN HELD TO JURY ADMITS RATION FRAUDS

A meat salesman was held to the grand jury yesterday on his plea of guilty of possessing and selling a forged ration certificate, and two meat companies were ordered to appear for an OPA hearing on their possession of certificates believed stolen from a ration board.

George Pappas, salesman for Pappas Brothers Wholesale Meat company, 417 E. 71st st., admitted selling a certificate filled out for 100,312 points. United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker held him to the grand jury in $2,000 bonds.

Similar forged certificates, Homer C. Clay, acting Chicago area OPA enforcement attorney, reported, were found in possession of the Standard Sausage company, 953 W. 37th st., and the National Wholesale market, 3631 S. Halsted st. The sausage company, he said, had three certificates made out altogether for 226,337 points and the other company, four certificates for a total of 401,184. They were ordered to appear for hearing next Tuesday.

BOY, 16, KILLED AS UPSET PINS HIM UNDER CAR

Blame Locked Brakes He Had Repaired.

Raymond Marolt, 16, of 4514 Clinton av., Forest View, was killed last night when his automobile overturned, pinning him beneath it. The accident occurred in E. 46th st., near Clinton av. Police said Marolt's car overturned as he was about to pass the automobile of another motorist, Edward Ptacek, 55, of 4332 S. Kenilworth av., Stickney.

Marolt, a student at Sterling Morton High school, had repaired the brakes of his car a short time earlier, police said, and it is possible that the brakes locked, causing the car to turn over.

Crushed Between Trucks.

Henry Bott, 56, of 3756 W. 111th st., was crushed to death when he was caught between a truck and a trailer in front of 325 W. 70th pl. The two vehicles were being coupled at the time. Edward Hertl, 39, of 6937 Laflin st., was at the driver's wheel of the truck.

Curtis Pough, 5, a Negro, 613 Franklin st., was killed when he was struck by a truck in front of his home. The driver was Joseph Ignoffo, 36, of 1364 Cleveland av.

Aurora Barber Killed.

Joseph Grisch, 57, of 64 S. Lincoln av., Aurora, a barber, was killed Monday night in Montgomery when a car in which he was riding crashed into a freight train which was crossing U. S. highway 31 at the sheep yards of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad. A warning signal apparently was not seen by the driver of the car, Elmer Dale, 52, of 34 W. Park pl., Aurora. Neither Dale nor Gruno Adams of 848 Columbia st., Aurora, was injured. Grisch died of skull fracture.

Arthur Adams, 79, a retired railroad man of 316 Vale st., Michigan City, died yesterday of injuries received when he was struck by an automobile at Michigan av. and 11th st. in the Indiana city. The driver of the car, Verlin Hart, 39, of 200 Harding av., Michigan City, told police Adams walked into the path of his car.

ARRANGE RITES FOR 3 FLYERS KILLED IN CRASH

Funerals were arranged yesterday for three of the six men in the Chicago area who were among the 10 army airmen killed last Saturday in the crash of a bomber near Merna, Neb.

Services for 2d Lt. Warren C. Karas, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Karas, 597 Hawthorne st., Elmhurst, will be held Friday at 1 p. m. at the Parkwyn funeral home, 6901 Roosevelt rd., Berwyn.

Services for Staff Sgt. Eugene D. Rydstedt, 23, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon D. Rydstedt, 5815 N. Campbell av., will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. at the First Covenant church, at Artesian and Albion avs.

Services for 2d Lt. Charles F. Piel, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Piel, 1603 Grove st., Berwyn, will be held Friday at 3 p. m. from the chapel at 6901 Roosevelt rd., Berwyn.

The other Chicago men killed were Corp. Adam J. Kochan, 33, son of Mrs. Stephanie S. Kochan, 3121 42d pl.; Pvt. Bruno C. Oskar, son of Mrs. Anna Oskar, 3347 Emerald av., and Pvt. Edward J. Jacobs, 8142 Drexel av.

Jacobs' father, an amateur billiard champion, formerly operated a bowling alley at 11th st. and Wabash av., across the alley from the central police building. Officers stationed there recalled last night when Edward was a boy who knew and was friendly with virtually every policeman there.

EX-GRID STAR HITS JACKPOT —OF TROUBLE!

Detective Lou Gordon, former star guard and tackle for the Illini, Chicago Bears, and the Cardinals, becoming impatient while waiting for Judge Gibson E. Gorman in S. State st. court yesterday, wheeled out nine 100 pound slot machines the judge had ordered into the courtroom as evidence in a case to be tried.

"Who ordered those machines removed?" barked Judge Gorman, returning to the courtroom and finding the machines missing.

"I did," said Gordon, "the court attaches were playing with them."

"If those machines aren't in here tomorrow morning some one will be cited for contempt," warned Judge Gorman.

Stricken at Son's Grave; Chicago Man, 74, Dies

John W. Radcliffe, 74, of 647 N. Monticello av., suffered a fatal heart attack yesterday while visiting the grave of a son in Acacia Park cemetery, 7800 Irving Park rd. He was taken by another son, Henry, to a physician's office where he was pronounced dead.

AIR EXECUTIVES DEBATE WORLD AVIATION PLANS

Discuss Merits of 1 Line or Many.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Whether American air transport lines should compete with each other for world business after the war, or whether they should be partners in one American flag company engaged in international operations was debated last night by two widely known aviation authorities before the Economic Club of Chicago in the Stevens hotel.

W. A. Patterson [top] and R. S. Damon.

William A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines, Chicago, who spoke first, argued that there is not sufficient international business in store to justify an unlimited number of companies, American and foreign, competing with each other. Ralph S. Damon, vice president, American Airlines, New York, maintained that only thru free competition could international aviation attain maximum development.

Warns of Wide Competition.

Patterson said United States companies will have the competition of foreign owned or foreign controlled air lines, including those of Britain, Canada, France, Germany, Russia, Holland, and Sweden. Each will insist on getting a share of the available business, and if the various American companies were forced to exist on the remaining business they could do so only thru subsidy, he asserted.

"Of one thing we can be sure—the people of this country, already burdened by war taxation, are not going to tolerate wasteful competition just to satisfy the whims and ambitions of individual managements," Patterson said.

Damon said that 17 of 19 American air lines, both in foreign and domestic commerce, subscribe "to the good old principle of competition" and seek the right to fly anywhere in the world.

Terms it an Incentive.

"Each of us feels that we can all do a better job under the stimulus of competition than can be done under the questionable blessing of a single operation, whether it is called by the high sounding biblical name of 'chosen instrument' or the common garden variety term of 'monopoly,'" he said.

He described the chosen instrument theory as a gross infringement on the American principle of free enterprise. If such an infringement is permitted then other freedoms may be expected to suffer, he asserted.

He said Chicago will have much to lose thru jointly owned international operation because altho three air lines have filed applications for flights from Chicago across the North Atlantic already and at least one for a flight from Chicago by the northern route to Asia, not one of the applications has been made by the proponents of the chosen instrument.

Sale of Clark-Madison Property Is Approved

Circuit Judge Julius H. Miner yesterday approved the sale of the L shaped property at 3-5 N. Clark and 72-78 W. Madison sts., to Charles Simon, jeweler, for $450,000. His action followed a petition recently filed by the Chicago Title and Trust company, trustee under the Edward W. Morrison trust, asking court approval. The estate now may proceed with plans for the Morrison Home for the Aged, an officer of the trust company said.

2 More Yards Exclude Hogs to Stem Flood

Hog receipts continued to jam midwestern markets yesterday as controls instituted by local marketing boards failed in all but a few cases to stem the flood.

Two more yards committees halted shipments. At East St. Louis an embargo at noon barred all arrivals until further notice. At Kansas City the same step was taken to become effective at midnight last night on rail shipments and at noon today on truck shipments. A carryover of 12,000 head made the order necessary, members of the Kansas City marketing committee said. It was the first on hogs in the market's history.

Chicago Holdovers Mount.

Holdovers continued to mount in Chicago as arrivals again were more numerous than packers could handle. Unsold when Monday's market closed were 5,000 head of 27,000 received. Yesterday 11,000 were unsold of 26,000 received.

With few exceptions the same glut was in evidence at other midwestern markets. At Kansas City 15,600 hogs were received Monday and 10,000 yesterday. At Omaha 18,000 arrived Monday and 18,500 yesterday of which 10,000 were held over. St. Joseph received only 2,000 when an embargo was ordered after 12,000 arrived Monday. The pens were cleared and resumption of an open market was planned.

At Sioux City 5,000 remained unsold of 12,000 received as against 15,700 received Monday. At East St. Louis 19,000 were received before the embargo went into effect at noon compared with 35,000 on Monday.

Misunderstanding Swells Flood.

In Chicago misunderstanding of an office of price administration order was blamed for part of the congestion. The order, which takes effect May 15 and establishes new ceiling prices.

Many farmers in the last few days have unloaded hogs weighing more than 240 pounds because the OPA order was construed to mean a reduction in the government's support price for heavy hogs as well as a cut in the ceiling price was imminent. A complete explanation failed to accompany the order, it was recalled.

The favored 200 to 270 pound hogs were in a class by themselves when packers continued to pay the $13.75 floor price for all hogs of this weight they bought. Stock just over 270 pounds in weight sold $1.25 below the floor at $12.50 a hundred pounds.

Hog Prices Steady.

Most 300 to 400 pound butchers sold at $11.85 to $12.15. Most 350 to 500 pound sows brought $11.25 to $11.40. Light hogs weighing 170 to 190 pound sold at $12.00 to $12.75. Prices paid for most hogs were steady, altho butchers over 270 pounds dipped 10 to 15 cents.

Steady prices were paid for practically all classes of cattle offered. The top was $16.75. Steers and yearlings sold at $13.25 to $16.25.

A moderate supply of lambs sold at steady to 10 cents lower prices. The best available brought $16.50.

DRASTIC CHANGE IN CORPORATION TAXES IS URGED

The complete integration of the corporate income tax and the personal income tax is recommended in the first of a series of economic studies undertaken by the committee for economic development, Neil H. Jacoby, professor of finance at the University of Chicago and a member of the committee's research advisory board, yesterday told members of the Investment Analysts Club of Chicago at a luncheon in the La Salle hotel.

The tax study, entitled "Recasting the Federal Tax System," was prepared by Prof. Harold Groves of the University of Wisconsin and will be published June 5.

The integration would be accomplished by reducing the tax on corporations to the lowest rate paid by individuals, and crediting the stockholder for the tax paid by the corporation. The effect would be to eliminate the tax on corporation incomes as such, Jacoby said.

House Approves Bill to Institute Postal Notes

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Legislation establishing a system of postal notes, providing for transmission in the mails of any sum up to $10 for a 5 cent fee, was approved by the house today and sent to the senate. The legislation provides for handling of small sums now moved by postoffice money orders and on which fees run from 10 to 19 cents.

CHARGES WLB SPAWNS CHAOS IN WAR PLANTS

Fair Wage Policies Held Prime Need.

Government wage stabilization policies have substantially curtailed freedom to bargain on wages, W. A. Fairburn, president of Diamond Match company, said in his annual report issued to stockholders yesterday. The attempt to eliminate "wage inequalities" is causing chaotic conditions in industrial plants, he said.

"The effect of war labor board intervention is felt in collective bargaining from the start of negotiations," he wrote. "Because of the readiness of the government to intervene, the tendency of the unions, particularly west coast organizations, has been to do nothing or only enough formalities to interject the government agencies into the picture at the earliest possible date.

Little Permanence Obtained.

"While collective bargaining in its accepted sense today is largely unproductive of any permanent results as far as outside union leaders are concerned, it is also true that local labor leadership in most of the company's operations has coöperated well with management to effect speedy settlements of grievances that normally consume much time.

"It is unfortunate that, of the tripartite panels making up the war labor boards and commissions, only public and labor members devote their full time to the work.

Worker Unrest Created.

"It is essential that a national labor policy permit management and labor to adjust their own problems in line with current needs and encourage a free interchange of ideas in all matters of mutual interest. The WLB policy of operating to eliminate 'wage inequalities' is largely responsible for the present chaotic conditions in industrial plants. Every attempt to adjust such claimed 'inequalities' merely upsets wage scales somewhere else and creates unrest among workers. The final result is a continual cycle of rising wages and increasing costs.

"The prime need of the day is a firm, just, impartial, and intelligently administered national labor policy."

The company's net sales of all products last year totaled $40,237,162, compared with $42,419,138 in 1942. Earnings before deducting federal income taxes were $6,270,268, against $4,092,892. After provisions for taxes, the profit was $2,100,106, compared with $2,136,282 the year before.

JONES ASSERTS COUCH IS NOT A PROTEGE OF HIS

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Secretary of Commerce Jones replied today to complaints by Sen. Reed [R., Kas.] that C. P. Couch, former board chairman of the Kansas City Southern railroad, "is a political and financial protege of mine" with the assertion that "I have no such relationships."

Reed recently contended that the Reconstruction Finance corporation, under Jones, sought to interfere in the internal organization of the railroad to which the RFC has made loans.

Jones wrote Chairman Wheeler [D., Mont.] of the senate interstate commerce committee that "management is often as much a factor in lending money as the actual security offered, and we have regarded the K. C. S. management as good."

Flying Time to West Coast Cut One Hour by United

United Air Lines yesterday announced reduction of approximately one hour in flight times of its passenger, mail, and express schedules from Chicago to all major Pacific coast cities under new summer time tables.

Canadian Ford Workers Vote to Go on Strike Again

WINDSOR, Ont., May 2 (AP).—CIO employes of the Ford Motor company of Canada voted tonight to go on strike, just two days after the end of a walkout which had closed the vast war plant for 10 days.

Stock Market Uneven After Early Upturn

New York, May 2 (AP).—Selective strength persisted in today's stock market, but many leaders were unable to follow thru on Monday's last minute rally and the market closed mixed.

Prices were higher by fractions to more than a point at the start in fairly active dealings, but slipped later along with volume.

The recent pleasing dividends and earnings prospects served to bring out a little more investment demand. Pre-invasion influences were less important as buying deterrents, but customers generally inclined to keep commitments light pending further European developments and returns from the Florida and Alabama primaries.

The Associated Press 60 stock average was off 0.1 at 51.3, first setback in a week. Transfers totaled 571,210 shares, compared with 570,570 yesterday.

CHICAGO STOCKS GAIN.

Prices advanced in lightened turnover of 17,000 shares yesterday on the Chicago Stock exchange. Volume leaders included Chicago corporation and Utah Radio Products, up 1/8, and Midland United, up 1/16. Commonwealth Edison was unchanged. General Outdoor Advertising class A closed at a new 1944 high of 43 3/8, up 1 1/8.

BONDS ARE IRREGULAR.

New York, May 2 (AP).—The bond market was irregular today after an early attempt at higher levels ran into resistance. Small changes on both sides predominated, reflecting the lack of any large scale liquidating movement as well as continued caution of buyers.

ADDED MIDWEST AIR ROUTES PASS CAB EXAMINERS

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Civil aeronautics board examiners recommended today that the board authorize additional air transport service in the midwest. The recommendations, subject to review by CAB, were:

1. Inclusion of Terre Haute, Ind., as a stop on the Transcontinental and Western Air route between Indianapolis and St. Louis.

2. That Chicago and Southern Air Lines provide service between Memphis, Tenn., and Detroit by way of Paducah, Ky.; Evansville, Indianapolis, Anderson-Muncie, Newcastle, and Fort Wayne, Ind., and Toledo, O.

3. That American Airlines provide service between Cleveland, Fort Wayne, Anderson-Muncie, and Newcastle.

4. Extension of a Mid-Continent Airlines route from Kansas City to St. Louis via Columbia, Mo.

SYNTHETIC CAR TIRES HELD ALMOST EQUAL TO NATURAL RUBBER

New York, May 2 (AP).—Synthetic rubber passenger car tires are 96 per cent as good as the natural rubber tires they replaced, Robert S. Wilson, vice president of Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, said today in an address before the Sales Executive club. He asserted continued research offers "almost boundless" opportunities for synthetic development.

He said 10 million passenger tires have been made of the synthetic material, and that the aggregate of synthetic production this year would be nearly 800,000 tons, "as much as we ever used in any normal pre-war year."

Wilson explained this product was the result of less than a year of working with the new plastic in large quantities, whereas the industry had been using natural rubber for 50 years. He said the man made product already is "a darn sight better than we ever thought it was going to be."

INVASION HELD KEY TO ADDED CIVILIAN GOODS

2d Front to Unleash Flow of Stores.

BY HAL FOUST.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., May 2.—Present sales of military surpluses, which amount to 12 to 15 million dollars a month, will be swollen after requirements for a second front are established by experience, according to William L. Clayton, surplus war property administrator. In the meantime, the army and navy are continuing to hoard in swollen warehouses.

"The army and navy are the judges of whether their stocks of any item constitute a surplus," Clayton told this interviewer, "and I don't know of anyone who wants to dispute their authority at this critical time. No doubt they have more than they will use of many things. As one of the officers said to me, 'I'd rather be convicted of having acquired too much than to be guilty of not having enough.'"

Criticism Is Withheld.

Sen. Truman [D., Mo.], chairman of a committee investigating the conduct of the war on the home front, has protested against the services buying as if with blank checks signed by Uncle Sam. He has pointed out that it is a constitutional function of congress to maintain an army and navy. However, his group has quit its heretofore constructive criticism on this eve of invasion.

"We'll be able to sell much when we learn what it takes to keep an army fighting in Europe," said Clayton. "We'll have bigger sales after Germany falls. We'll have the biggest merchandise stock of all history for disposal when both Germany and Japan are defeated.

"The present surpluses total several hundreds of millions of dollars. They're increasing daily. We haven't an inventory yet and it will be a tremendous job just to itemize."

Most of the goods the army and navy now admit to be surplus consist of raw materials, semi-finished products, and scrap going to the government as war contracts are terminated. Most of these can be used solely for manufacturing purposes.

Sales Limited by WPB.

Sales of such surpluses are sharply curtailed by war production board limitation orders. These orders, issued over the last couple of years, were designed to conserve scarce materials, to reserve materials for war production only. Now that many of these materials are no longer scarce, industries are clamoring for an easement of WPB restrictions to permit manufacture of civilian goods.

Man power shortage is the present explanation of WPB for not releasing surplus materials for making civilian goods. The labor problem, however, is regional and it does not follow the pattern of restrictions on materials which were formerly scarce nationally. The WPB has a new policy of releasing materials, including the surpluses, by allocation to plants with consideration for local labor conditions.

APRIL IS THIRD HIGHEST MONTH IN WAR SPENDING

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—April was the third highest month on record for war spending, altho the $7,345,864,000 total was nearly 400 million dollars below the March peak and was 200 million less than last November.

The average daily rate was second high—almost 294 million dollars for April, compared with 301 millions in February. April receipts were $3,086,880,000, including $2,476,218,000 in individual and corporation income tax collections.

War bond sales in April—an income tax payment month following an income tax payment month—totaled $738,545,000, an increase of $29,500,000 over March. Redemptions aggregating $237,119,000 were $31,000,000 below the March record.

Top Price of $51 Each Paid for Rare Chinchilla Pelts

New York, May 2 (AP).—Rare chinchilla fur brought a top price of $51 a pelt today at the first public sale in several decades. The top price was paid by I. J. Fox company of New York for 46 skins. Second highest price was $40 a skin for 21 pelts. The total of 1,200 pelts auctioned brought an estimated $30,000, the auction company said. Another 1,800 skins, damaged or inferior, were withdrawn.

Radar Destined for Important Role in Peace, Says Harbord

New York, May 2 [Special].—Radio is achieving "almost unbelievable" results in navigation and in collision prevention thru the use of radar and "peace time application of radar will contribute to the safety of all kinds of travel," Lt. Gen. J. G. Harbord, chairman of Radio Corporation of America, said today at the annual meeting of stockholders.

Military secrecy prohibits discussion of the nature of these devices, he said. Harbord addressed the meeting in the absence of Col. David Sarnoff, president, overseas on active duty.

Big Aid in U-Boat Fight.

He said R. C. A.'s scientists and those of other laboratories were given "primary credit" for decisive victory over the U-boats, and asserted "this epic of the sea and triumph of science will be one of the great stories" for future generations. More than 150 new kinds of electron tubes and approximately 300 types of apparatus, built since the beginning of the war, had not been previously manufactured by any one, Harbord asserted.

"When this conflict is over, much of the radio we knew at the time of Pearl Harbor will be obsolete," Harbord said. "The trumpets which signal 'cease firing' at the end of this war will sound the reveille for the age of television which will be the capstone of the radio structure."

Promises FM Equipment.

The company after the war will build a "complete line of FM—frequency modulation" transmitters and FM receivers of high quality design, he said.

In order to establish anchor points of a television system National Broadcasting company, a subsidiary, has filed applications with the federal communications commission for construction permits for stations in Cleveland, Chicago, Denver, San Francisco, and Los Angeles, Harbord disclosed.

R. C. A.'s unfilled orders approximate 300 million dollars, the stockholders were told. The company's consolidated profit in the first quarter was $2,401,234, compared with $2,594,911 in the first quarter last year. Federal income taxes amounted to $8,012,000, an increase of 26.3 per cent.

APRIL AIRCRAFT OUTPUT BELOW THAT OF MARCH

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—Aircraft production declined in April to a total of 8,343 planes, compared with a record output of 9,118 in March, WPB said today.

Part of the decrease was planned, Charles E. Wilson, WPB aircraft production board chairman, told a press conference, but total output was slightly below schedule.

Production in terms of air frame weight also was off, dropping about 6 per cent to a total of 96 million pounds, compared with 103,400,000 in March. Because of fewer working days in April, however, weight output set a new record of 3,840,000 pounds a day, 81,000 above March.

He disclosed that production of heavy bombers now is "substantially above" the 1,000 a month mark, and the production of the new B-29 Super-Fortress was "on schedule" in April.

Combat type planes constituted 77 per cent of April output to set a new high.

PLAN POST-WAR PROJECTS NOW, CITIES WARNED

Post-war planning has been mostly conversation with little or no action, Wilson W. Wyatt, mayor of Louisville, Ky., told members of the American Society of Planning Officials yesterday at their annual conference in the Stevens hotel. He was later reelected president of the planning organization at the annual election.

To fill the employment gap while industry is being converted from war to peace production cities must be prepared with a program of public works, carefully selected, soundly conceived and in the blueprint stage, ready for contract letting on short notice, he said.

Such projects must not be "made work," he added. Merely to furnish employment will not be enough. Jobs can be done and money can be earned "on soundly needed community projects just as well as on leaf raking if only we do our job now while there's yet time. This is where our post-war planning enters."

FEDERAL COURT JURY SELECTED TO TRY CARNEGIE

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 2 (AP).—A federal court jury of six men and six women averaging more than 60 years of age was selected today to try the government's case against the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation.

The United States Steel corporation subsidiary is charged on 47 counts in one indictment with falsifying records of tests made on steel ship plates for government agencies. The second indictment charges the corporation with concealing records of tests.

19 Asbestos Companies Restrained by FTC Order

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The federal trade commission announced today it had issued an order prohibiting 19 manufacturers and converters of asbestos materials from engaging in prixe fixing and "other restraint of trade practices." Included were Acme Asbestos Covering and Flooring company, Asbestos, Asphalt and Insulation Manufacturing company, and Standard Asbestos Manufacturing company, all of Chicago.

People and Events

John C. Kennan, educational director of the American Institute of Banking, who has been on duty as a lieutenant in the Chicago naval officer procurement office in the Board of Trade building for two years, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant commander. Comdr. Kennan lives at 2733 Prairie av., Evanston. Henry D. Penfield, senior member of the naval flight selection board, also was promoted to lieutenant commander. Comdr. Penfield, a former mayor of Evanston, lives at 1139 Oakley av., Winnetka.

Albert T. Huizinga was elected vice president and treasurer of National Supply company, Pittsburgh. Huizinga became associated with the company as treasurer in July, 1943. He formerly was assistant treasurer of Montgomery Ward & Co.

Dancer, Fitzgerald, and Sample, advertising agency, announced that Henry W. Doyle had become associated with the company. Doyle formerly was with Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company.

Henry Ford II., executive vice president of the Ford Motor company, has been elected to the board of directors of the automotive council for war production. Ford succeeds Charles E. Sorensen.

John E. Charles, treasurer of United Wall Paper Factories, Inc., was elected corporate secretary, replacing A. G. Heitman, resigned. Charles will continue as treasurer.

WET WEATHER CUTS CORN FLOW TO PROCESSORS

Wet weather in the midwest yesterday curtailed the movement of corn to essential industries, but with 30 million bushels pledged by farmers for sale to the government receipts are expected to become heavy before the end of the week. Brokers expected arrivals to exceed 350,000 bushels daily next week.

Trading in grain futures was slow on the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat was easy because of favorable weather and crop reports and some pressure on July attributed to professional traders. Closing sales were ¼ to ½ cent a bushel lower. Wet weather brought fair buying of oats, with the finish unchanged to ⅝ cent higher. May rye closed ⅝ cent higher, with the deferred deliveries unchanged to ¼ cent higher.

BILL TO SPEED TERMINATIONS GIVEN SENATE

Barkley Forecasts Quick Approval.

Washington, D. C., May 2 (AP).—The first of a series of major steps in preparation for demobilization was formally recommended to the senate today in a military committee measure providing for prompt settlement of the claims of contractors who are shifted from war production.

Backed by the war and navy departments, other government agencies, and with bi-partisan support in the senate, the war contracts termination bill appeared headed for quick approval.

Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky said the bill would be taken up tomorrow and expressed belief that it may be passed in one day.

Labor Groups Object.

The only major objection came from the AFL, the CIO, and the Railway Labor Executives' association who joined in asking senators to consider the entire demobilization field as a whole rather than pass "what they called "piecemeal legislation."

"There is great danger that contract termination legislation will be passed and the congress adjourn before any comprehensive legislation is considered to deal adequately with the more pressing human and organizational problems of reconversion," they said in a joint statement.

Chairman Murray [D., Mont.] of a military subcommittee studying demobilization has promised prompt action, however, on over-all legislation, including proposals for unemployment compensation during the transition period.

Power to Prescribe Standards.

The contract termination bill provides for creation of an office of contract settlement whose director could prescribe termination standards for the various agencies which have awarded contracts. Other provisions are:

1. Advance or partial payments by the agencies, pending final settlement, are permitted to the extent that loans do not take care of the needs of contractors whose war jobs are ended.

2. Contracting agencies are to give termination notices as far in advance as feasible and consistent with national security.

3. If the government fails to remove from the contractor's plant, within 30 days, all goods which are not to be retained, "the war contractor may remove and store such termination inventory at the government's expense and risk."

4. The controler general's functions with respect to individual settlements is to be confined to determining whether payments were in accordance with the settlement and whether there was evidence of fraud.

29 HARD COAL FIRMS FAIL TO FIGHT U. S. CASE

New York, May 2 (AP).—Twenty-nine hard coal companies and 26 individual officers of the companies pleaded no contest today in federal court to a Sherman anti-trust act indictment charging they conspired to fix the mine price for hard coal.

The pleas were entered before Judge John C. Knox after an extended conference with defense attorneys just as the government was preparing to bring the case to trial.

Judge Knox directed defense attorneys to file briefs concerning the various defendants by May 13, at which time he will fix a date for sentence. The corporations face possible fines of $5,000 and the individuals similar fines besides possible imprisonment for one year.

40 "Invasion Stocks"
These 40 stocks offer opportunities both for increased income and for price appreciation. 15 are selling below 20; 22 between 20 and 50; only 3 above 50.
Tapering off of war production after invasion will be highly beneficial to these companies, giving them added manpower to increase production rapidly.
They already have ample plant and raw materials, virtually no conversion problem, and a big consumer market waiting. Post-war prospects for most of them are excellent, but they need not wait for peace to show larger earnings.
All but 2 pay reasonable to generous dividends. At recent prices, 8 yield between 3% and 5%; 9 yield up to 6%; 16 yield between 6% and 8%; and 1 yields over 9%.
Selected from 10 industries, they offer wide diversification.

ELEVATED LISTS RISE IN INCOME, OPERATING COST

Revenues, passenger patronage, and operating expenses of the Chicago Rapid Transit company last year showed marked increases over 1942, the annual report of the manager-trustees, A. A. Sprague and B. J. Fallon, disclosed yesterday.

Passengers carried numbered 175,177,517, a gain of about 11½ million. Passenger revenues were $15,101,695, an increase of $1,266,048. Gross revenues from all sources were $16,767,956, or $1,528,173 above the 1942 figure.

Net Loss About 2 Million.

After all expenses, including taxes, the net operating income of the company was $547,948, compared with $42,920 in 1942. However, corporate charges [principally interest on bonds] of more than 2½ million dollars remain unpaid and the net loss for the year was about 2 million.

Operating expenses rose from $15,196,862 to $16,220,008. The report said this largely was due to increases in wages, cost of new working conditions included in contracts, and to operation of the subway, which was started last Oct. 1.

Adjustments in wages and working conditions in the last three years, the trustees estimated, have increased expenses $2,300,000 a year.

Transfers Step Up Traffic.

The city-wide system of transfers ordered by the Illinois commerce commission last October brought in more traffic, the report related, but tended to lower the average fare, which was 8.65 cents in 1942 and 8.47 in 1943 [the surface line, L, and bus companies now exchange transfers and split fares].

The subway, built by the city and the federal government, has necessitated additional service. The report said the tubes undoubtedly had brought the L more traffic, but that it is too early to determine its permanent effect on net earnings. Company officials said the gains made in the last quarter of 1943 had continued thru the first quarter of 1944.

SERVICE INSURANCE.

I have received an honorable discharge from the army and would appreciate information on what should be done about my government life insurance. P. B.

Answer: National service life insurance not only is backed by the credit of the United States, but the government also pays a portion of the cost, thereby cutting the premium cost below that of insurance provided by life insurance companies. With these advantages it is obvious that every effort should be made to retain this insurance after discharge from active military or naval service.

National service life insurance is issued for a five year term with a level premium, and expires after five years unless exchanged for another policy. After one year in force the original policy may be exchanged for or converted into national service life insurance on the ordinary life, 20 payment life, or 30 payment life plan.

The premiums will be higher on the permanent form of insurance, but with the government continuing to absorb a part of the cost, it will still be a "bargain."

Information on the steps required to convert into permanent insurance may be obtained from the veterans' administration, Washington 25, D. C., or from the nearest veterans' facility. Meanwhile, premiums should be paid when due to the veterans' administration, regardless of whether or not premium notices are received.

LEGAL NOTICES

REQUEST FOR BIDS

The undersigned Trustees of The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific Railway Company hereby invite bids for the lowest interest rate at which bidder will provide not to exceed $6,000,000 (representing approximately seventy-five per cent (75%) of the total purchase price of the within-described equipment) from time to time prior to February 1, 1945, for financing the acquisition of ten (10) steam freight locomotives to be manufactured by American Locomotive Company (delivery point, Gibson, Indiana), nine (9) Diesel freight locomotives, to be manufactured by General Motors Corporation (Electro-Motive Division) (delivery point, Gibson, Indiana), and five hundred (500) 50-ton capacity steel box cars, to be manufactured by Pressed Steel Car Company (delivery point, McKees Rocks, Pennsylvania); all to be purchased by said Trustees under a Conditional Sale Agreement to be dated as of June 1, 1944, between Rock Island Improvement Company, as Seller, and said Trustees, as Buyers.

Said Agreement reserves in the Seller title to all said Equipment until Buyers have fully paid the purchase price and interest thereon. Buyers will make a down payment of twenty-five per cent (25%) of the purchase price on each lot of Equipment as delivered and accepted, and will give promissory notes for the balance payable in equal and consecutive monthly installments, together with interest on unpaid principal balances, over a period of approximately ten years. When delivery and acceptance of the Equipment are completed (estimated to be before December 31, 1944), the unpaid principal amount of each of said notes theretofore given will be refunded into a single note, principal and interest of which will be payable in monthly installments as aforesaid over the remaining ten-year period. The interest rate on said notes will be fixed by the accepted bid. The Trustees will have the privilege of prepaying, upon the date when the payment of any installment of principal is due, beginning February 1, 1945, an amount equal to the last one or more maturing installment or installments of principal, together with accrued interest thereon to the date of such prepayment.

The accepted bidder will become the Assignee of Rock Island Improvement Company under an Assignment Agreement which will (1) require Assignee to pay to said manufacturers (or to Assignor as respects payments theretofore made by it) seventy-five per cent (75%) of the agreed purchase price of the Equipment delivered or to be delivered to and accepted by the Buyers, when the Buyers shall have made the twenty-five per cent (25%) down payment thereon; (2) assign and transfer to Assignee title to all said Equipment reserved to the Seller under said Agreement; and (3) entitle Assignee to receive payments of principal and interest from the Buyers under said Conditional Sale Agreement. The execution and delivery of the above-mentioned promissory notes will be subject to the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission and of the court of the Trustees' appointment, and said notes cannot be sold and disposed of separately from the Conditional Sale Agreement.

Bids made pursuant to this invitation shall be in duplicate and shall be addressed and delivered to the Treasurer of the Trustees by mail or messenger at Room 1136 La Salle Street Station, Chicago, Illinois, in plain, sealed envelopes, bearing no indication of the bidder's name or the amount of the bid, marked "Bid under Proposed Serial Contract No. 1 of 1944," on or before twelve o'clock noon, Central War Time, on the 11th day of May, 1944. Each bid must state the name and address of the bidder, and if a corporation, the names and addresses of its officers, directors, general manager and purchasing or selling officer or agent in the transaction, and if a firm, partnership or association, the names and addresses of each member and of the manager, purchasing or selling officer or agent in the transaction. Bidders may attend in person or by duly authorized representative at the opening of the bids at two o'clock on said date. Notice of acceptance or rejection of bids so received will be delivered or mailed to bidders within three (3) days thereafter.

Certified check for $50,000, payable to Rock Island Improvement Company, must be furnished with each bid; such checks will be returned except that of the accepted bidder, which will be held by the Trustees and applied to the initial payment under the Assignment Agreement.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids, and bids for less than the entire obligation of $6,000,000 will not be considered.

Those desiring to bid may obtain copies of the proposed Conditional Sale Agreement and notes and may examine the Equipment specifications and other papers at the office of the Treasurer of the Trustees, Room 1136 La Salle Street Station, Chicago, Illinois, or at the office of the Assistant Treasurer, 25 Broad Street, New York, N. Y.
